THOUSANDS LINE ROUTE OF CURLEY FUNERAL

WEATHER
Cloudy with rain tonight and most of Tuesday; colder Tuesday afternoon or night; moderate southerly wind, shifting to northwest Tuesday. (Details on Page 18.)
Light all vehicles tonight at 5:03.

The American is the only Boston daily paper using Universal Service and International News Service.

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN
A HOME PAPER FOR PEOPLE WHO THINK

VOL. 27—No. 247 Published Daily by N. E. Newspaper Pub. Co. Entered as 2d Class Matter at Boston P. O. BOSTON, MONDAY, JANUARY 12, 1931 2 CENTS ZONE PRICE 3 CENTS

FINANCIAL STATE ST.

Two Malden Prisoners Beat Officer and Escape

SULLIVAN 'PAID MORE THAN $65,000'

HUGE THRONG IN TRIBUTE TO MAYOR'S SON AT REQUIEM

Thousands Stand Bareheaded in Storm as Cortege Passes; Cardinal Gives His Blessing

PICTURES ON PAGES 2 AND 3.

Through seemingly endless lanes of silent watchers, a funeral cortege of 150 cars followed the body of M. Curley, Jr., to Calvary Cemetery he was laid to rest beside mother, as snow swirled the bowed heads of his , sister and brothers, his and several hundred 100,000 saw the slow-moving procession pass from house to Cathedral, thence to the cemetery, cutting a path of silence through the roar of the busy city over which the dead youth's father presides.

THRONG AT CATHEDRAL

Nearly 10,000 were jammed about the Cathedral and nearby streets when the funeral cars arrived, while within its walls 3000 knelt as the solemn high mass of requiem, presided over by Cardinal O'Connell, began. The cardinal also pronounced the eulogy.

The throng was quiet and orderly but there were several times when by sheer force of numbers and pressure from behind they burst through the lines formed by scores of police, mounted and on foot.

Touching tributes were paid the deceased all along the route, by lines of children in front of their schools and by firemen at attention before their stations and tolling the bells of the apparatus.

Notables among whom were Governor Joseph B. Ely and his two immediate predecessors, Frank G. Allen and Alvan T. Fuller, with their wives, were among the mourners at the mass.

There were several hundred dis-

Continued on Page 4, Column 4

Sousa Under Knife Today in Baltimore

Baltimore, Jan. 12—John Philip Sousa will undergo an operation at Johns Hopkins Hospital today for an injury to his left shoulder, suffered several years ago in a train wreck. The famous conductor and composer arrived here Friday night and entered the hospital on Saturday. The operation will be performed by Dr. Dean Lewis, chief of the Johns Hopkins surgical staff.

Louis de Coppet, N.Y. Banker, Is Dead

Dijon, France, Jan. 12 (AP)—Louis Casimer de Coppet, New York banker and member of the firm of De Coppet & Co., died here yesterday at the age of 59. Burial will take place in the United States.

BALANCES AND RECEIPTS

Washington, Jan. 12—Today's Treasury balance, $238,241,068; U. S. Customs receipts, $7,410,168.

'Today' Is Necessarily Omitted Today

Starting Journey of Sorrow to Calvary

GEORGE CURLEY PAUL CURLEY LEO CURLEY

MARY CURLEY MAYOR CURLEY FRANCIS CURLEY

A FAMILY BOWED IN GRIEF, that of Mayor James M. Curley, are shown as they started their journey of sorrow to Old Calvary Cemetery at the funeral of their son and brother, James M. Curley, Jr. The grief-stricken mayor is shown with his daughter, Mary, while in the rear are Paul and Leo Curley. Francis Curley is partly hidden by a bush, while George is behind the mayor. (Staff photo.)

Troops Fail to Save Negro From Mob

Maryville, Mo., Jan. 12 (AP)—Chained to the roof of the Garrett rural school in which he was alleged to have assaulted and murdered Miss Velma Colter, 19, teacher, Raymond Gunn, negro, was burned to death by a mob which made a funeral pyre of the building today.

The prisoner was taken by the mob despite the fact that a detachment of Missouri National Guardsmen had been placed on duty to preserve order and the sheriff's force had been augmented.

No one was injured in the clash.

STRAPPED TO RIDGEPOLE

Gunn was marched into the schoolhouse and to the spot where the bruised body of the young teacher was found. Those of the throng about him who were closest said the negro confessed his guilt.

He was then taken to the roof of the building and placed across the ridgepole. Holes were chopped in the roof and gasoline poured over the floors and on the walls. A member of the mob applied a match.

Gunn was calm throughout. Those close to him said he was not injured during the march to the school.

Face down across the ridgepole, Gunn pushed himself up and waved at the crowd which contained hundreds of women. Then he sank against the roof.

GUARD IS INACTIVE.

One long, piercing shriek arose above the crackling of the flames as they played about his head.

The crowd, orderly throughout, stood about the four corners where the school was located until the white, one-room frame building was reduced to ashes.

No attempt had been made to stop the lynching and the mob met little resistance in taking the negro from officers.

A detachment of Battery C, 128th Field Artillery, local Missouri National Guard unit, had been ordered mobilized to cope with possible mob action. The guardsmen were reported to have been gathered at their armory at the time Gunn was seized. It was understood they were waiting for an official request from Sheriff Harvey England for assistance.

John Coolidge and Wife Are in Florida

St. Petersburg, Fla., Jan. 12 (AP)—John Coolidge and his wife, the former Florence Trumbull, and her parents, former Governor John Trumbull of Connecticut and Mrs. Trumbull, have arrived here for a six weeks' visit.

350 Going on Full Time in Nashua Mill

Nashua, N. H., Jan. 12 (AP)—The Nashua Manufacturing Company announced today that 350 employes would go on full time immediately. The company's 1700 employes have been working on a three-day week schedule. Officers also say they hope to extend the full schedule to the other employes within a short time. Those benefitting by the new schedule are blanket makers.

Bomb Official's Home in Va. Mill Strike

Danville, Va., Jan. 12 (AP)—A bomb was exploded today at the home of Frank Broome, a superintendent in the Riverside and Dan River mills, whose union employes are on strike. The explosion occurred in the yard, shattering window panes of the Broome home and those of nearby dwellings. No one was injured.

Alleged Auto Thief Is Held in $1800 Bail

Lawrence, Jan. 12—Walter Powers, 19, of Essex st., Greenwood, alleged auto thief, captured here at gunpoint Saturday while his companion escaped through a cordon of police, was arraigned in the Lawrence district court today and held in $1800 bail for the Grand Jury by Judge Frederic W. Chandler.

TWO PRISONERS BEAT GUARD AND ESCAPE

Malden Officer Stumbles Into Court After Attack by Holdup Suspects

Pitching face first to the floor of Malden District Court with blood streaming from four head wounds, Asst. Probation Officer Thomas Leo Killion today revealed to a startled court he had been brutally attacked by two prisoners, who then made a daring escape from the court detention room.

A widespread hunt was immediately begun for the two men, Joseph Romanovitz, 21, of Second st., and Thomas A. McDonough, 21, of Ridge st., both of Everett, on whom warrants charging assault with intent to murder were issued.

MAN HUNT UNDER WAY.

The warrants were ordered issued by Judge Elbridge G. Davis, who was on the bench when Killion made his dramatic entrance to the courtroom. A man hunt throughout Greater Boston was speedily under way.

The wounded man was taken to the Maplewood Hospital, where his condition was regarded as grave.

The attack, apparently carefully planned, occurred in the basement of the detention room after Romanovitz and McDonough, with Pasquale Sarno, had appeared in court in connection with the Everett News Co. hold up Dec. 21.

They were charged with holding up the manager, two assistants and 11 newsboys on Sunday, Dec. 21, and robbing them of more than $1000.

TWICE IN COURT

The trio had come up in court twice previously, and their case was again continued today in the hope the Middlesex grand jury, convening at Cambridge, would indict them.

The three youths were the first to be called, and after the continuance was granted, Romanovitz and McDonough were led down for Sarno, having furnished $10,000 bail.

MRS. PHILLIPS SEEKS DIVORCE

Reno, Nev., Jan. 12 (AP)—Elizabeth Pillsbury Phillips, daughter of the late Albert E. Pillsbury, former attorney-general of Massachusetts, has joined the Reno divorce colony and plans to file suit against her husband, Richard S. Phillips.

Phillips is a student of Edinburgh University, Scotland, and is the son of Alexander V. Phillips, head of the Bemis Bag Company of Boston.

Mrs. Phillips denied a report from Boston that her father-in-law had offered her $5000 a month for life if she would return to her husband and become the mother of another child.

"There is no use denying that I am here for a divorce," Mrs. Phillips said. "My father-in-law did try to effect a reconciliation. He asked me to return to Dick and to have another baby and that such an event would bring us together permanently, but he never even made a suggestion of paying me any money. Of course, I suppose some provision would be made for my child, but I have separated from my husband for all time.

"I expect to file suit for divorce about February 2, when my three months' residence is completed. I will charge non-support. A power of attorney is already in the hands of an attorney here from my husband, and there will be no contest."

Mrs. Phillips is here with her baby and with her brother.

The President vs. The Public

WHETHER the people or the power trust shall control the new Federal Power Commission is the real and fundamental issue now joined between the Senate and the President.

This is too grave an issue for the people to be blinded by technicalities of procedure.

In the light of the facts no power can prevent the people from seeing the issue clearly.

Once they are in possession of the facts not even the power of the presidency can dissuade the people from following where the facts lead.

Here are the facts:

By a vote of 44 to 37 the Senate requested the President to return for reconsideration the nominations of the chairman and two other members of the new Power Commission.

This request was prompted by the action of these three commissioners in summarily removing the chief auditor and the solicitor of the old commission, who have done their best to prevent the power trust from stealing valuable properties belonging to the public.

In making this request the Senate contends that it acted in accord with Senate rule No. 38. Under this rule no nomination is finally confirmed or rejected until two days after the Senate has voted upon it.

This rule also provides that "if a notification of the confirmation or rejection shall have been sent to the President before the expiration of the time within which a motion to reconsider may be made, the motion to reconsider shall be accompanied by a motion to request the President to return such nomination to the Senate."

The nomination of these three commissioners, having been returned to the President before the time limit fixed by this rule expired, the Senate was within its rights in requesting the return of the nominations.

But the President not only refuses to accede to the request of the Senate, but challenges the right of the Senate to reconsider the nominations and sustains the action of the commissioners in removing these two faithful employes.

"By their fruits ye shall know them."

The representatives of the people in the Senate are trying to prevent the power trust from controlling the Federal Power Commission.

The representatives of the people in the Senate are trying to prevent the tools of the power trust on the commission from punishing Chief Auditor King and Solicitor Russell for doing their best to prevent the power trust from stealing the properties that belong to the people.

But the representative of the people in the presidency lines up against the Senate and the faithful public servants the Senate is trying to protect for doing their duty, and goes to the support of the power trust and the three members of the new Power Commission that did exactly what the power trust wanted

Continued on Page 2, Column 4

Hope Wanes for Flying Widow and MacLaren

Horta, Island of Fayal, Azores, Jan. 12 (AP)—Fears were held here today that the storm-swept Atlantic had claimed the lives of two more transoceanic fliers.

There still was some hope for the safety of Mrs. Beryl Hart, 27-year-old red-headed widow, and Lieut. William S. MacLaren, who left Bermuda Saturday noon for Horta in their monoplane laden with a "pay load" which they hoped to take to Paris. They expected to negotiate the 2000 miles to Horta in about 21 hours, which would have elapsed at 11:15 a. m. Sunday.

At 1 o'clock today it seemed impossible the two fliers could have weathered the storms sweeping the islands.

Steamers passed and put in to Horta reporting no word of the flyers. One ship came in with a disabled steamer in tow, reporting "the worst weather in years" along the Tradewind's route.

If forced to come down at sea they probably would not have been able to keep their plane afloat more than a few minutes.

SAYS GARRETT RUINED HIM, BUT TOOK BRIBES

Star Witness Denies Suicide Attempts, Charges Asylum Plot and Threats

Complete testimony in Garrett case on page 12. Get each day's complete testimony in the 7 P. M. Edition of the Evening American.

PICTURES ON PAGE 12.

Oliver B. Garrett, ex-police liquor raider, "took him" for more than $65,000, John F. Sullivan testified at the Garrett trial today.

The former proprietor of the Hotel Ritz, claimed victim of a Garrett conspiracy, said he had no regrets about testifying against the former policeman, "because he ruined me."

Other highlights of the start of the second week of trial of Garrett, his wife and Miss Lillian V. Hatch were Sullivan's statement that a Mr. Callahan had told him he would go to State prison if he testified against police and his charge that a plot resulted in his incarceration in Danvers State hospital after he had testified at Atty. Gen. Warner's Garrett hearing.

TAKEN FOR $65,000

Sullivan's charges were made during the examination conducted by Daniel G. Gallagher, attorney for the women defendants. Garrett's lawyer, Herbert F. Callahan, took no part in it.

The gaunt, white haired hotel man repeated his charged that besides paying money to Garrett, Mrs. Garrett and Miss Hatch, former courtroom girl at the Ritz, also paid Sergt. Timmons and Officer Tiernan.

Sullivan's charge regarding the amount he claims Garrett took from him was made in answer to Gallagher's query:

"When did you tell people Garrett took you for more than $65,000?"

"He took me for more than that," the witness answered.

Pressed as to the manner in which he arrived at an estimate, Sullivan said he could not give the exact amount and had no records.

Sullivan admitted he had suffered regret for having given testimony at the Warner hearing, but when Gallagher asked if it was because he had done "Garrett and his family a tremendous injury," he loudly replied:

"Not at all!"

"GARRETT RUINED ME"

He could not exactly name the reason for his remorse, but insisted:

"I did not regret testifying."

Continued on Page 2, Column 1

In Today's American

Financial	16, 17, 18
Radio	13
Comics	14
Magazine, Fiction	12
Sports	8, 9, 10
Society	7
Ship News	19
Women's Clubs	7
Classified Ads	19
Amusements	6
Letters from Readers	10
Crossword Puzzle	19
Ann Arden	7
Martha Lee	7

RADIO MURDER TRIAL "The Trial of Robert Graham" HEAR IT TONIGHT AT 6 ON WEEI Sponsored by the Evening American

'GARRETT RUINED ME WHILE I PAID HIM,' SULLIVAN EXCLAIMS

"HE TOOK ME FOR MORE THAN $65,000," SAYS WITNESS

Continued from First Page

against Mr. Garrett, because he ruined me."

Sullivan's charge that he was sent to Danvers State Hospital as part of a plot came after he had admitted having been in various sanitaria within 15 years for nervous condition.

"Who arranged it that you should go there?" Gallagher asked.

"I don't know who was behind that plot," the hotel man answered.

He nodded when Gallagher said: "Oh, it was a plot?"

He said he did not believe the sanitarium authorities were in the plot, and he didn't believe Atty.-Gen. Warner had anything to do with him being sent there.

TELLS OF THREAT

He could not recall when he was at Danvers whether before or after he testified before the grand jury. He could not recall that anybody told him his testimony given before the attorney-general could be read in court and that he would not personally have to testify.

He consulted Lowell Mayberry, attorney, before going to see Warner, because Mr. Callahan told him that if he testified against the police he would go to state prison, he said. The Callahan who so informed him was not further identified during the testimony.

Callahan's alleged statement was the only reason that sent him to Mayberry, the gaunt, snow-haired hotel man testified.

He said he did not care whether he was sent to prison or not.

Mayberry engaged his counsel, Lafayette Chamberlain, for the Warner hearing, but after it was over, he realized he could have done himself, everything that Chamberlain did, he admitted.

He again testified that he had stated he had been double-crossed, but denied telling anyone that either Mayberry or Chamberlain had deceived him.

LIED UNINTENTIONALLY

He admitted he might have been drinking vanilla extract before going to see Mayberry. In answer to another question he said he could not recollect ever having attempted to commit suicide.

Considerable of the morning session was spent by Gallagher in quizzing the witness regarding the truth or falsity of his testimony at the Warner hearing and at the Cockinos trial.

He finally admitted that his memory had slipped and that he had unintentionally lied.

Report Garrett Had Turned State's Evidence Worried Him

Court was several minutes late in opening. Mrs. Garrett, wearing a new black dress, again occupied the seat beside the dock and, before Judge Keating took the bench, she held an animated conversation with her husband. Miss Hatch sat beside her.

Among the spectators was Mrs. Garrett's father, Everett Redden, present for the first time.

The final exhibit was on hand, overflowing from the courtroom, down the corridor, and the stairs to the first floor.

Sullivan appeared to be much rested. He was in court 10 minutes before the trial resumed and his answers to the first of Gallagher's questions were given in a louder voice than usual.

HAD SALOON FIRST

He admitted having refreshed his recollection regarding testimony he gave in the Cocknos case but denied talking with anyone regarding it.

He conducted the Oxford Hotel in Huntington Ave. before opening the Ritz, he said, and employed four or five bartenders there. Previous to that he had been a bartender at Clerk's Hotel and later had a saloon.

Sullivan testified again that he went to Atty.-Gen. Warner before the hearing because he had been told that Garrett, Sergt. Timmins and Officer Tiernan had turned.

"What was it that influenced you to go to your lawyer?" Gallagher asked.

"Mr. Callahan told me if I testified against the police I would be sent to State prison," was the answer.

That was the only reason he went to see Lowell Mayberry, he said, but denied that he sought to save himself from prison.

"I didn't care whether I went to prison or not," he testified.

MAYBERRY'S ADVICE.

He did not tell Mayberry of Callahan's statement, he said.

Again he told, under questioning, of Mayberry advising him to turn State's evidence because three others had Mayberry did not tell him why he retained other counsel for him instead of acting himself, Sullivan said.

His counsel, Lafayette Chamberlain, he had never met before going to his office, he said.

"Did you pay Mr. Chamberlain some money on your first visit?" Gallagher queried.

"Mr. Mayberry paid him," he said.

Chamberlain's services consisted of walking to the State House with him, advising him to tell the truth, repeating Mayberry's statement that police had turned State evidence and introducing him to Special Asst. Atty.-Gen. Bickford, who took his statement, Sullivan said.

"When it was all over you realized you could have done it yourself?"

"I did," Sullivan replied.

ADMITS HE LIED

Again he admitted having said he was double-crossed, and Gallagher drew his meaning as deceived.

"No," he answered to questions whether he had said Mayberry or Chamberlain deceived him.

Judge Keating ruled he need not reply to a question asking how much he paid the lawyers and Gallagher asked that the rights of all defendants be saved.

"Everything I said in the Cocknos trial except when I covered up police officers was the truth," Gallagher read from the record of Sullivan's testimony at the Warner hearing.

"That was a lie?" he asked.

"Yes," admitted Sullivan.

"Well, then, you told this jury a lie last Friday?" asked defense counsel.

"Well, I didn't lie to the attorney-general. I didn't mean it that way," Sullivan protested, and denied "trying to crawl out of a hole."

Gallagher read from Friday's testimony and Sullivan said he had misunderstood the question about lying before Warner.

"As a matter of fact, you did lie before the attorney-general?"

"No, I did not," Sullivan said.

Gallagher reminded the witness that he had told the attorney-general the truth at the Cocknos trial in everything except about giving money to police.

DIDN'T MEAN TO LIE

He then read from Sullivan's testimony at the Cocknos trial a denial that he ever had sold liquor.

"That was a lie, wasn't it?"

"Yes," admitted Sullivan.

"That's lie No. 2?"

Sullivan did not answer.

"Well, now," pursued Gallagher, "did you or did you not lie to the attorney-general?"

"Not intentionally," was the reply.

He did not tell Chamberlain he had lied at the hearing, Sullivan said. He admitted he had been guilty of an unintentional lie, that he had forgotten.

HE DRANK EXTRACT

"Every time your memory slips do you count it an unintentional lie?" Gallagher demanded.

"Yes," said the witness.

He denied having spent several days in a Warrenton st., South End, hotel before consulting Mayberry. Gallagher asked him if he was under the influence of vanilla extract just before he saw Mayberry, and he replied that he didn't think he was, although he might have been drinking it, admitting that he used it.

He didn't know federal authorities had been looking into his affairs, but heard they were investigating Garrett, he said. His big financial loss was worrying him, he told the court.

"Previous to the Attorney-General's hearing, did you attempt suicide?"

"I don't recollect," Sullivan answered.

TOOK POISON ONCE

He denied whetting a knife blade on the bar and saying he was going to "end it all," and denied having told a number of people at L Street baths that he planned suicide. He said he did not know his friends at the bath were watching him closely to prevent his suicide.

Gallagher read a long list of names of men, asking if he knew them. Sullivan admitted knowing only two. He then admitted he once took poison by mistake.

Extra Postage Urged to Aid Drouth Relief

Washington, Jan. 12 (AP)—An opportunity for letter writers to pay 3 cents for a 2-cent stamp, the added penny to go for drouth relief, was proposed today by Representative Ackerman of New Jersey.

Looking Backward -:- -:- By FRANKLIN COLLIER

LIGHT WAVES OF OUR PAST STILL EXIST AND CAN BE HARNESSED AND THROWN ON TELEVISION SCREENS IN OUR HOMES— ACCORDING TO A RADIO ENGINEER.
MOST OF OUR POPULATION SHOULD HAVE A FEW HOURS NOTICE
HARNESSING LIGHT WAVES OF THE PAST MAY BE O.K. SAYS H A MILTON, "BUT I LOOK FORWARD TO THE DAY WHEN THEY CAN HARNESS HAIR WAVES OF THE OLD DAYS"
PAUL REVERE'S RIDE WITH THE ORIGINAL PAUL
NEXT W
THIS WEEK BATTLE OF BULL RUN IN THE ORIGINAL CAST
COMING ATTRACTIONS
IT'S TOO HAR SAYS DOCTOR CHILL BLAYNES, THAT THEY CANNOT HARNESS SOME OF THE HEAT WAVES OF THE PAST THIS OFFICE HAS NOT BEEN ABOVE SEVENTY NINE ALL WEEK
PLYMOUTH ROCK
WE MAY OBTAIN ABSOLUTE PROOF THAT THE FIRST MAN ON PLYMOUTH ROCK WAS A CROWE

President vs. Public

Continued from First Page

them to do when they dismissed King and Russell.

The Hearst newspapers, in calling upon the Senate to reconsider the nominations of Chairman Smith and Commissioners Garsaud and Draper, said:

"As for Mr. Hoover himself, he is apparently acting not as the President of the United States, but as president of the power trust."

By action that speaks louder than words, Mr. Hoover now shows that the Hearst newspapers were right in their conclusion.

Thus in the eternal struggle between justice and privilege, of which the conflict between the Senate and the President is the latest engagement, you see the Senate championing the cause of the public and the President joining forces with the power trust.

So that if Mr. Hoover is not president of the power trust now, he probably will be after 1932.

JOBLESS AID IS TO CONTINUE, REPORT SAYS

Sage Foundation Urges Study of the Emergency Unemployment Committee Be Pushed

New York, Jan. 12 (INS)—A strong recommendation that emergency employment committees continue their study of unemployment in its seasonal and technological phases was contained in a report published by the Russell Sage Foundation and was made public today.

The report which is the work of Joanna C. Colcord, director of the charity organization department of the foundation, urges that the committees organized to combat unemployment during the economic depression continue their work after the crisis. It was compiled after a review of the available records of studies of previous employment emergencies.

The report lists seven topics which it suggests should be embraced in any comprehensive program for study and control of the unemployment problem. They are: Provision for regular employment statistics, development of an effective public employment exchange, efforts to induce employers and industries to regularize their employment, long range planning of public and private work, promotion of vocational training and guidance for juveniles, industrial program for handicapped workers, and legislation.

Vermont Solon Won't Run for Senate Seat

St. Albans, Ct., Jan. 12 (AP)—Congressman Elbert S. Brigham today issued a statement eliminating himself as a prospective candidate for the Senate seat made vacant by the death recently of U. S. Senator Frank L. Greene. Last July, Congressman Brigham said he would not be a candidate for re-election because of private business plans.

Plane Hop Planned From China to P. I.

Shanghai, Jan. 12 (AP)—The L. E. Gale Company of Shanghai, American importers of aircraft, today announced plans for a record-blazing solo airplane flight between China and the Philippine Islands to pave the way for permanent aerial communication. A biplane with a 110-horsepower motor probably will be used for the flight, which will begin here January 17.

SENATE O. K.'S FLETCHER AS TARIFF HEAD

Page, Coulter asd Dennis Are Also Confirmed After a Lively Debate

Washington, Jan. 12 (AP)—The Senate today confirmed without a record vote the nomination of Henry P. Fletcher, of Pennsylvania, as chairman of the re-organized Tariff Commission. Five other nominees remained to be considered.

The nomination of Thomas W. Page of Virginia as a Democratic member was confirmed next without opposition. Page is a former member of the Taft and Wilson tariff commissions.

John Lee Coulter, Republican, North Dakota, then was confirmed without opposition. Alfred P. Dennis, Democratic appointee from Maryland, was confirmed next.

BORAH OPPOSES FLETCHER

Opposition to Mr. Fletcher was voiced by Senator Borah (Rep.), Idaho at the outset of the debate on President Hoover's appointees.

The Idaho Republican said he would not oppose confirmation of the former diplomat as "an individual," but "considering Mr. Fletcher comes from Pennsylvania, I might say he has been wilfully ignorant of the tariff."

The six tariff commissioners were given recess appointments last September. All were up for confirmation.

Senator Harrison, Democrat, Mississippi, served notice the "main fight" would come on Edgar R. Brossard, of Utah, another Republican member. He failed in an attempt to obtain consent to take up Brossard's nomination first.

HAD NO TARIFF VIEWS.

Borah quoted from Senate finance committee hearings on the nominations and said Fletcher had testified he had no general tariff views, had not been acquainted with the tariff law, but expected to learn something about it "as the cases come along."

There was a reverberation of the fight against the power commission nominees in the tariff debate.

Borah stated the proposition that the executive and legislative branches of the government "ought to keep their hands off the independent commissions after they are appointed and let them serve as a quasi judicial body."

WHAT DO YOU KNOW?

In Today's News	Answers on Page
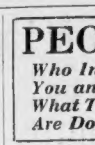
1. Who flays discontent propaganda?	11
2. What heavyweights will fight in Chicago?	8
3. How many are back to work in Detroit?	3
4. What was Cardinal's eulogy of Mayor's son?	4
5. Who was witness today in Garrett case?	1
6. When will Nathan Straus funeral be held?	4
7. What is Constance Bennett's next film?	6
8. Where are Paris fliers feared lost?	1

PEOPLE

Who Interest You and What They Are Doing

Peggy Allenby Bankrupt, Blames Depression

New York, Jan. 12—Peggy Allenby, dramatic star known to thousands of theater-goers, has filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy in the Federal district court here.



Peggy Allenby

According to her bankruptcy schedule, Miss Allenby's liabilities were nearly double her assets. The actress said that poor business in the theater due to depression had caused her to go into bankruptcy.

It has been some time since Miss Allenby has taken a role in a Broadway production. She is staying with friends while in New York.

London Hears Tunneys Will Visit There Soon

London, Jan. 12—Reports here say that both Mr. and Mrs. Gene Tunney may visit London shortly.

Mrs. Tunney

The rumors have been mentioned in London society columns during the past few days.

It is said the Tunneys have received an invitation to stay with one of the best known families in the country, the son of which became friendly with the fighting prize fighter while in America.

If Tunney makes the reported European trip, he certainly will meet George Bernard Shaw, with whom he had many long walks and talks while vacationing on the Riviera two years ago.

King Bids Farewell to Indian Delegates

London, Jan. 12 (AP)—King George and Queen Mary bade farewell to the Indian delegates to the round table conference at Buckingham Palace this morning.

King George

Nearly a hundred Indians, including princes in the ceremonial dress, and many Indian women, gathered in the gallery of the palace before filing into the state drawing room where their Majesties received them.

The Indian conference is far from over, but the Royal Family wish to return to Sandringham, necessitating the early farewell.

Miss Bondfield Would Train Jobless Girls as Domestics

London, Jan. 12—Miss Margaret Bondfield, minister of labor, has made an attempt to solve the unemployment problem in England. If the labor minister has her way she will establish several training centers where unemployed girls from the depressed areas will be trained as firstclass domestic servants. The girls will be taught to earn respect for themselves by their skill in housework.

Miss Margaret Bondfield

According to the labor ministry, there are some 500000 women and girls who sign the unemployed registers weekly.

Notables in State and City Life Attend Solemn Requiem of Mayor Curley's Son

GOV. ELY AND AIDE

MR. AND MRS. JOHN CURLEY

EX-GOV. AND MRS. FULLER

MR. AND MRS. THEODORE A. GLYNN

FROM ALL WALKS OF LIFE, from the poorer sections of the city to the luxurious homes of the Back Bay, came mourners to the solemn requiem mass for James M. Curley, Jr., son of the mayor, at the Cathedral of the Holy Cross today. Governor Ely and his aide, John Curley, former city official and brother of the mayor, his wife and two daughters, former Governor and Mrs. Fuller and former Fire Commissioner and Mrs. Theodore A. Glynn are shown at the Cathedral in the pictures above. (Staff photos.)

AMERICA'S OUTSTANDING MOTOR SHOW
Gorgeous Display of the World's Newest Cars
BOSTON
AUTO SHOW
MECHANICS BLDG.
JAN. 17-24
10 A.M. to 10:30 P.M.
PERSONAL DIRECTION CHESTER I. CAMPBELL

THOUSANDS BACK AT WORK IN DETROIT AS AUTO INDUSTRY BOOMS

FORD CALLS 70,000 BACK TO POSTS

Population of Michigan City Is Hopeful Now That Depression Is at End

Detroit, Jan. 12 (AP)—Detroit's job-bound industrial army was augmented today by 70,000 or more men who were called back to their benches and assembly lines after several weeks of inactivity.

Most of the re-employment was accounted for at the rouge plant of the Ford Motor Co., which had been idle since an inventory shutdown on Dec. 18, with the exception of the employment of about 6500 men on a part-time basis last week.

FORD ISSUES RECALL

The Ford Co. for several months has been operating three days a week, eight hours a day, and the lack of an announced change from this policy indicated that it is to be continued. The company announced that the employes recalled today brought the total at the rouge plant to 75,000, while 32,000 others were ordered back to work in other parts of the country.

Increased activity at several other automobile plants also was reported. The Buick Motor Car Company at Flint brought its total to 13,500 with recall of 1700 men. The Cadillac Motor Car Company, operating five seven-hour days a week, reported a normal force of 6000. The Chevrolet Motor Company, working two shifts, has 32,000 men on a 32-hour-a-week basis.

NO HELP WANTED

The return of the men to work brought additional pay to several hundred employes of the street car system, as extra cars were operated on lines to the factories. Detroit employers emphasized that the men put to work are employes who had been laid off and were recalled. There are no new jobs, they pointed out, and no men are "wanted" here.

Hoover Backs Red Cross Appeal for $10,000,000

Washington, Jan. 12 (US)—President Hoover, as president of the Red Cross, late yesterday approved the proposed $10,000,000 public appeal by that body for work in alleviating suffering in stricken sections of the nation, as suggested by National Chairman John Barton Payne.

It was indicated that the Red Cross drive for contributions will get under way immediately.

Meanwhile, two notes of sharp criticism were sounded. One came from the people's lobby, urging the Senate to disregard the Red Cross because of the alleged failure of Payne to furnish it with definite information on the situation, and to take the relief work over as a federal project.

The other was from the people's legislative service, in which director Mercer G. Johnston charged the Red Cross with hoarding $14,000,000 in relief funds, while it appealed for more funds for current work.

'Bugs' Suggests We Raise the Duce

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

We're afraid everything's going to be all right.

We read it in Mussolini's letter. And he didn't hide it in the postscript.

When Benito says everything is going to be bright you might as well get out your smoked glasses.

That's no prediction for Mussolini. His record shows he does a thing first. And predicts it afterward.

And we don't claim this country would be better off with a dictator.

We have too many of those things now.

We would be better off with fewer dictators. And more stenographers who could spell.

Mussolini also gives up the ingredients with his recipe. And they sound reasonable. We have usually been suspicious of professional optimists who stand on the wharf and yell swimming instructions to the guy in the water.

Have you noticed how quickly the Senate forgot relief? It's in a big argument with President Hoover because he made three quick appointments without asking the Senate up first.

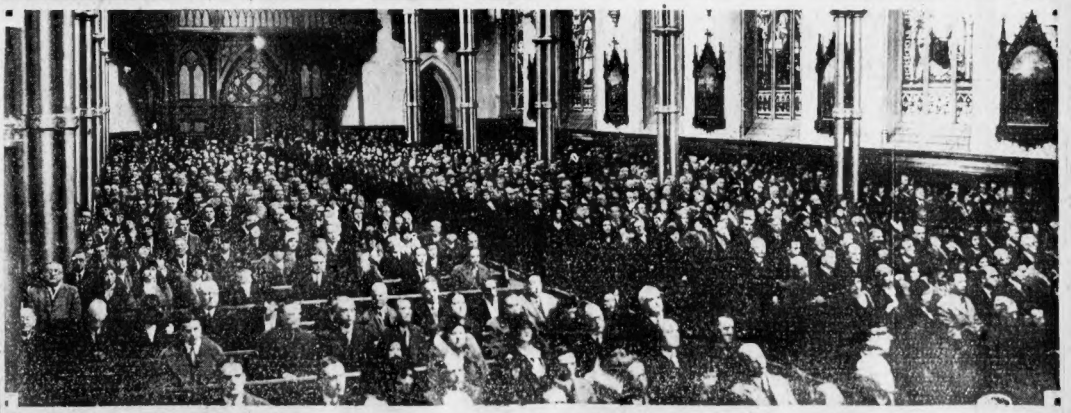
That's a touchy subject, too. Something like Jonah and the whale. The whale was always sorry that he brought that matter up.

WILDEY SAVINGS BANK
22 Boylston St., Boston
Interest Begins Jan. 15
JOIN OUR 1931 CHRISTMAS CLUB

City Bows in Grief as Body of Curley's Son Is Borne to Final Resting Place

LORETTA BREMNER JOSEPHINE BREMNER NANCY BREMNER

HER ROMANCE BROKEN by death, Miss Loretta Bremner of Chicago, fiancee of the dead youth, is shown at the funeral with two sisters, Josephine and Nancy, and the latter's escort. Miss Bremner had been a guest in the Curley home a few days before. The flower-covered casket of bronze is shown in the upper picture, being carried from the Curley home by pallbearers, all chums of young Curley, as thousands lined the streets. (Staff photos.)



WILLIAM CARDINAL O'CONNELL, Prince of Church and senior member of the hierarchy in America, pronounced the blessing and eulogy at the solemn funeral services for James M. Curley, Jr., son of the mayor, at the Cathedral of the Holy Cross today. Priests are shown celebrating the solemn mass, while at the left the Cardinal is shown with his attendants. The upper picture shows the boys' band at the House of the Angel Guardian playing a farewell tribute as the cortege wended its way to the Cathedral. (Staff photos.)

THOUSANDS FROM ALL WALKS OF LIFE filled the Cathedral of the Holy Cross today for a farewell tribute to James M. Curley, Jr., while outside the church other thousands gathered to see the flower-decked casket start its last journey to Old Calvary Cemetery. It is estimated 10,000 were jammed about the Cathedral and nearby streets when the funeral cars arrived. Cardinal O'Connell conducted solemn high mass of requiem and pronounced the eulogy. This photo was taken from a spot near altar. (Staff photo.)

Clemenceau Statue Is Speeded in Paris

Paris, Jan. 12 (INS)—Work is going forward on the 16-foot high statue of Georges Clemenceau, which will be set up in the Place Clemenceau, just off the Champs Elysees.

The sculptor, Francois Cogne, has already submitted a model showing the great statesman in a walking attitude, making his way through a heavy storm. Under a war helmet, his well-known fighting features seem to symbolize his attitude during the great struggle when he often said:

"Moi je fais la guerre!"

CHICAGO 'BOMB KING' SHOT IN GANG WAR

Chicago, Jan. 12 (AP)—The career of the "bomb king" of Chicago—James Belcastro, one of the original 28 "public enemies"—has ended, temporarily, at least.

Like many others in gangland, he was shot. Five bullets pierced his head and body. Two assailants fired on him last night, after he stepped from the doorway of his brother's home in "Little Italy" into his automobile, not far from "death corner," where gangs have settled so many of their disputes with bullets. He was taken to a hospital, where his condition was reported as critical.

Rocco Fanelli, another "public enemy," in front of whose home the shooting occurred, was arrested and jailed on a charge of vagrancy.

At the hospital, Belcastro, third of the "public enemies" to be shot since the Chicago crime commission issued its list of undesirables last spring, refused to give the police any inkling of his suspicions. He said he could not recognize his assailants and could not say whether they used pistols or a machine gun. The other "public enemies" were Jack Zuta, killed at Delafield, Wis., and Joe Aiello, slain in a machine gun ambush in Chicago.

The police speculated that Belcastro possibly was shot for ironing organized gang anger by his supposedly independent operations. Belcastro was arrested during the investigation into the death of Alfred Lingle, Tribune reporter, but later freed. He was indicted on a charge of murder growing out of the death of Octavius Granady.

HOOVER PRAISES STRAUS RITES TOMORROW

New York, Jan. 12—President Hoover today led the nation in mourning the loss of one of America's outstanding philanthropists of all time—Nathan W. Straus, who died yesterday at his home in the San Remo Hotel. Mr. Straus would have been 83 on Jan. 31.

Informed of the death of the famous benefactor the President issued the following statement:

"The death of Mr. Nathan Straus removes from our national life a venerable figure which will be sadly missed, a Jewish leader whose vision of service transcended all tenets of race or creed, and a philanthropist whose benefactions—especially in behalf of children—were of permanent value."

The end came peacefully, death being caused by various infirmities of old age which resulted in heart failure. He also suffered from high blood pressure. He had been in a coma for twenty-four hours.

At Mr. Straus' bedside when he died were Nathan, Jr., a son, his only daughter, Mrs. Irving Lehman, and her husband Judge Irving Lehman of the court of appeals, and Dr. Leopold Stiegltz, noted physician and friend of the philanthropist.

According to his last wishes there is to be no display at his funeral which will take place tomorrow. Services will be held at the Temple Emanuel-El at 10 a. m.

Following brief services at his home, in the San Remo Hotel, by Dr. De Sola Pool, there will be a parade to the Temple Emanuel-El, where psalms will be read by Dr. Queena.

Mourned by All

NATHAN STRAUS, philanthropist and leader of Jewry, who died yesterday in New York city. During his lifetime, he gave away millions for the benefit of his fellow men.

Nathan Kraus, Rabbi Joseph Englow and Rabbi Stephen S. Wise. There will be no formal eulogy at the synagogue. Instead, William Lyon Phelps will give a little sketch of his life. Burial will take place at the family vault in Cypress Hills, L. I.

THOUSANDS BARE HEADS IN TRIBUTE TO MAYOR'S SON

Continued from First Page

tinguished men and women in all, and many delegations from organizations of every type. Forming a fringe about them in the Cathedral were scores of plain citizens, saying their prayers for this youth of 23 whose great promise was cut short by sudden death.

CITY HALL IS CLOSED

Far from the scene of the funeral countless others lent themselves to thoughts of the dead, and out o. respect to him City Hall and the markets at Faneuil Hall were closed during the funeral hours.

Before the cortege left the house there was another long file past the casket in the sorrowful home at 250 Jamaicaway. Forty policemen stood about, in a guard of honor than to handle the respectful crowd.

The mourners took their places in the long line of cars and then from the house came Miss Loretta Bremner of Chicago, fiancee of James M. Curley, Jr., and members of the family, followed by Mayor Curley and his daughter, Mary, and finally the young boys, Francis and George, and their brother, Paul and Leo.

Snow had begun to fall as the bronze casket, covered with a blanket of talisman roses and lilies of the valley, was carried out by young friends of the dead youth through a lane of 20 firemen.

Mayor Curley and his remaining children rode directly behind the hearse, and after them rode the then Mrs. Curley, John Curley, brother of the Mayor, his family, followed by other relatives and scores of other mourners.

All other traffic halted as the procession moved down Morsine st. into Center st.

DRUMS BEAT DIRGE

As Perkins st. was passed, the cortege moved by two rows of cadets of the House of the Angel Guardian, whose muffled drums beat a dirge.

Every block was lined along the the curb with spectators, many with heads bared, as the cars passed through Center st. to Roxbury, Centre, Thornton st. to West Newton st. and to Washington st., circling the Cathedral by Columbus ave. and Union Park st. to draw up before the main doors of the Cathedral.

Crowd Silent as Mayor Curley and Family Enter Cathedral

The crowd gave way as Mayor Curley entered with Mary on his arm, followed by John, walking two and two, by Miss Bremner on the arm of her father, by her mother and sisters, Frances and Curley, City Treasurer Edmund Dolan, Thomas J. Johnson, official greeter for distinguished visitors to the city, and the rest.

A group of college and school friends of Mary Curley walked among those who filed into the cathedral.

200 FIREMEN SALUTE

Two hundred firemen lined up under command of Chief Henry Fox were at attention as the casket was carried in and were at attention as the mourners passed.

Earlier the many other notables and the official delegations had entered, and among them groups of nuns and priests. The cowled Cawley Fathers of the Church of St. John the Evangelist were also there.

Because of the length of the funeral procession, word was sent in advance to J. Philip O'Connell, who was in charge of arrangements at the Cathedral, that no more of the public could be admitted.

The celebrant of the mass was Rt. Rev. Mgr. Richard J. Haberlin, D. D., vicar-general of the archdiocese, assisted by Rev. James F. Kelly, of Our Lady of Lourdes Church, Jamaica Plain, the Curley family parish, as deacon, and Rev. Neil Cronin, administrator of the Cathedral parish, as sub-deacon. Rev. Harry M. O'Connor was master of ceremonies.

Many priests sat within the sanctuary rail. The Cathedral choir participated in the mass.

At the offertory, John J. Shaughnessy, assistant secretary to the mayor, sang as a solo, "Ingamesco," from Verdi's requiem, and at the end of the mass Joseph Ecker sang Ashmall's "The Savior's Love."

Miss Emma Winslee and Miss Gertrude Anderson, soprano; Miss Nora Burns and Mrs. Margaret Supple, altos; James Ecker and John Shaughnessy, tenors, and Joseph Ecker and William Coughlan, bassos, comprised the double quartet. Joseph Ferrara was at the organ.

200 Gain Entry to Cathedral as Crush Breaks Police Line

Before the services some 200 of the crowd outside broke through the police lines and half of them forced their way into the already crowded edifice. It was necessary to admit 50 or more in order to clear the sidewalk.

POLICE ACT AS ESCORT

The police, under Superintendent Michael F. Crowley and Deputy Superintendent Thomas F. Goode, with Capt. James Laffey in charge at the house, Capt. Herbert Goodwin at the house and Capt. James P. Smith at the cemetery, numbered 250. An escort of seven motorcycle officers under Sergt. Walter French accompanied the cortege.

At noon under a leaden sky and thickly falling snow the procession moved from the Cathedral by way of Washington st., West Newton st., Tremont st., Columbus ave., Eglenton pl., Washington st., Forest Hills, Hyde Park ave., and Berry st. to the cemetery.

THRONG AT GRAVE

As the last car departed and the police lines gave way, many of the crowd, having stood in the snow for two hours and more, poured into the Cathedral to kneel in prayer.

At the cemetery the mourners found a throng of men, women and children, some of whom had waited patiently since 8 o'clock. Floral pieces covered the ground over a large area and lined the path to the grave of Patrick F. McArdle. The blossoms peeped out from beneath a covering of newly fallen snow.

A straw mat had been laid for the mourners, while the crowd, numbering several thousand, stretched back to the crest of the hill. Mayor Curley, his head bared and refusing the advice of Fr. James F. Kelly to cover his head against the snow, stood on one side of the grave, Kelly and Fr. Neil Cronin took their stand opposite.

Miss Bremner leaned on her father's arm during most of the service, which lasted 12 minutes, covered her eyes with her handkerchief.

Looking down on the sad scene was the bronze angel atop the granite shaft placed there after the burial of Mrs. Curley last June. The choir of St. John's Seminary sang and the two priests read the prayers. The casket was then lowered.

SOCIETIES AT RITES

Among delegations attending the mass were trustees of the Hibernia Savings Bank, and representatives of the Catholic Union of Boston, Catholic Alumni Sodality, Boston College Alumni Association, Boston College class of 1928, Bostonia Court, M. C. O. F., Democratic State Committee, Democratic City Committee, Charitable Irish Society, Salvation Army, Tammany Club of Roxbury, the Mayors' Club of Massachusetts and the, senior class of Harvard Law School.

Included among the distinguished citizens present were former Mayor Malcolm E. Nichols, Congressman John W. McCormack, Judge Frank Leveroni, James J. Phelan, President Daniel E. Mullowney of the

CLASSMATES ATTEND

The active bearers at the funeral were: Henry L. Smith, Edward C. Donnelly, Stanton R. White, William A. Reilly, J. Walter Quinn, Frank J. Long, Joseph McKenney and J. Burke Sullivan, all close friends of the dead youth.

Honorary pallbearers were: Warren J. Fitzgerald, J. Edward Keefe, William Cashman, Cornelius J. Murphy, Edward Moynahan, John E. Barlow, Jr., Charles F. Marchnett, Jr. and Edward Hogan, Jr., all of the Class of 1931, Harvard Law School; John G. Kilton, Thomas M. Gemeili, Norman A. Steele, Joseph J. Doyle, Daniel M. Driscoll, Steven C. Dooley, Frederick V. McMenimen and William C. Dacey, of the Class of 1928, Boston College.

Also Charles F. Hurley, Charles A. Birmingham, John P. Curley, William Doyle, Joseph J. Hurley, John Delaney, John H. Morris and Joseph A. Scolponetti of the Boston College Alumni Association; James H. Alphen, Philip F. Kenney, James C. Tobin, Lawrence W. Costello, Andrew J. Dezzi, Francis X. McArdle, J. Irvin Black, Jr., and William C. O'Hare, of Bostonia Court, M. C. O. F.

ALLEN AT FUNERAL

Ushers at the church included Theodore M. Logan, John O'Callahan, William L. Anderson, Edmond J. Hoy, Henry F. Brennan, William P. Dugan, Daniel J. Gillen, John P. Mahoney, William F. Mullen, Frank T. Pedonti, Frank A. Benson, John A. Sullivan, John M. Casey, Thomas P. Glynn, Joseph A. F. O'Neil.

Advertisement

Is This for Too Good Your Cough?

Creomulsion may be a better help than you think. It combines seven major helps in one—the best helps known to science. It is made for coughs from colds that hang on, or follow severe attacks.

Mild coughs often yield to lesser helps. No one can tell. No one knows which factor will help most for any certain cough. So careful people, more and more, are using Creomulsion for any cough that starts.

The cost is $1.25—a little more than a single help. But your druggist guarantees it, so it costs nothing if it fails to bring you quick relief. Coughs are danger signals. For safety's sake, deal with them in the best way known.

CREOMULSION
for Difficult Coughs from Colds

Cardinal's Eulogy

A touching solace was conveyed today to Mayor Curley by Cardinal O'Connell at funeral services for the latter's eldest son, James M. Curley, Jr.

In his eulogy at the mass, Cardinal O'Connell said:

"In the presence of a grief so deep, so poignant, human words seem of little avail to assuage the bitter pain of a deeply wounded heart. In fact, the attempt only to reopen the wounds which God alone can heal.

"However much we may share with others our greatest joys, our greatest griefs are ours alone. And when we are borne down by their cruel weight there is but one thing we can do. We must enter alone, as Christ did, into the garden of sorrow, bow our heads in submission to God's all holy will, and listen as Christ in the agony listened to the voices of the angel of faith and the angel of hope, and then stand erect in the power of the strength of God.

"Without the light of faith and strength of hope, life would lose its whole significance and indeed at times would become almost insupportable. We know that much as a human father loves his son, God the Eternal Father loves him infinitely more.

"We know that if this mortal life has its sufferings, which no mortal can escape, at the end there is eternal happiness in comparison to which our suffering is as nothing. We know while a father is proud of his son whose life seems promising, that we may well be prouder, and happier still to know that all those buds of promise will blossom into fuller flower in the life beyond the grave.

"I am the resurrection and the life. He who believeth in me shall not die, but shall live forever and forever. It is this faith and hope incomparable which conquers all grief and pain and even death itself. So may God, who loves us all, give courage and peace to the living, and to the dead peace and rest."

Dr. O'Donnell to Speak

Dr. George T. O'Donnell of the Boston board of health will speak at the annual meeting of the Watertown District Nursing Association in the First Baptist Church, Watertown, on Tuesday afternoon, Jan. 20.

COUGHING
You get almost instant relief with one swallow of THOXINE

6 FIREMEN ARE HURT AT BLAZE

Springfield, Jan. 12—Six firemen were cut by flying glass, a woman fainted and a number of employes and patrons were driven into the street when fire of undetermined origin swept the three-story plant of George Kimball & Son, furniture dealers, at 3110 Main st. today.

Two alarms were sounded for the fire which apparently started in the fishing room on the first floor and burned through both second and third floors.

The blaze threatened the entire district, with the loss estimated at $65,000.

Four customers were in the first floor salesroom when a hot air explosion blew out the plate glass windows.

The fishing room, where the blaze is believed to have started, contained a quantity of inflammable material.

8 Freeze in Shanghai

Shanghai, Jan. 12 (INS)—Eight persons are dead in Shanghai as the result of a cold wave which gripped the city over the week-end. The cold, the worst in 38 years, was abating today.

VETS SUPPORT CASH BONUS

Washington, Jan. 12 (AP)—An overwhelming majority of the members of the American Legion and other veterans' organizations favor immediate cash redemption of the World War veterans' adjusted compensation certificates, Rep. Wright Patman (D.), of Texas, stated today.

A leader in the fight in Congress to force action before the session ends March 4, Patman said he had received petitions from more than 30,000 persons demanding the legislation.

Backed by signatures of 110 members of the House to a petition demanding action on scores of bills for cash payment, Patman announced he would poll the House Ways and Means Committee to ascertain its views on granting a hearing on the bills.

Plain Talk

You wouldn't think of wearing a shirt or underwear for several days, but you wear your clothes and suit or dress for weeks without cleaning. Be wise—be neat—remember you that dark clothes do not require cleaning, but they appear as much dirt as do light clothes.

ALL SUITS and PLAIN SILK DRESSES $1 cleaned--pressed--beautified
Works at Malden
Malden 2000
Liberty 9250
Salem 5099
GOLDEN BELL Cleaners
GOLDEN BELL Cleaners—Dyers

Filene's Automatic Bargain BASEMENT for MEN

TUESDAY at 9 A. M.

3021 MEN'S suits topcoats overcoats tuxedos

OUR PLAN (Originated by Filene's)
It will pay to make the FIRST arrival early enough. The percentage reductions shown are those the price drops 25% after 12 selling days 33⅓% after 18 selling days 50% after 36 selling days. Goods unsold after 30 selling days given away to charitable institutions —plenty of dark staple business suits

—over 300 staple blue serge business suits
—blue, brown or gray overcoats
—hard finish worsted suits
—famous brands
—100% Alpaca and other pile fabric coats
—extra selling space
—extra salespeople

$11

Plenty of odd suit sizes—all up-to-date styles

Lot I garments, usual retail price $22.50
Lot II garments, usual retail price $25
Lot III garments, usual retail price $30
Lot IV garments, usual retail price $35 suit sizes 32 to 52 regular, 38 to 50 stout 34 to 44 short, 36 to 44 long, few long or short stouts overcoat sizes 34 to 44 regular, 34 to 42 short tuxedo sizes 34 to 40 regular—topcoats 34 to 44 regular not all sizes in every kind surpluses, odd lots, discontinued lines and closeouts from reputable clothing makers, including well-known leaders—also stocks of retail stores, etc.—only 150 p-c. tuxedos.

Shopping with Priscilla Price

Evelyn's Anniversary

Prices $45—$7.95—$12.95

A fur that comes but once a year must surely be worth while, Annie! You never saw such remarkable prices as are marked at $4.95 - $7.95 and $12.95! I don't know which will please you most, their prices—or their style—for each is fashion's latest demand. Our style-loving Carol has been to Bey-lyn's and she's positively thrilled at the array of the latest creations she found there. She bought a beautiful Sunday night frock for only $7.95. She says her budget can easily stand another dress or two at this price. These are new, smart plaids, gay prints, lustrous crepes—lovely chiffons, stunning satin evening gowns—wool crepes and wool tweeds in dashing styles and gorgeous colors. You'll find all these at Evelyn's Dress Shop, Room 302, 8 Winter St.

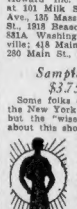
Clean Clothes

wear longer! Your wardrobe can be unbelievably increased, my dear, at the smallest cost imaginable by having your soiled or spotted frocks cleansed at the Howard Inc. Imagine having your favorite frocks or your coat, whether it's plain or fur-trimmed, renewed—for that is what it really means—for only 75c! Men's suits and overcoats are cleansed for the same price! Your frocks are beautifully refinished and thoroughly cleansed by their continuous sterile filtration process. All cleansing done in their own sanitary plant. You'll find Howard Inc. Cleansing Shops at 101 Milk St., 457 Columbus Ave., 135 Mass. Ave., 76 Warren St., 1318 Beacon St., Brookline; 581A Washington St., Newtonville; 418 Main St., Malden, and 280 Main St., Weston.

Sample Dresses

$3.75-$6.75!

Some folks don't know about the New York Dress Mfg. Co.—but the "wise shopper" knows about this shop that specializes in sample dresses —and sells them to you retail at wholesale prices and less. Just two prices, only $3.75 and $6.75! Made to sell for three or four times as much! Sizes 12 to 50 including half sizes. Thousands of dresses to choose from. Here is all the very newest styles and materials. Plenty of junior misses' sizes—all adorable styles. If you can duplicate any of these dresses elsewhere at the same price you'll be rewarded with the dress free of charge! Plenty of salesgirls to assist you—20 private dressing rooms. Every day is bargain day at the New York Dress Mfg. Co., 515 Washington St., 2nd floor (near West St.). This is their only store.



It's Money in Your Pocket

when you buy your fur coat at Scott Furriers, New England's Largest Fur Establishment. Yes, indeed—for they are having their Annual Markdown Sale! And this is their greatest Annual Sale—for it's one markdown after another. Scott Furriers, for the first time in their history, held a markdown sale in December—And these already low prices were reduced still further for January. The coats are the last word in style—and you may be sure the fur is dependable because Scott Furriers buy from only the most reputable manufacturers in America! Prices are $65—$75—$85—$95—$125 and up. Reg. $60.50 cloth coats have been reduced to $37.50. Other cloth coats at $25—$46 and up. Remember—you don't have to pay cash at Scott Furriers—Join the Scott Unique Fur Club, the only one in New England, by making a small payment, and take your purchases home with you! No delay—No investigation—No inconvenience. If you prefer, you may open a charge account or pay cash. Scott Furriers' New England stores are located at 69 Summer st., Boston; 209 Westminster St., Providence; 51 Pratt St., Hartford.—at "the sign of the climbing leopard." Scott Furriers are open evenings until 9 o'clock.

Better Than Sleeping Drowsily in the Sun is lounging, lazily in the most heavenly easy chair receiving a Nina Facial! Just as it's done in Paris! Anne, I had one at Filene's Beauty Shop—and oh!—how can I describe it! I haven't come back to earth yet. When you sink into a downy chair—lavender sheets are wrapped about you—and the light, feathery touch of the skilled operator applies a cleanser good enough to eat—then pure vegetable oils delicately perfumed—After this all the lights are put out—you're told to rest. It's an utterly delightful sensation! An "It's-good-to-be-alive" feeling! Your skin will feel as smooth as a rose petal—fired lines and "Party lines" under the eyes disappear! Throat and face muscles tighten—crow's feet and wrinkles melt away! You'll feel delightfully refreshed and that unhappy, drawn feeling—unconsciously caused by the pace of the modern treadmill — is smoothed away. The Nina French facial—one hour, is only $3.50. Six treatments, $15. Nina French bleach pack or wonderful oil pack—one hour, $5—Six treatments, $25. Nina French astringent facial—This is marvelous for the woman who begins to notice sagging muscles at chin. One and one-half hours, $8—Six treatments, $40. The preparations used are Madame Nina's famous creations—and what incomparable preparations they are! Phone for appointments, Hancock 3800. Filene's Beauty Shop is on the street floor balcony.

"Is It Magic

that makes our Peggy's figure so slender of late?" Not magic, dear; but just because she is wearing a wonderful reducing corset fashioned by "The Silhouette" shop. Her figure which needed moulding and uplifting, now feels supported and smart in this back-laced model reducing corset. And it's only $3.50! To be convinced you've only to try one on to see how comfortable it feels and how well it moulds your hips. There's a specially designed brassiere, $1.50. It's separate—and it can't creep up! They specialize in fitting the extra size figure. For the very youthful figure they have three types of girdles priced from $1.50 to $2.50. Brassieres to match $1, and $1.25! Repairing, altering and cleaning at reasonable prices. Special attention to surgical work by a registered corsetiere. If you can't visit "The Silhouette," 80 Boylston St., Room 523, telephone Lib. 2104 and a representative will call on you without charge.

Cleansing 75c!

Now is the time for a mid-winter clean up, Anne! Just pack up all your soiled things and take them to any of the Howard Inc. Cleansers & Dyers Shops or where they do such excellent cleansing for only 75c! Joy's closet is just bulging with spic and span things just returned from the dyers. They actually restore lost life and lustre to your clothes. Each garment receives individual attention and is sterilized as it is cleansed in their own large and sanitary plant. Parcel post packages receive prompt attention. The Universal Cleansers & Dyers, have three town shops—8 Winter St., Room 518; 32 Province St., near City Hall, and 600 Washington St., street floor. Other stores are at 646 Blue Hill Ave., Dorchester; 229 Dudley St., Roxbury; 1054 Mass. Ave., Cambridge, and 322 Harvard St., Allston.

THE LAST MILE

By Lewis Allen Browne

CHAPTER 43

[illegible] Mears let Kirby out of his cell [illegible]'s want up to Eddie [illegible]

"All right, Eddie—you may can that 'Hol-mes' gag line now—you don't have to pretend you're nuts," Mears said as he unlocked the cell door.

Organizing

"Hol-mes!" Werner moaned, creeping away back in his cell.

"Come on, you're gonna be free, Eddie!"

"Hol-mes!"

Mears looked at the others.

"It's th' real go 6s—he's batty as hell. Guess I'l etter lock his cell—keep him out from under foot."

Mears did so.

"Now you boys listen and do what I say. We got to have guns, and bullets, get me?"

"Sure, send out and buy some—"

Killer Mears wheeled on D'Amoro.

"Either you're with me and do as I say or I lock you up to try, later."

"All right, boss."

"We'll take iron stools and stay back of th' door in th' guard room. When the big shift and extras come, we'll knock 'em out get their guns and ammunition, hold 'em prisoners and then talk terms with th' Warden."

"What terms?" Kirby asked.

"Depends, don't know—except that it's freedom we are gonna have or die fightin' which is a sight better than to die frvin'."

He looked at Drake's watch, then opened the door to the guard room.

"Tom," he said to D'Amoro, "get in there under that table—nobody can come in on us. Kirby, go to th' green door. If anybody tries to open it, bash 'em with an iron stool."

"Right—it begins to look good, Mears."

"Boss, I's a swell basher," Jackson said, brandishing his iron stool.

"You'll help me, Black Boy—you're a man's man. We'll take 'em, Mayor, watch those windows. If anyone tries to run ladders up to shoot in, smash 'em. You'll get a gun if all goes well, and you can plug 'em."

"Drake's settin' up, boss," Jackson said.

"Go in and handcuff him with his own irons, if he starts to fight, cuff his arms down, rock him to sleep again."

"Boss, that's my moo' enjoyment since I come here."

Jackson did as told. He must have given Drake a pretty good rock, for he keeled over again, and Jackson handcuffed him.

Killer Mears went in and took away Drake's extra clips of cartridges. He glanced at his wrist watch.

"Time's up—they'll be here any minute, get set on that door—Tom, remember—everybody do as I say or I won't be responsible—we ain't gonna lose this fight."

Mears in Command

They gathered about the guard room door and waited.

Killer Mears put his finger to his lips and held his gun ready. Jackson poised his iron stool.

Steps and faint voices were heard, and then they could hear the big key in the lock. In another second all of those extra guards would step into the trap.

Back of that outer guard room door stood Guards O'Flaherty, Peddie and Harris. Also Head Keeper Callahan and Father O'Connors. And coming up behind them were two guards.

Harris opened the door and Peddie stepped in first. He got a crack from Jackson's iron stool that floored him. Killer Mears half-stunned Peddie. Jackson yanked Callahan in so swiftly that he fell on his face. Harris opened fire.

Sunny Jackson fell, just as Tom D'Amoro leaped out and started bolting the door.

Killer Mears knocked Harris senseless as he fired the third shot.

Father O'Connors could have leaped back, but with the bravery of his cloth he stepped inside amid the shooting and the slugging.

His one idea was to try and talk sense into these doomed boys who were only making matters worse.

D'Amoro helped Mears.

Father O'Connors was not armed or provided with keys. He was not molested.

The guns, ammunition, keys, money and matches were taken from all of the others. They were brought into the death house from that small guard room.

Mears stopped to look at the black giant, Sunny Jackson. A bullet had crashed through his brain and he was dead at that moment.

They locked the inner door.

Mayor came from the window. Kirby from the green door.

Now there were but four of them, with Jackson dead and Werner locked in his cell, moaning, "Hol-mes."

"Lock Harris, Peddie and O'Flaherty in a cell," Mears ordered Kirby.

Head Keeper Callahan came out of his daze.

Mears had slipped handcuffs on him, one on his wrist and one on Fr. O'Connors.

"Boys, you are crazy—this must stop—in Christ's name this must stop," Fr. O'Connors cried out to them.

"Can it—I got no time for sermons," Mears growled.

Callahan sat up and glared at Mears.

"Put down that gun, you fool—take these irons off me, do you hear?" Callahan shouted, with an attempt at intimidating the men.

But the cruel, pompous headkeeper, Callahan, boss of the death house guards, found that there was a considerable difference between intimidating men unarmed and locked up when you are armed, and trying it when the men are free, armed and you are handcuffed.

Mears paid no attention to him.

"Obey me—at once—I'll have you in a straitjacket in an hour, in solitary—I'll have the hose on you, too!" he bellowed.

"Easy, be persuasive," Fr. O'Connors whispered, for he knew the value of diplomacy.

Mears walked up to Callahan and stared at him.

"Shut your trap or I'll drill you, you swelled-up yellow hunk of cheese," he said.

Mears made a motion as if to sock him and Callahan cringed.

The side of his face hurt where he was yanked over and fell on it.

Mears had a wound on his cheek where a bullet grazed it. Guards Peddie and Harris had slight cuts.

Kirby, D'Amoro and Mayor looked at Mears for instructions.

He dealt out guns to them and divided the ammunition.

"Remember, we fight to the last ditch, and save one bullet for ourselves—before we'll let those guys put us in the chair!"

"You bet," Kirby now agreed.

"Now, D'Amoro, Mayor, get something and smash the bars out of the window in seven. I gotta have one window clear. Get something—don't stand, we got to work fast, only a few hours before ours.

"I saw an axe on th' wall in that guard room," Mayor said.

"Atta boy, Mayor. Here's the keys, go get that axe. It's a fire axe and there'll be a sledge hammer with it. Get paper and pencils, too, and any guns or ammunition or other weapons there."

Mayor went into the guard room. Father O'Connors turned to Mears.

Desperate

"Man, man you don't realize what you are doing. The law is stronger than any humans—"

"Shut up! I'm sick of you laws."

"You have no right—"

"And they got no right to burn us. Th' law is powerful when it's on top. I'm on top now. I'm sit th' law in this death house from now on, until we get our terms."

"Boys, Father O'Connors is right," O'Flaherty called out from the cell where he had been locked. "I'm an old man, the oldest guard here, I've seen much. This won't get you anything except more hell and misery—"

"Cut that, O'Flaherty—we ain't got nothin' against you except the rotten job you have— you've been white—but shut your——mouth now—we're desperate—we're gonna make terms and get outa here—"

"Mears—you are crazy—you can't make terms—the warden can't make terms, be reasonable," Father O'Connors begged.

Killer Mears didn't heed him.

Drake groaned and came out of his daze from poor Sunny Jackson's blow.

"For God's sake—they gut everybody here?" he asked.

"You're a helluva guard," Callahan called, "letting them out like this—you'll get 20 years—"

"Mears done it—I fell against his door," Drake lied.

Mayor came in with an axe, sledge, steel paper knife and paper and pencils.

"Listen—hell's broke loose!" Mears said.

To Be Continued

Russians Form Cult to Cannonize Ex-Tsar

Paris, Jan. 12 (INS)—Russian refugees have formed a cult for the purpose of making the ill-fated Tsar Nicholas II a saint, it was learned by International News Service today. If these fervents have their way the beloved image of the executed emperor will be given a place of honor in the stained glass windows of orthodox Russian churches throughout the world.

One Complete Treatment for Colds and Headaches

Grove's Laxative BROMO QUININE Tablets do the 4 things necessary to bring quick cold and headache relief.

1st, the quinine checks the cold.
2nd, the quinine reduces the fever.
3rd, the laxative cleanses the system.
4th, another ingredient relieves the headache.

Insist on this complete, balanced prescription and you won't need to take anything else.

GROVE'S... Laxative Bromo Quinine TABLETS

Refuse Remedies Which Give Only Temporary Relief

81 MILLION PAY BOOST FOR U. S. FORCES ASKED

Washington, Jan. 12—U. S. pay increases totaling $81,000,000 for the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Coast Guard and Coast and Geodetic Survey have been recommended to Congress by the Inter-Departmental Pay Board.

Wholesale revision of the pay system for the military and naval establishments as well as their reserve forces is proposed in a report laid before the joint congressional committee, created to make a study of injustices in the pay schedules of the service men.

Senator Reed (R.) of Pennsylvania, chairman of the congressional committee, has called a meeting for this week to consider the recommendations.

$43,000,000 FOR ARMY

For the Army the joint board recommended a readjustment that would add about $43,000,000 to the payroll. The Navy's increase would be $30,600,000, while the Marine Corps would be given an additional $3,500,000, leaving about $4,500,000 for the Coast Guard and coast and geodetic survey.

Both officers and enlisted men would be given a boost in pay. The present system of giving married men special allowances for wives and dependents would be abolished and the principle of equal pay for equal work between married men and bachelors restored.

As evidence of increasing confidence in the safety of airplanes, the board proposes to abolish the 50 per cent increase in pay allowed officers while serving in the air forces and to substitute for it a flat increase of $125 a month, or $1500, for all officers while having that tour of duty, it was learned.

BOOST FOR U-BOAT MEN.

In the place of the flat increase of 25 per cent over base pay for submarine service, the proposal is an extra $6.50 a month or $780 a year for service in these hazardous ships.

The Inter-departmental Board recommended the following pay for officers in the Army and Navy:

General and admiral, $14,000 a year, plus a special allowance of $3000; lieutenant general, vice admiral, $9000, plus $1500 special allowance; major general, rear admiral (upper half) $14,000; brigadier general, rear admiral (lower half), $12,000.

Colonel in army, captain in navy, $10,000; lieutenant-colonel, commander, $8500; major, lieutenant-commander, $7000; captain in army, lieutenant in navy, $5500; first lieutenant, lieutenant (junior grade), $4000; second lieutenant, ensign, $2500.

$500 A YEAR INCREASES

After five years of service in the grade, colonels, lieutenant-colonels, majors, captains and first lieutenants would receive an increase of $500 a year in pay. Second lieutenants and ensigns automatically are promoted to the next higher grade after three years of service.

A revision in the amount of money paid by officers for rent while using government property as living quarters also was recommended.

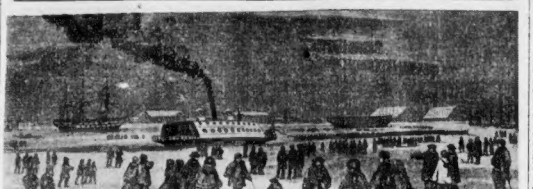
This payment ranges from $1800 a year for the ranking officers down to $500 for second lieutenants and ensigns.

Canteens Feed 150,000 in Welsh Coal Strike

Cardiff, Wales, Jan. 12 (AP)—Relief canteens are beginning to dot the Welsh valley, where the weekly pay nvelopes of 150,000 miners now have been missing on two pay days because of the strike.

There has been a flood of applications for assistance from women and children in distress. No adequate funds are available to aid the men during the strike and unless decisions in the pending test cases differ from precedent they will not be granted a dole.

In Old Boston—No. 456



SOME OLD GENTLEMEN AND LADIES, too, in their eighties can tell you of the hard winter of 1856-57 when crossing to East Boston was done by ice and not, as today, by ferryboat and tunnel. They had a ferryboat that winter but at the time this picture was made it was so badly frozen in that its paddles were wrecked. After a channel was cut, a crew hauled the boat across the harbor.

TOMORROW—Boylston Market.

Clip Here and Save

RADIO SALES OF $500,000,000

Washington, Jan. 12 (INS)—Retail sales of radio sets and equipment probably exceeded $500,000,000 during 1930 in spite of the business depression, Bond Geddes, executive head of the Radio Manufacturers' Association, said today.

This was a sharp reduction from the $835,000,000 value of the sale of radio products in 1929, but manufacturers during the year materially reduced their excessive inventories and are prepared to go into the new year with most sections of the industry in fairly favorable positions.

It is anticipated that during 1931 there may be a considerable production of superheterodyne radio receivers, the Radio Corporation of American having sometime ago released on a royalty basis the right to build sets with this particular hookup.

Sore throats Quickly relieved by rubbing on 25 24 VICKS VAPORUB

OVER 17 MILLION JARS USED YEARLY

BRAZIL HONORS ITALIAN FLIERS

Bahia, Brazil, Jan. 12 (AP)—The Italian airmen, led by Gen. Italo Balbo, air minister, who crossed the Atlantic last week from Africa, were honored guests of the government and Italian colony here today as their seaplanes swung at anchor in the harbor. They arrived here yesterday from Natal.

Tomorrow or the next day the planes will continue down the Brazilian cost to Rio de Janeiro and probably end their 7000-mile transatlantic flight from Orbetello, Italy.

$4.00 STATE ROOMS $1.00 UP BOSTON TO NEW YORK via COLONIAL LINE

Orchestra and Dancing 1 Hour Ride Includes berth in cabin 1 Last run, train from South Sta. 5.30 p. m., or motor coach from Union Coach Term., 3 Eastman St., 6.45 p. m. Steamer Pier Providence 7 p. m.

COLONIAL LINE 1 State St., Boston Phone Hancock 4433

Gilchrist's Bargain Basement

Another Great 75c Day

Tuesday at 9—Sensational Savings in a Basement Wide Event!

Women's Sweaters 75c
V or crew neck; rayon and wool. Solid colors or fancy patterns. Some seconds.

Felt Hats 75c
All the desirable colors and styles, for miss or matron.

Flannelette (cotton) Gowns 2 for 75c
For women, full cut. Double yoke front.
Flannelette Pajamas 2-Piece style 75c

Silk Lingerie 75c
Dance Sets, Step-ins. Heavy quality crepe de chine, lace trimmed.

Porto Rican Gowns 2 for 75c
Full cut, hand embroidered in contrasting colors.

Apron Dresses 2 for 75c
Attractively styled dainty print dresses in regular sizes.

Women's Underwear 2 for 75c
Rayon vests and bloomers, also medium weight union suits. Sizes 36 to 44.

Corsettes or Girdles 75c
Heavy quality cotton brocades. Samples, one-of-a-kind.

Just 350 Women's Print Dresses 75c
Also some Extra Sizes
Fashionable print dresses in rayon and cotton. Some seconds. Also Prints in high lustre that looks like silk. Dark background prints.

Five Piece Curtain Sets Cottage Sets Fringed Panels 2 for 75c
Curtain sets, muslins, voiles, all with colored valances. Some fine scrims in the lot. All sunfast and tubfast. Marquisette panel with fringed ends.

Boys' Blouses 2 for 75c
Full cut cotton broadcloths, fancy patterns. Sizes 8 to 16 years in the lot.
Boys' Knickers 75c
Smart mixtures, for dress or play. Full cut, fully lined. Sizes 8 to 16 years.
Boys' Sweaters
Crew or V neck, slipon style. Sizes 28 to 36. 75c

Infants' and Tots' Wear 2 for 75c
Seconds, Odd Lots
Tots' Bloomer Dresses
Tots' Chinchilla Hats (fabrics)
Broadcloth Creepers (cottons)
Infants' Nainsook Dresses
Little Boys' Suits
75c
Tots' Sample Dresses
Little Boys' Suits
Hand Made Sacques
Girls' Slip-on Sweaters
Infants' Warm Shirts 4 for 75c

Smart Wash Dresses 2 for 75c
Women's and Misses'
Gay flowered prints and tweed prints. Bright pipings, pleated skirts. Some seconds.

Some seconds, odd lots
Women's and Children's Shoes 75c
WOMEN'S novelty shoes in oxfords, ties and pumps. Patent leather, satin, velvet and suede. Sizes 3 to 7.
CHILDREN'S tan or black leather boots or oxfords. Composition or leather soles. Sizes 8½ to 2 in lot.
Women's Cuff Gaiters (2nds) 75c

Men's Shirts 2 for 75c
Just 300. Seconds. Fancies and plain colors. Collar attached styles.
Men's Sweaters
Sleeveless style, warm and practical. Good choice of colors. 75c
Men's Shirts
Cotton broadcloth, collar attached style. Excellent variety from which to choose. 75c

Big Girls' Wash Dresses 2 for 75c
Gay and attractive chintz print dresses, daintily trimmed. Some with bloomers. Sizes 7 to 14 years in lot.
Girls' Raincoats 75c
Rubberized mixtures and covert cloth, all-around belts. Sizes 7 to 14 years. Some seconds.
Girls' Blouses 2 for 75c
Cotton Broadcloth and Print blouses. Sizes 7 to 14.
Girls' Wash Frocks 75c
Printed cotton piques with contrasting blouses. Novel prints. Sizes 7 to 14 years.

Pure Silk Stockings Full Fashioned 2 prs. 75c
2-3 of the lot are first quality. Wanted shades. 4-inch lisle garter top. Also some seconds of other brands.
Women's Stockings 4 for 75c
Silk and rayon to the top. Lisle reinforced. Seconds.
Sport Anklets 6 prs. 75c

Men's Pants 75c
Dark, serviceable mixtures. Cut full. Sizes 29 to 42. Some seconds.
Men's Pajamas 75c
Cotton flannelette pajamas. Cut full, serviceable and warm.
Boys' Sox 4 prs. 75c
⅞ length; novelty heather mixtures. Seconds.
Smart Handbags 75c
Pouch or envelope styles. Some with imitation crystal.
Women's Rayon Undies 2 for 75c
Women's panties, bloomers, vests and stepins.
End Table 75c
Mahogany finish. Sturdily made. Good looking.

NO MAIL OR TELEPHONE ORDERS

Advertisement

"KLUTCH" HOLDS FALSE TEETH TIGHT

Klutch forms a comfort cushion; holds the plate so snug it can't rock, drop, chafe or "be played with."

You can eat and speak as well as you did with your own teeth. A 50c box gives three months of unbelievable comfort. At all druggists.—Adv.

'JACK DAW'S STRUT' IS CONSTANCE BENNETT'S FIRST WARNERS' PICTURE

STAR SIGNS CONTRACT IN EAST

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
Motion Picture Editor Universal Service

Copyright, 1931, by Universal Service

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 12—The story out of New York that Constance Bennett signed with Warner Brothers was no surprise in Hollywood. We all knew Connie was dickering with Jack Warner but we were asked to keep the secret until the papers were signed.

Miss Bennett's contract with Pathe gives her permission to make pictures for other companies. Smart girl, Connie. She has the protection of a company back of her and the privilege of free-lancing and profiting her own stories. Her first is "Jack Daw's Strut," one of the new books and Warners say one of the best sellers. I haven't read the story yet but in the telling it sounds as if it might be a typical Bennett vehicle.

Louella O. Parsons

The author, Harriett Henry, pictures a sophisticated girl who rises from poverty to riches. Charles Kenyon and Raymond Griffith are doing the adaptation and dialogue. I call it a good strike on the part of Warners to strike while the iron is hot for at the moment the name of Constance Bennett is a winner at the box office.

* * *

SALLY EILERS and Hoot Gibson have separated. Baby Jane so herself. Not a divorce court but a vaudeville contract in New York for Hoot and a picture in Hollywood for Sally and, adds Sally, "When a girl marries and happens to be in love with her husband, it's a tough break to be away from him." Sally admits she is lonesome and Hoot wires the same thing, but jobs are scarce and when the Fox company paged her to play the feminine lead in "The Sky Line" opposite Spencer Tracy she took the first train home and here she is, looking as if the trip to New York with Hoot has done her a lot of good. Hoot returns late in the spring.

* * *

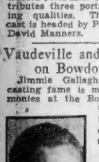
SNAPSHOTS OF Hollywood collected at random: Jack Benny spying LEW CODY, making up a headline about him. BLANCHE SWEED and MICKEY KEATON quietly dining together. COLLEEN MOORE in a pink dress with coral necklace, entertaining a group of friends at dinner. AL SCOTT of New York, guest of honor. COLLEEN MOORE starting something new by serving the food in the kitchen and having the guests help themselves. ADELA ROGERS HYLAND in black at the party. BEBE DANIELS in white. DOLLY ROCKETT in black. DIANA FITZMURICE in black. BESSIE LOVE and others of our Hollywood bridge players among those present. MIKE LEWIS playing the piano. EVELYN BRENT dressed in uniform, lunching at the Embassy. SID GRAUMAN and MOSS HART at Stark's Restaurant. That's all today. See you tomorrow!

RUTH STARSON TWO SCREENS

Ruth Chatterton, in "The Right to Love," is the feature film attraction at the Fenway and Scollay. The star is seen in three distinct roles. At the beginning she is cast as Ruth Kellogg, a young, lovely and courageous girl to whom love is a fleeting joy and a life of sorrow. Then Miss Chatterton plays as an old lady and finally interprets the role of Naomi's impulsive daughter, Brook. In these widely contrasted roles Miss Chatterton contributes three portrayals of lasting qualities. The supporting cast is headed by Paul Lukas and David Manners.

Vaudeville and Films on Bowdoin Program

Jimmie Gallagher of broadcasting fame is master of ceremonies at the Bowdoin Square this week. * *



Jimmie Gallagher

The first half of the week there are seven acts of vaudeville with the 3 Dolan-De Petro Girls as the feature. One of the film offerings is "Six Takes a Boyfriend." Another film on the bill is "Just Imagine" with El Brendel and Maureen O'Sullivan. Lanoi and Hardy will be seen in "Another Fine Mess." Wednesday is Cabaret night. For the last half of the week the features will be "Big Money" and "The Lottery Bride."

Her's

NATALIE MOORHEAD AND VICTOR VARCONI

THIS SCENE is from "Captain Thunder," which is on the screen at the Park.

BOY VIOLINIST TRIUMPHS IN PREMIERE

By MOSES SMITH

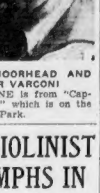
Yehudi Menuhin, young violinist who played at Symphony Hall yesterday for the first time in Boston has been hailed elsewhere—both in Europe and America—with such superlatives that the anticipating listener was almost certain to expect too much and to be disappointed.

Menuhin had no sooner played a few pages of the Mozart B-flat major Sonata, however, than we realized the justness of these superlatives. Here is one sensation who has not been over-rated. Here is not only a phenomenal prodigy—the superlatives escape, despite our resolution to avoid them—but a great artist and musician.

In a program comparatively free from frills he revealed such artistic stature that it would be an insult to write of his technical equipment, its dazzling clarity, the beauty of his bowing, the warmth and volume of his tone, his harmonics of unearthly perfection in the Moszkowski Sarasate "Guitarre." But we will go on insulting him with such phrases as "masterly attack," "perfect intonation" and "most lexible and subtle vibrato."

Mechanically there were no flaws—and this is saying much of any violinist. What was more astonishing was the musical maturity of this boy not yet 14. As he played the Mozart Sonata, the Bach Partita in E major for violin alone, the Viotti Concerto in A minor, one heard and noted all the things that make a great artist—seriousness of purpose, desire to express the music, not one's self, an intimate association of the performer with the music, so that the music becomes language and speech.

There are many, many more things to be said of this lad, but our heart is too full. We can only express our regret that, though the audience was large, it did not fill the hall, and though it was enthusiastic, it did not shout or weep for joy.



Yehudi Menuhin

Witek Soloist of People's Symphony

Anton Witek, former concertmaster of the Boston Symphony Orchestra under the regime of Karl Muck, was the soloist at the concert of the People's Symphony Orchestra in Jordan Hall yesterday. He played the solo part of Beethoven's violin concerto and was warmly greeted by a large audience.

Amusements

TREMONT $2 MAT. WED., 2:15
All Nights at $1 to $2. Wed. Mat. $2
SUBSCRIBE AND SAVE
BEGINS TONIGHT—2 WKS. ONLY
The Theatre Guild, Inc., Presents
A MONTH IN THE COUNTRY with MME. ALLA NAZIMOVA, KARLE LARIMORE, HENRY TRAVERS, CECIL YAPP, EDWARD ARNOLD and OTHERS

COLONIAL $1.50 Mat. Wed.
628 LAUGHS
STRICTLY DISHONORABLE
BROCK PEMBERTON presents
MADE THE WORLD HAPPIER
EASY PRICES: NIGHTS 50c to $2.50
NO HOT 50c-$1.50—SAT. HOT 50c-$2

BOWDOIN 7 Vaudeville Acts
CONSTANCE BENNETT in "SIX TAKES A HOLIDAY"
"JUST IMAGINE" with EL BRENDEL
Com. Thurs.—"BIG MONEY"—"LOTTERY BRIDE"
All Next Week—Jimmy Duran Dance Contest, Amos 'n' Andy

FILM BY BOSTON MAN IS THRILLER FOR BEAUTY

By HARLEIGH SCHULTZ

THROUGH THE COURTESY of a Bostonian who has become a director and producer of motion pictures, and of Manager Ray P. Conner of RKO Keith's theater, we have just enjoyed a magnificent film treat. It was a private showing, and a premiere. The Bostonian is Curtis F. Nagel, son of Mrs. Sarah Nagel of the Jamaicaway, and associate in the Brown-Nagel Productions, at Hollywood.

* * * *

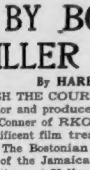
MR. NAGEL HAS produced the finest color picture we have ever seen. It is titled "Honeymoon Land," and was made by him recently in the Hawaiian Islands by a new color process. Returning to America, he came from California by airplane for a visit to his mother, bringing with him his film for showing this week in the New York city. During conversation he showed us a reel, and its intriguing quality as it was held against an ordinary electric bulb caused us to request a sight of it on screen. Manager Conner gladly made the arrangement; so Keith's was the place, shortly after the last regular evening show at that house.

* * *

"HONEYMOON LAND" is only a screen "short," but it so cleverly handled, and so closely mirrors the gorgeous beauties of Pacific Island nature, that it is bound to go over big when distributed commercially. Mr. Nagel has directed and produced lengthier pictures, all giving evidence of the skill which has brought him to the front. But he packs his everything into this short feature, presents his scenic masterpiece with a dramatic touch, and uses his camera with a swing and sweep familiar in the old silent drama. But the color is the chief thing; there is no blurring, no lack of definition. All is sharply toned, so that the harmonies of sea and sky, and the glorious tints of landscape, with gaudy flowers and shrubbery, are marvelously and perfectly presented.

* *

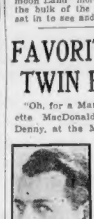
HERE ARE VIEWS which thrill with their wondrous beauty. It is the best of travel pictures; it is the next best thing to the actual travel experience. There is sound; and the voice of Claude Flemming, film actor of the "Unholy Night" and other pictures, who is associated with Mr. Nagel, comes through finely. Mr. Flemming is shown among the Hawaiians. He helps make "Honeymoon Land" more enjoyable than the bulk of the talkies we have sat in to see and hear.



Curtis F. Nagel

FAVORITES AT TWIN HOUSES

"Oh, for a Man" features Jeanette MacDonald and Reginald Denny, at the Modern and Beacon. Miss MacDonald has the role of a succesful prima donna, the toast of the town for her rare beauty and golden voice. She has no time for affairs of the heart, so she says, and then, in the dead of night, her apartment is invaded by a burglar, who seeks her jewels.



Reginald Denny

When the burglar arouses her, she learns that he is an admirer of hers, and has a yearning himself to be a singer. She sighs, "This is the life," and returns to bed and dreams of her new lover. He reforms and wins her.

Mr. Denny plays the burglar. On the same program is "Fighting Thru," featuring Ken Maynard and Jeanette Loff.

OLD MUSIC ON PROGRAM

A concert in which the program is made up almost entirely of compositions never played in Boston before, will be given by the 18th Century Symphony Orchestra in Jordan Hall tonight. Most of the composers lived in the 1700's and two in 1500 and 1600.

L. Boccherini, who is known for his famous Minuet in A, composed the number which will open the program. For the first time, then, music lovers will hear his "Siciliana."

The feature number of the program is the Vivaldi Concerto scored by John Sebastian Bach, for four pianos and orchestra. To the knowledge of Signor Martino, founder of the 18th Century Orchestra, this score has never been played before in America. The four pianists will be Heinrich Gebhard, Constance Morse, Reginald Boardman and Ethel Hutchinson.

Cunningham Will Address Managers

Bill Cunningham, well-known columnist, sports writer and ex-Dartmouth football star, included Hollywood and the movie studios in his recent visit to the West Coast. Interviews were arranged for him and parties given in his honor by many of the more popular stars of the screen, and Bill has a wealth of experiences to relate about the talkies. He has been chosen as the principal speaker at a get-together luncheon of the Allied Theatres of Massachusetts, to be held tomorrow at the Hotel Bradford.

Mary Wigman to Dance in Boston, January 22

Certainly a most significant event of the season in the art of the dance is the visit to America of Mary Wigman. It is announced that the great dancer will appear in Symphony Hall on Thursday evening, January 22. She is a founder of the modern school of dancing, having exerted a profound influence in Germany during the last decade.

Amusements

BOSTON'S THEATRES AND HITS
Direction Lee & J. J. Shubert, Inc.
LYRIC — OPENING TONIGHT
Matinees Wednesday and Saturday
DRACULA
Sensational Vampire Thriller
Nights 50c to $2.00. Mats. 50c, $1.00, $1.50
SHUBERT Beg. Thursday Nights
SUBSCRIBE AND SAVE
JOHANN STRAUSS' OPERETTA
A WONDERFUL NIGHT
150 PEOPLE—GREAT REVOLVING STAGE
All Eves. Nhs to $3. Wed. & Sat. Mats. 50c-$2.50
WILBUR TONIGHT 8:30
MAT. WED. 2:30
SAM H. HARRIS OFFERS YOU
JUNE MOON
with HARRY WOODS and ONE NEW YORK CAST
RING LARDNER GEO. S. KAUFMAN
COMEDY
PLYMOUTH—Eves. 8:30-Mat. Thurs. By Arrangement with Wm. A. Brady
The Professional Players Present
GRACE GEORGE
In "If" by John Emton's Comedy THE FIRST MRS. FRASER with A. E. Matthews and Lawrence Grossmith

Movie Clock

Feature photoplays in the picture theaters and their starting times today are as follows:

SCOLLAY—"The Right to Love"; p. m., 11:45; p. m., 2:50, 6:15, 9:45.

ORPHEUM — "Paid"; a. m., 9:15; p. m., 12:15, 3:30, 6:30, 9:45.

RKO KEITH-BOSTON—"Truth About Youth"; a. m., 10:35; p. m., 1:26, 4:29, 7:30, 10:25.

STATE—"The Royal Family of Broadway"; p. m., 1:40, 3:40, 5:40, 7:40, 9:40.

PARK—"Captain Thunder"; a. m., 10:16; p. m., 1:05, 4, 6:55, 9:45.

BOWDOIN — "Sin Takes a Holiday"; p. m., 12:12, 4:31, 9:46.

STATE—"Reducing"; p. m., 1:20, 3:25, 5:30, 7:35, 9:45.

METROPOLITAN—"The Man Who Came Back"; a. m., 11:16; p. m., 2:05, 4:48, 7:37, 10:31.

BEACON AND MODERN—"Oh! for a Man"; a. m., 10:51; p. m., 1:34, 4:17, 7:05, 9:45.

REPERTORY—"The Loves of Casanova"; p. m., 1, 3, 5, 7, 8.

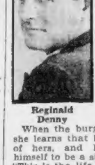
FENWAY—"The Right to Love"; p. m., 1:53, 3:35, 5:35, 7:35, 9:40.

RKO KEITH—"The Criminal Code"; a. m., 9:15, 11:42; p. m., 2:00, 4:36, 7:05, 9:36.

WASHINGTON ST. OLYMPIA —"The Royal Family of Broadway"; a. m., 9:35, 11:55; p. m., 1:55, 3:50, 5:50, 7:50, 9:50.

Blackface Comedian Tops Bill at Scollay

A leading blackface comedian, Al Herman, heads the stage show at the Scollay. This is Mr. Herman's first visit to Boston in over a year. Also of this new show is Lee Gail Ensemble, in a whirlwind dance specialty act, presented by Jean and Lee Gail, assisted by Peggy St. Claire, Benny Nafi and Eddy King. The Chaplon Midgets complete the vaudeville bill.



Jean Gail "Scollayettes" and other turns complete the vaudeville bill.

Amusements

GAYETY
WASH. ST.—Nr. BOYLSTON ST.
Anniversary Week!
A MUTUAL MERRYMAKE
and BIG WELCOME HOME TO FRED BINDER and MIKE SACKS
IN A MUSIC OF JOY
SPEED GIRLS
with MAE DIX and CHORUS OF CHUMMY CHARMERS
A BIG VAUDEVILLE TREAT featuring
RICHARDS-FONZAL & REGAN
DEIGHAN & BALL
REGINA & ARTHUR

LOEW'S STATE
Massachusetts Ave. at Norway St.
Tel. Kenmore 6500
MARIE DRESSLER
& POLLY MORAN in H-E-A-T
"REDUCING" COMEDY NEWS
Stageshow 1:30-3:35-5:40-7:45-9:50

LOEW'S JANUARY FESTIVAL
A MONTH OF GREAT SHOWS
LOEW'S ORPHEUM
NOW—ENDS THURSDAY
JOAN CRAWFORD
in "PAID" KENT DOUGLASS H-E-A-T ROBERT ARMSTRONG
LOEW'S GREATER VAUDEVILLE
PHIL ERNSTEIN'S ORIGINAL DIAMONDS
Other Big Acts

FRANKLIN PARK Adm. 50c
EAST BOSTON 2:30-8:30
DYBBUK
ENGLISH SYNOPSIS OF PLAY FURNISHED

The domestic help problem is solved by taking a fashionable apartment and the best are advertised daily in the For Rent columns.

PARAMOUNT-PUBLIX THEATRES

METROPOLITAN
Drama! Tragedy! Romance! Thrills! Heart Throbs! Pathos!
JANET GAYNOR
CHARLES FARRELL
In
"THE MAN WHO CAME BACK"
Fox Movietone Production
It Grips! It holds! It stirs!
Colorful Publix Revue
"THREE OF A KIND"
SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA
Mariel at the Organ
CHILDREN'S DANCING CLASS
In the Lounge 4:30—5:30
DANCING IN THE LOUNGE

Wicked But Hilarious Fun!
$100,000 For a Sock on the Jaw!
"Cheap!" Says Tony
"The Royal Family of Broadway"
FREDRIC MARCH
ANN HARDING
A Paramount Picture
OLYMPIA UPTOWN
WASH. ST. HUNT. AVE.

MODERN BEACON
Now—"Oh! For a Man!"
Jeanette MacDonald
Reginald Denny
Ken Maynard "Fightin' Thru"

Now—Stirring All Boston!
RUTH CHATTERTON
"The Right to Love"
with PAUL LUKAS
David Manners
A Paramount Drama
FENWAY

SCOLLAY SQ.
BIGGEST SHOW IN TOWN—ONLY!
NOW PLAYING!
RUTH CHATTERTON
in Paramount's Dramatic Smash
"The Right to Love"
with PAUL LUKAS
NEW BIG STAGE SHOW TODAY!
AL HERMAN—Famous Blackface Comic!
LEE GAIL DANCE ENSEMBLE—OTHER GREAT ACTS!

HUSTON FILM HELD OVER AT KEITH'S

"The Criminal Code," the splendid Columbia picture of prison background which features Walter Huston and Phillips Holmes, is in its second week at the RKO Keith's Theater and will continue until Friday, at which time the talkie version of the popular comedy, "Charley's Aunt," will be presented on the Keith screen with Charlie Ruggles in the title role of this yarn, which is all about a chap who dolled up in feminine togs to help out a college chum who needed an aunt in a hurry. Supporting Ruggles is June Collyer and a cast of seasoned stage and screen comedians.

Slim Summerville, furnishing many a laugh in his latest comedy, "Hello, Russia," Pathe News, a spotlight of more than usual interest, and organ music by Louis Weir are other features of the anniversary program at Keith's this week.

Walter Huston

Chesterton in Debate

Gilbert Chesterton and Cosmo Hamilton will debate in Symphony Hall tonight, at 8:30. "Is Divorce a Social Asset?" is their subject.

Amusements

RKO KEITH'S
"THE CRIMINAL CODE"
LAST BIG WEEK
Of Columbia's Thriller
HUSTON PHILLIES HOLMES
"CHARLEY'S AUNT" Screen's Favorite Rotates, Will Soon Be Here!

RKO SECOND ANNIVERSARY
RKO KEITH BOSTON
THE TRUTH ABOUT YOUTH
RKO Vaudeville with EVA PUCK SAM WHITE Others
4—COMPLETE SHOWS DAILY—4

Week's Films

RKO KEITH'S—Walter Huston in "The Criminal Code."

* * *

LOEW'S STATE — Marie Dressler and Polly Moran in "Reducing."

* * *

REPERTORY — "Because I Loved You."

* * *

UPTOWN AND OLYMPIA—Frederic March in "The Royal Family of Broadway."

* * *

METROPOLITAN — Charles Farrell and Janet Gaynor in "The Man Who Came Back."

* * *

LOEW'S ORPHEUM — Joan Crawford in "Paid."

* * *

RKO KEITH BOSTON—Loretta Young and Conway Tearle in "Truth About Youth."

* * *

PARK—Fay Wray in "Captain Thunder."

* * *

MODERN AND BEACON—"Oh! for a Man."

* * *

SCOLLAY AND FENWAY—Ruth Chatterton in "The Right to Love."

KEITH BOSTON OFFERS GALA PROGRAM

Eva Puck and Sammy White, topping another fine RKO stage bill, and Conway Tearle turning in a splendid performance in "Truth About Youth," on screen, are the highlights of the Keith Boston offering this week. The vaudeville is of special excellence. Puck and White are, of course, famous for their work behind the footlights, as in "Show Boat." Their variety act is titled "Bits of Musical Comedy Hits," and they sing and dance in masterly fashion.

These headliners are backed up by other sterling acts. Among them are Evans and Mayer, known to radio fans; Charles T. Aldrich, maker of laughs; Max and Henry Gaudsmith and Thatcher, Deveraux and Adams.

"Truth About Youth" is based upon the stage play, "When We Were Twenty-One," which brings memories of Nat C. Goodwin and Maxine Elliott. William A. Seiter skilfully handles the direction, so that the film prove highly amusing. Mr. Tearle, as the guardian, is superb. David Manners is very good, and Loretta Young is charmingly sweet. Myrna Loy has a cabaret dancer role.

The RKO Keith Boston bill is a thoroughly enjoyable one.

H. S.

Yiddish Players

The Yiddish Players at the Franklin Park Theater in Dorchester will make a feature this week of a revival of the famous Ansky drama, "The Dybbuk."

Amusements

THE OLD HOWARD
Boston's Leading Mutual Burlesque Theatre. Always Something Doing ! Till 11
HINDA WASSAU
"Home Again"—here comes the most fascinating beauty in burlesque. HINDA WASSAU, the baby and dancing wonder who will put all the Johns in a flutter. You'll slide in early this week all right with this peachette on the premises. The wise boys will give everything else the slide and hop into the Old Howard. Just to give you a tingling sensation we'll trot out the famous "JAZZ BABIES" Mutual burlesque produce with Gertrude Ralston, the beauty from Beautiville along with Bert Bertrand, the guy with a funny face and a lot of funny stuff. It's one of the jazziest of the circuit. Get wise up, old kid and slip this show. Always something doing 1 till 11 at the Old Howard.
IT'S A MUTUAL SHOW
HINDA WASSAU (in Person)
"JAZZ BABIES" Burlesque
Gertrude Ralston, Bert Bertrand and Chorus
All roads will lead to the Old Howard this week now that Hinda Wassau is back in town. There will be many a traffic jam. Just to get a peep. Gertrude Ralston and Bert Bertrand will come through.
BOB ARLINGTON—THE EXTEMPORANEOUS COMEDIAN
HOWARD CONTINUOUS FEATURES
CRYSTAL TRIO—PRESENTING "THRILLS AND SPILLS"
Also Pictures that thrill and delight. Always something doing 1 till 11 at the Old Howard.
HINDA WASSAU'S OWN MIDNIGHT SHOW FRIDAY AT 11:30 P. M.

PARK—Another Big TRIPLE BILL
A Warner Bros. Production
"Captain Thunder"
with Fay Wray and Victor Varconi
"THE MIDNIGHT SPECIAL"
with Glenn Tryon-Marna Kennedy

COPLEY Evs. 8:15—Mats. Tues., Thurs., Sat. 2:15
Last 2 Weeks Res. 2200
This Week Next Week
"SOLID SOUTH" "THE RACKET"
A Comedy with ADELYN BUSHNELL

Today at Your Neighborhood Theatre

ALLSTON

PUBLIX ALLSTON — NANCY CARROLL in "LAUGHTER" — GILBERT ROLAND in "Men of the North" — STADIUM 0516

PUBLIX CAPITOL — CONSTANCE BENNETT in "SIX TAKES A HOLIDAY" — EL BRENDEL "Just Imagine" — Myrtle Mattoon

BRIGHTON

PUBLIX EGYPTIAN — BERT LYTELL—PATSY RUTH MILLER in "LAST OF THE LONE WOLF" — Joe Cook-Joan Peers "HIS GLASS SLIPPER" — Mats. 2—Eve. 8 — Stadium 6800

CAMBRIDGE

PUBLIX CENTRAL SQ. — "JUST IMAGINE" EL BRENDEL — Also Buc Beach's "THE SILVER HORDE" — Evelyn Brent-Louis Wolheim — UNI. 0575

PUBLIX HARVARD — John Gilbert-Wallace Beery in "Way for a Sailor" — LOPE VELEZ "EAST IS WEST" — Louis Ayres — HARVARD 0150

PUBLIX UNIVERSITY — CONSTANCE BENNETT in "Six Takes a Holiday" — PORTER 4580 HARVARD 58 — "UP THE RIVER" — SPENCER TRACY

CHARLESTOWN

M. L. NEWS HOLLYWOOD — LADIES' LINEN NITE Low Arms—Low Rate — "EAST IS WEST" — BETTY COMPSON — CHAS. 4100

THOMPSON SQUARE THEATRE — NANCY CARROLL in "LAUGHTER" — Big Bill Variety

DORCHESTER

PUBLIX ODMAN SQ. — AMOS 'N' ANDY in "CHECK AND DOUBLE CHECK" — "Men of the North" with GILBERT ROLAND — Tel. 4040

DORCHESTER — "DOLLEGE LOVERS" with Marion Nixon — also — "Just Like Heaven" Tom'y Ritz—KABARET — Tel. Geneva 9700

PUBLIX FIELDS CORNER — HAROLD LLOYD in "FEET FIRST" — also — WARNER BAXTER in "RENEGADES" — Fields Cor. Sta. Fol. Elev.

REVERE AND CRESCENT GARDENS — "THE GAY CREEPS" with Helen Twelvetrees-Raymond Hackett — "FAST AND LOOSE" with Miriam Hopkins-Carol Lombard

DORCHESTER (Cont.)

PUBLIX MORTON — AMOS 'N' ANDY in "CHECK AND DOUBLE CHECK" — GILBERT ROLAND in "Men of the North" — DOR. 0800

PUBLIX STRAND — CONSTANCE BENNETT "SIX TAKES A HOLIDAY" — "JUST IMAGINE" — UPHAMS COR.

EGLESTON SQ.

The EGLESTON — "NIGHT WORK" EDDIE CANTOR — "THE SEA BAT" Charles Bickford — at Eglesto Sq

PUBLIX PARK RIALTO EVERETT — HAROLD LLOYD in "FEET FIRST" — ANITA LOUISE in "Just Like Heaven"

HYDE PARK

EVERETT SQUARE — El Brendel-Maureen O'Sullivan in "HALF MARRIAGE" — Tom Moore-Lois Lane "The Costello Case" — HYD. 1234

JAMAICA PLAIN

PUBLIX JAMAICA — HAROLD LLOYD in "FEET FIRST" — Alice Lowell Sherman in "THE PAY OFF" — JAM. 3280

MALDEN

CAMARDA MALDEN — Constance Bennett in "Six Takes a Holiday" — DEC. 0300 in "TOP SPEED" — Stuart Art.—"HORROCKS"

STRAND MALDEN — Victor McLaglen in "A Devil With Women" — EDDIE QUILLAN in "BIG MONEY" — Tel. MAL den 3711

MATTAPAN SQ.

PUBLIX ORIENTAL — Constance Bennett "SIX TAKES A HOLIDAY" — "The Silver Horde" Lesh Wellman-Evelyn Brent — ALL. 1200

REVERE

REVERE AND CRESCENT GARDENS — "THE GAY CREEPS" with Helen Twelvetrees-Raymond Hackett — "FAST AND LOOSE" with Miriam Hopkins-Carol Lombard

ROSLINDALE

PUBLIX RIALTO — HAROLD LLOYD in "FEET FIRST" — LOUISE FAZENDA in "THE PAY OFF"

ROXBURY

Publix DUDLEY — Hip. 0041 — "SEE AMERICA THIRST" Harry Langdon—Bessie Love "A Lady's Morals"—Reginald Denny

ROXBURY HUMBOLDT — CAM. 1800 — Anastasia Linen Nita Bradstreet in "HALF MARRIAGE" with OLIVE BORDEN ROSCOE ARBUCKLE in "THE LONE RIDER"

PUBLIX RIVOLI — RIV. 0600 — Constance Bennett "Six Takes a Holiday" EL Brendel "JUST IMAGINE"

SOMERVILLE

PUBLIX SHAWMUT — AMOS 'N' ANDY "Check and Double Check" "COSTELLO CASE" with Tom Moore — On the Stage, BILLY BRYED and Burnsides Contest — Sar. 1370

CAPITOL BROADWAY — JOE E. BROWN "TOP SPEED" "Men of the North" Wanted Fulton Sisters — Som. 2700

SOUTH BOSTON

BROADWAY SO. BOSTON — "BROTHERS" with Bert Lytell "FAST AND LOOSE"

SOUTH STRAND BOSTON — GEO. BANCROFT "DERELICT" — "EXTRAVAGANCE" Jean Calhoun-Lloyd Hughes

SOUTH END

NATIONAL THEATRE TREMONT ST. — RONALD COLMAN "RAFFLES" — Lois Wilson "THE DANCERS" — Cabaret Nite—2 Stage Acts

WALTHAM

PUBLIX EMBASSY WALTHAM — MARIE DRESSLER in "MIN AND BILL" — LEWELL SHERMAN in "He Knew Women" — Free Auto Park — Wal. 3800

News and Gossip of Society Circles and Current Women's Club Events

Beacon Hill Dance Gala Event

Sub-Debutantes and Harvard Freshmen Entertained at Party in Club

THE BEACON HILL dance which was held Saturday night at the Women's Republican Club for the sub-debutantes, many of whom are Winsor school girls, was a gay party. A number of Harvard freshmen served as ushers. Next year's group will be lovelier and perhaps livelier then 1931 if stocks come back. This year the parties, with a few exceptions, have been small and intimate and on the whole the winter has not been a busy one socially.

WE SAW MISS CARNZU CLARKE, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. George O. Clarke, at the dance, and Francesca Layton, Betty Cram, Jane Bancroft, Polly Gregory, Mary Morison, Barbara Bassett, Eliza Bowditch, Joan Linzee, Beatrice de Menocal, Harriet Moseley, Nancy Ladd, Carita Bartlett, Dorothy Forbes, Linda Collens, Dodo Dean, Lucy Rantoul and Julia Jenkins. We hear that already the fond mothers of these future debutantes are gathering in the coveted bids for the Junior League and Vincent Club. Ruby Newman's orchestra played for the dancing, in fact, Mr. Newman's popular players have contributed much to the enjoyment of parties this season.

MRS. LYMAN EASS, WHO IS the daughter of Mrs. Charles Sumner Bird, gave a dinner and theater party Saturday evening for her young daughter.

MR. AND MRS. MALCOLM FRENCH are on a trip to the West Indies. They sailed on the Carinthia and will return in about three weeks. Mrs. French is president of the Charlotte Cushman Club.

MISS HARRIET FULLER, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert E. Fuller of Mt. Vernon st., gave a dinner and theater party Saturday night. Among the guests were the Misses Barbara Young, Caroline Hunnewell, Devens Hamlen, Anne Warren, Avery Sawyer, Susan Brewer, Ben Tickner, Barbara Richardson and Arthur Hugeley.

Mrs. J. J. Phelan to Entertain for Miss Jane Brown

MISS JANE BROWN, DAUGHTER of Mr. and Mrs. Walter A. Brown, will have a luncheon given in her honor by Mrs. James J. Phelan at her home in Brookline on Wednesday, January 21. Miss Brown is a debutante of this season, and is a provisional member of the Junior League.

MISS POLLY THAYER'S EXHIBITION of portraits at Doll and Richards is well worth a visit. She is the daughter of Mrs. James B. Thayer. Among her oils is a picture of her mother, two self-portraits and a beautiful study which took a prize in Paris. Miss Thayer made her debut a few seasons ago and has devoted herself to her art, studying for several seasons abroad.

OF BOSTON INTEREST IS the engagement of Miss Constance Hall, daughter of Mr. and

Advertisement

A Man's White Hands Taught Us This Secret

For many years the assistants in one of the laboratories of the E. L. Patch Company of Boston, Mass., had smooth, white hands, even in the winter. Investigation showed that these assistants whose hands were smooth and white were handling sea moss jelly, a soft, soothing substance, which, tests disclosed, had remarkable properties for the care of the skin.

This led to the formulation of Nepto Lotion, a combination of sea moss and glycerin. A few drops of Nepto Lotion rubbed into any dry, rough or red skin makes it soft, smooth and white. Women who use soap and water on their face and hands should rub in a little Nepto Lotion after washing. It restores the freshness and suppleness that soap and water take out of the skin. Women who do their own housework will find Nepto Lotion a dandy way to keep their hands from showing it. Besides whitening and softening the skin, Nepto Lotion relieves and prevents chapping, chafing, sunburn and windburn. A few drops rubbed into your skin before going out protects it from the withering effects of sun and wind. Nepto Lotion is a naturally good thing for any skin and can do no harm whatever. Contains no grease to clog the pores and catch dirt. Rubs in dry and smooth so you can powder over it. The cost is only 50c a bottle at any first-class drug or department store and as you only have to use a very little at a time, a bottle goes very far.

At Benefit for Hospital

MR. JOHN AMES JR., son of Dr. and Mrs. John L. Ames of Chestnut st., and Miss Nancy Olney, post-debutante daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Olney of Fairfield st., were among the merrymakers at the Vincent Memorial Hospital dance at the Hotel Somerset.

Mrs. Sydney Hall of Baltimore, to Mr. Thomas White Proctor, Jr., son of Mr. Thomas White Proctor and the late Mrs. Proctor of Boston. Miss Hall is a graduate of Bryn Mawr. She made her debut at the Bachelor's Cotillon in Baltimore a few seasons ago, and has two sisters, Miss Anne and Miss Dorothy Hall. Mr. Proctor is a graduate of Dartmouth and Massachusetts Institute of Technology. The date for the wedding has not been announced.

Betty Alden

Secretary of Labor Doak to Address Federation

By NANCY BREWSTER

Secretary of Labor William N. Doak is scheduled to be the principal speaker at the annual mid-winter meeting of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs to be held on Thursday, January 22, at the Hotel Statler.

The new Labor Secretary will discuss the employment situation and will tell members of the federation of the workings of his department.

The West Roxbury Woman's Club, under the leadership of Mrs. William O. B. Little, will celebrate the 20th anniversary of its founding by acting as hostess club. Mrs. Little will extend greetings and she will be attended by her page, Mrs. Charles F. Koopman.

50 HOSTESSES

Arrangements for the luncheon have been made by Mrs. Norman H. Hastings, chairman of the American home committee. Fifty members of the club will serve as hostesses.

The hostesses will be Mesdames Albert E. Clark, Howard K. Alden, W. Howard Banks, Howard K. Foster, Roberta B. Fergie, Franklin C. Jillson, Herbert H. Page, G. Clifton Watts, Lester A. Mazoon, Frederick A. Lovejoy, Henry B. Stevens, William B. Brophy, William A. Alexander, Joseph D. Pearson and J. Fruter Cole.

Other members of the West Roxbury Woman's Club who will serve as hostesses will be Mesdames Frederick E. Atwood, Harold F. Ricker, William H. Banks, Jr., Alonzo G. Howard, Alvar W. Polk, Edwin J. Evans, Ralph E. Curtis, Nelson I. Mixer, Adolph Ehrenzeller, Sidney J. True, Ernest R. Springer, William J. Covill, Harold A. Kent, Nehemiah B. Kelley, Robert T. Fowler, Harold H. Martin and Herbert L. Hammond.

OTHER HOSTESSES

Other hostesses will be the Misses Florence W. Davis, Sarah B. Libby and Nora A. Brophy.

Past president of the organization will sit at the head table, Mrs. Walter G. Newell, founder of the West Roxbury Women's Club, will be an honored guest.

For by a committee headed by Miss Sarah S. Libby.

St. Vincent's Orphan Guild to Install New Officers Today

Newly elected officers of St. Vincent's Orphan Guild will be installed this afternoon at a meeting of that organization at the home in Gayette rd., North Cambridge.

The regular weekly bridge of the Guild will be held tomorrow at St. Rose hall, Worcester st., Boston. The proceeds of these weekly card parties go to aid the Guild's philanthropy. Mrs. Joseph Eichorn is president of this organization.

National Civic Federation Tea and Meeting Today

A meeting and tea under the auspices of the legislative committee of the National Civic Federation will be held today at 2 p. m. at the Copley-Plaza Hotel.

Mrs. Joseph W. Attwill, chairman of the committee, will preside and introduce speakers who will present their views on pending legislation.

Five state bills to be discussed are: An act to promote the cure, alleviation and prevention of rheumatism; a bill for amending the present automobile insurance law; a bill on lewa relative to children; the pre-primary convention bill, and the doctors' bill to clarify the law. A federal measure on immigration will be discussed.

Paravent Players Present Plays for Women's City Club

The Paravent Players of Providence, prize winning theatrical group, will present two plays under the auspices of the Women's City Club tonight at the Fine Arts Theater.

"Apache," a Hungarian play, will open the performance. "Behind a Watteau Picture," a fantasy written by Prof. Robert E. Rogers of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, will conclude the bill.

Ladies' Catholic Club of Boston to Hold Bridge Party

The Ladies' Catholic Club of Boston has resumed its weekly bridge and whist parties to aid their philanthropy, a settlement house for the protection of young girls.

Dr. Mary Malloy and Mrs. John J. Garland will be hostesses for the first of these parties to be held tonight at the clubhouse, 18 East Brookline st., Boston.

Rt. Rev. Msgr. Michael J. Splaine, D. D. and Mrs. Francis E. Slattery, president of the League of Catholic Women, will be guests of honor at the 10th anniversary dinner of the Joyce Kilmer Literary Circle, to be held tonight at the league house, 1 Arlington st.

Mrs. Edward J. Downey, president of the circle, assisted by Mrs. James E. Coyle, Mrs. Francis Brody, Miss Rose L. Quinn and members of the executive board, have provided a varied program of musical entertainment.

Republican Club Chorus Concert to Be Held Tonight

The mid-winter concert of the chorus of the Women's Republican Club of Massachusetts will be held tomorrow evening in the clubhouse, at 8 o'clock. Mrs. M. H. Guleian, chairman of music, is in charge of the program.

The list of patronesses include: Mrs. Frank G. Allen, Mrs. William S. Youngman, Mrs. Alvan T. Fuller, Mrs. Channing Cox, Mrs. Leverett Saltonstall and Miss Helen G. Fiske.

The domestic help problem is solved by taking a kitchenette apartment and the best are advertised daily in the For Rent columns.

Classic Wrap of White Ermine Stars

By ANN ARDEN

—Boston Evening American Staff Photo.
MODEL from L. P. HOLLANDER CO., INC.

ANN ARDEN will answer questions concerning clothes, social customs, or fashions generally. Address your questions to the Boston Evening American, or the Boston Sunday Advertiser or to Station WLEX.

ERMINE FIGURES as a goal at least once in everyone's social existence. It somehow is the epitome of elegance, of luxury. And never more so than in this year of renewed richness when evening fashions outdo themselves in beauty. Those of us who cannot make the grade on ermine sensibly compromise on lapin (and it is charming, don't you think?)

* * *

THE CLASSIC wrap of white ermine is even more important this winter due to the tremendous ovation accorded all white costumes. After the brevity of the earlier season evening wraps it is an eye-filling sight to behold the new lengths they are majestically sweeping toward. Jackets are still smart but the long, wrappy silhouette is newer for very formal wear.

* * *

BROWN AND white for evening has registered recently in smart gatherings. The wrap pictured is a seven-eighths length of white sheared lamb, the outer edge of collar, and deep bands on kimono sleeves are of brown Kolinski. It tops a brown evening gown; and the exquisite bag carried is beige embroidered in green, with gold chain handle, and pearl studded frame.

* * *

ERMINE (or its white cousins) is not the lone star of evening by any means. Black broadtail is a new rival. A stunning model with three-quarter length sleeves made our mouths water the other day! This is as yet an exclusive departure, however.

* * *

LOOKING BACK on 1930, you will think that there are some compensations for such an unkind year! It is true, no matter how bitterly we decry this past year, it nevertheless stands out in fashion as one of the most fruitful, the most satisfactory, in a decade. It has given us individuality, elegance and charm. What more can we ask?

* * *

ONE WANDERS in a maze of gorgeous evening attire. More and more beaded effects sparkle from wraps and gowns. Fur, beads of it on everything until you doubt if there is another animal alive in the world! From little dolmans to trailing robe-like creations, the evening wrap attracts more comment than the gown.

* * *

AN UNUSUAL short wrap seen recently was fashioned of olive green velvet with a deep cape collar faced in the chartreuse chiffon of the frock which it accompanied. Light beige fox bordered the collar.

ANN ARDEN broadcasts latest style news over WLEX every Tuesday and Thursday at 10:30 a. m.

50th Anniversary

SALE

at Thayer McNeil

THE biggest event in our history will take place at nine o'clock Monday morning—the opening of our 50th Anniversary Sale! Be here to purchase genuine Thayer McNeil footwear at tremendous savings. Thousands of pairs, new and smart, including our PLASTIC shoes, taken from our regular stock will go on sale at all of our stores.

For Women

Downtown at 47 Temple Place, Uptown at 414 Boylston Street, and at Wellesley Square are remarkable values in women's footwear. All shoes offered are outstanding in style, quality, and price, and are reduced to $7.85 $9.85 $11.85 $14.85

For Misses and Children

Downtown, 47 Temple Place, also at Coolidge Corner and Wellesley Square. Modern Misses' shoes reduced to $4.85 up; Junior Misses' $3.85 up; Children's from $2.85 up. Hosiery for children also reduced.

$2.85 $3.85 $4.85 up

For Men and Boys

For boys at 15 West Street, Coolidge Corner, and Wellesley Square boys' shoes marked to $4.85. For men, at 15 West Street the prices range from $6.85, $8.85, $9.85 up. 20% reduction on all men's hose.

$4.85 $6.85 $8.85 up

At the Uptown Shop

At 414 Boylston Street, some of our finest shoes are included in this sale. Shoes suitable for wear now and in the Spring. Prices range $7.85, $9.85, $11.85, $14.85. Plenty of convenient parking space, but come early!

$7.85 $9.85 $11.85 $14.85

All Thayer McNeil quality hosiery greatly reduced for our Fiftieth Anniversary Sale. In all colours and sizes.

THAYER McNEIL

47 TEMPLE PLACE COOLIDGE CORNER

414 BOYLSTON STREET WELLESLEY SQUARE

there are no better values than now obtainable in

PAINE'S CLEARANCE

—a furniture sale without counterpart, the outstanding opportunity to improve the home with dependable furniture at substantial savings; Paine sponsorship, prestige and quality as usual;

$165 WALNUT & GUMWOOD DRESSING TABLES NOW $48

$700 ROSEWOOD, 4 PIECE BEDROOM SUITES NOW $350

$190 MAHOGANY & GUMWOOD BUREAUS NOW $65

$20 WALNUT & GUMWOOD TOILET MIRRORS NOW $9.50

$695 MAHOGANY 10 PIECE DINING ROOM SUITES NOW $450

$350 WALNUT & GUMWOOD BEDROOM SUITES NOW $225

$150 WALNUT & MAPLE BUFFETS NOW $45

FINE WILTONS and Other Domestic Rugs MANY 1/2 PRICE

ALL PAINE BEDDING 10% OFF

Open Wednesday until 9 P. M.

81 Arlington St.

Distributed payments

SCHMELING TO FIGHT STRIBLING

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN SPORTS

MONDAY, JANUARY 12, 1931

FANNING with GEORGE UNDERWOOD

ALEX MacLEAN WILL BE MADE BOSS OF RING

A NEW AND strong, experienced hand will be at the helm of boxing in the old Bay State within the next few weeks. From most reliable sources it is learned that the committee investigating boxing will recommend drastic changes to the Legislature and Governor Ely will appoint Alex MacLean as the new boxing boss. The new chief executive is getting off right foot first. He is naming the one man who can put boxing in the old Bay State back on an even keel.

Alex MacLean is honest, intelligent, fearless, impartial.

He has had 29 years' experience in boxing, knows and understands the game from every angle.

MacLean has no entangling alliances. Everyone here with an iota of knowledge of boxing knows of the various climbers and how they have been playing battledore and shuttlecock with the game. MacLean is friendly BUT NOT TOO FRIENDLY with all of them. All of them will go just so far AND NO FURTHER with the new boxing chief.

Alex MacLean understands the business of boxing as well as the sport of boxing. He can see beyond his nose. He knows the big thing is the perpetuation of boxing—keeping it on an established basis. He will build for the future, let nothing of the present jeopardize the future. The fly-by-night promoters and the get-rich-quick managers and rackeeters are not going to use Alex MacLean as a catspaw.

There is no State which is confronted with the same boxing conditions as Massachusetts, particularly Boston. A system which would operate well in New York and Philadelphia might be a failure here. Alex MacLean knows Boston, the old Bay State and boxing conditions here in the city and the state.

Alex MacLean's skirts are clean. There is no one who "has something on him." There is no one Alex MacLean cannot look in the eye.

He supplements a knowledge and understanding gained from 30 years' experience in the sport with an inherent honesty and fearlessness that makes the sport of boxing and the business of boxing safe in his hands.

Governor Ely is to be congratulated in picking the right man for the right place.

MORE AMERICAN HOCKEY PLAYERS

HOCKEY was born across the border. It is Canada's national pastime. It rapidly is becoming Uncle Sam's national indoor pastime. There almost is as much interest in hockey in many of the large American cities in the winter time now as there is in baseball in the summer.

In professional hockey the bulk of the players come from the shady side of the border. It is not going to be that way long. There are many signs along the trail which show what Uncle Sam will do when he wakes up in hockey.

During the holidays Harvard twice defeated the University of Toronto at ice hockey, once in New York and again here in Boston. The game in Boston was a massacre. Eric Crimmon far outclassed the Toronto collegians. Unless the writer is mistaken, there wasn't a Canadian born or a Canadian reared player on the Harvard team.

Rink owners and promoters should pay more attention to developing American players. Too much attention cannot be given the schoolboys and collegians. All Americans need to develop hockey players is the ice to play on and the competition to spur them on to their best efforts.

Why is it ball clubs always give the out of towners the chance? Here's Tommy Gibbons of Harvard, going South with the Senators. If Tommy warranted a trial with the Senators he certainly deserved a chance with the Red Sox or Braves. There is no place you are thought less of than in your home town.

Primo Carnera is due in New York tomorrow. He may have a big finger in the heavyweight pudding.

BITS OF SPORTS OF ALL SORTS

WHEN THE flying fours of Harvard and Holy Cross answer the clerk of the course's, "All out for the relay," at the coming K. of C. meet you are going to see a race that will warm the cockles of your heart. . . . The veteran Tom Hefney returns to the wars next Friday to take on the young Californian sensation, Max Baer, in Madison Square Garden. There is a youngster in the semi-windup who many believe could whip the two of 'em. His name is Ralph Picucello. . . . If Jim Maloney beats Johnny Risko in next week's Boston Garden duel Shamus will get the match with Max Baer in New York and maybe another in Miami with Primo Carnera. Baer should slaughter Heeney. . . . The Chicago Cubs and the Detroit Falcons share one thing in common. Each is a poor road team but good at home. As far as winning games go any old place. Our Bruins hang their hats

Continued on Page 10, Column 1

FRIEDMAN AND DANIELS TILT TONIGHT

Complete Card at Arena Tonight

FOUR ROUNDS

Sammy Mongo, Dorchester, vs. Billy Nevins, Cambridge.

Johnny Kerr, Scotland, vs. Laddie Lee, Boston.

SIX ROUNDS

Leslie Baker, Watertown, vs. Joe Venuti, North End.

Pat Heywood, Philadelphia, vs. Paveo Preddie, Italy.

EIGHT ROUNDS

Dick Howell, Roxbury, vs. Werter Arecilli, Italy.

TEN ROUNDS

Dick Daniels, Minneapolis, vs. Al Friedman, Roslindale.

First bout 8:15 p. m.

Main bout, 10 p. m.

By RINGSIDE

Dick Daniels, Minneapolis heavyweight, will let his thundering right duke fly once more when he clashes with Al Friedman of Roslindale in a ten-round bout at an Argonne A. A. show at the Arena tonight.

Daniels punched his way out front as he scored victories over Babe Hunt, Tommy Laughran and Johnny Risko.

Mike Collins, who managed Mike and Tom Gibbons, is directing Daniels' ring campaign. He considers this 21-year-old Boxer the most promising heavyweight in the world.

Daniels had Risko on the floor a couple of times in their contest at the Garden. Right hand punches put Rubbery Jawn down on each occasion.

In his last appearance here Daniels had Friedman as an opponent. He dropped Al for a count of nine when he crashed a right hand sock to the chin in the opening round. Friedman, however, came up off the floor to win.

Friedman's Body Punches Effective

Body punches enabled Friedman to win from Daniels in their last bout. At long range, Daniels had the best of things. It was a different story when Friedman paraded to close quarters and fired away with both hands to the body.

Al says he has discovered the weak spot in the Daniels defense and that he will crash through with a knockout tonight.

The winner will be in line for bouts with some of the best of the heavyweight contenders.

Supporting the heavyweight bout will be a strong preliminary show with a return bout between Dick Howell of Roxbury and Werter Arcelli, Italy, in the eight-round semifinal. These rivals clashed in one of the best bouts of the indoor season when they last met and it is expected that they will provide a repetition of their first bout, tonight.

How Friedman and Daniels Shape Up

AL FRIEDMAN ROSLINDALE		DICK DANIELS MINNEAPOLIS
24 years	Age	21 years
6 feet	Height	6 feet
192 pounds	Weight	186 pounds
71 inches	Reach	71½ inches
17 inches	Neck	16½ inches
15⅝ inches	Biceps	13½ inches
12½ inches	Forearm	13 inches
8¼ inches	Wrist	8½ inches
41 inches	Chest	42 inches
43 inches	Chest (exp.)	44 inches
31 inches	Waist	30½ inches
13 inches	Calf	13½ inches
22½ inches	Thigh	22½ inches
8½ inches	Ankle	8½ inches

BADMINTON IS GAINING IN POPULARITY

By BILL CONNELL

A sport of a thousand laughs is the rapidly growing game of badminton, played by large numbers in Canada and the United States. Greeted in this country with a grin, the grins have changed to laughs. But now the players are laughing with the game, not at it.

It is a game of a thousand laughs and that is not poking fun at the pastime. Rather, that means that the game, for sheer fun and sport for sport's sake, cannot be beaten and, maybe, not even tied by any other competitive game.

Badminton is not a new game in this city. It first was played in Boston many years ago, and was known at that time by its early name of battledore and shuttlecock. The game was played by a few enthusiasts, for years.

But not until Jess Willard, present badminton coach at the University club, learned the game and saw its possibilities was there started the movement which has made a growing army of friends for the game. Last year the opening of the $80,000 courts at the University Club marked a big step forward for the sport.

At the same University Club, to use that place for an example, more than 300 men now play the game, a number which steadily is increasing.

The game is played on a court somewhat smaller than the familiar lawn tennis surface and marked with lines similar to those of an ordinary tennis court. Across the middle of the court is stretched a net, the top of which is five feet above the floor.

Racquet Lighter Than Squash Bat

A racquet is used which is lighter than a squash racque, but is much the same shape as the squash bat, with a long handle and round head. The "bird," as the missile which flies back and forth appropriately is named, resembles half of a small ball, with a row of feathers set in the edge of the flat side.

When struck the bird flies, spinning, end nose first, so that it is almost impossible for a bat to strike the feathers. The birds are the most expensive part of the game, for most of them are made in France and England, and prices range from 33 to 56 a dozen. In a single match several birds may be broken, though as a rule one bird will last through a game.

If the "bird" is hit hard, it flies swiftly to the other side of the net. The feathers have a braking effect, which causes the "bird" to travel almost its full course without dropping at all, and then suddenly, as though tired of its flight, the "bird" nose dives to the floor. The "bird" does not bounce, but falls "dead."

The wild attempts of players to reach the "bird" to make a return frequently cause falls, not dangerous at all to the players, but for some reason extremely funny things to the spectator and other players to see.

So it is that badminton can be called the sport of a thousand laughs. Play it some day, if you don't believe that statement. You'll wind up by going back to play, and laugh, again and again.

Concord Sextet Loses Two Games

Concord H. C. lost two hockey games yesterday on Crosby's pond, Concord, in the morning it dropped a game to the Lincoln Mohawks, 5 to 4, and lost to North Cambridge C. C., 4 to 2 in the afternoon.

READY TO HUNT--FOR TAME 'BIRDS'

JAMES ROBERTSON HAROLD McNEIL

C. R. HUTCHINSON

THREE BADMINTON stars are shown in the above photos ready for a "bird" hunt. The feathered missiles used in badminton are known as "birds." Robertson, shown in top photo, is a former Dartmouth football captain. McNeil is a noted golfer. Hutchinson, at bottom, is shown as he makes a difficult return. Hutchinson is University Club badminton champion.

MILK FUND TO BENEFIT BY HEAVYWEIGHT SCRAP IN CHICAGO IN JUNE

By JACK CONWAY

Max Schmeling of Germany and Young Stribling, Georgian heavyweight, have been matched to meet in a 15-round bout at Soldiers Field, Chicago, in June.

Under the terms of agreement reached during several lengthy conferences in New York, Schmeling will receive 50 per cent of the receipts, Stribling will be given enough money to pay his training expenses.

The show will be promoted by a subsidiary of Madison Square Garden Corporation.

William F. Carey and other Garden officials will have to remain in the background on account of the ruling of the New York Athletic Commission which suspended Schmeling after his title was vacated. Carey told this writer he has not any direct interest in the bout.

Jack Conway

A part of the profits of the Chicago show will be turned over to the Milk Fund.

The winner of the Schmeling-Stribling bout has agreed to clash with Primo Carnera, Italian giant, in an Eastern ring in September. This match will probably go to Philadelphia or Jersey City.

Schmeling and Stribling have each agreed to post $25,000 that they will go through with a September bout with Carnera if returned a winner at Chicago.

Billy Duffy accepted this arrangement when all parties concerned consented to the insertion of a clause into the articles of agreement which will give the $25,000 to Carnera even though the contest is prevented by an injury received by the Chicago victor or by sickness of Carnera's opponent.

A subsidiary of Madison Square Garden Corp. will also promote the bout in which Carnera will figure as a principal. The Garden will have to keep in the background in this match also to avoid being suspended for dealing with a boxer under the ban in New York.

N. B. A. to Recognize Bout as Title Go

The National Boxing Association will recognize the Schmeling-Stribling bout as for the heavyweight championship of the world.

The New York Athletic Commission will look upon the Chicago bout as just another contest. It has named Jack Sharkey as the man whom some outstanding heavyweight must meet for title recognition in New York.

The New York Garden made an effort to sign Sharkey with Young Stribling for a title contest in New York.

Johnny Buckley, acting for Sharkey, agreed to terms for this bout, but Stribling would not have any part of the Boston heavyweight.

Schmeling also persisted in his refusal to clash with Sharkey again.

Carnera is the only one among the so-called headliners who is willing to mingle with Sharkey.

There is a report that Carnera may be reinstated in New York so that he can take on Sharkey.

The formal articles of agreement for the Schmeling-Stribling and the September bout with Carnera are expected to be signed in New York today.

Joe Jacobs, manager of Schmeling, has dominated the new heavyweight lineup. He snapped the whip over the New York Garden and Pa Stribling and secured all of his demands.

Garden Contract Questionable

The Garden consented to permit Jacobs to name Schmeling's opponent when it was advised by its lawyers that the contract it held on Max was questionable. This put Stribling into the picture as Schmeling figures he can beat the Georgian.

Schmeling's original contract called for 37½ per cent of the receipts. Jacobs compelled Stribling to add his 12½ per cent to this amount before he would accept him as an opponent.

Jacobs drove a hard bargain and won all of his major demands. Joe also picked Chicago, as he believes the German population in the Middle West will give Max full support.

For purposes of the dear old ballyhoo, Detroit and Cleveland are being mentioned along with Chicago as possible spots for the Schmeling-Stribling match, but you can take it from Joe Jacobs himself that the big fight will go to Chicago.

DONAHUE COACH AT ST. JAMES

John "Jonko" Donahue today signed to coach at St. James high in Haverhill, taking over the position that Edward "Bodger" Carroll has held for the past 14 years.

Carroll resigned recently and signed a three-year contract to coach Beverly high school. The St. James authorities then agreed upon Donahue.

Donahue graduated from St. James high in 1925 after starring at halfback on the grid team and at an outfield berth on the baseball team.

He entered Villanova the following year and continued to shine in football and baseball. He graduated from Villanova in 1929 and has since been engaged in business.

Glenn Wright Signs Brooklyn Contract

New York, Jan. 12 (INS)—David Driscoll, business manager of the Brooklyn National League baseball club, announced today that the signed contract of Shortstop Glenn Wright had been received at the club offices.

Schoolboy Wins Miami Golf Tourney

Miami, Fla., Jan. 12 (AP)—Win Day, a slender, yellow-haired, slightly stooped Chicago lad, nearing his 16th birthday, wore the man-sized crown of the Miami midwinter amateur golf tournament to high school today.

He said he was "too tickled" to comment on his victory in a grueling 46-hole championship battle with Lee Chase of Buffalo, N. Y., former Florida and New York state amateur title-holder. Day played nine practice holes before embarking upon what proved to be his third extra-hole match of the tourney.

He lives in Chicago six months of the year and goes to school at Miami Beach the other six.

IF You Don't Know—

Ernie Pinckert, So. California's All-America halfback, is not given even honorable mention on the All-Opponent eleven picked by the Notre Dame players. . . . Soccer has replaced ball fighting as the most popular sport in Spain. . . . Joe McKenney and George Owen think hockey the greatest of all sports. . . . Dib Clapper, Bruins' star winger, refuses to wear shoulder pads and suffers plenty every time he is slashed about the upper part of his body. . . . Al Lopez, crack young catcher of the Brooklyn Robins, will receive $10,000 for playing next season. . . . A 100 per cent salary increase over last year. . . . There wasn't a player on Boston's last world's championship team, the Red Sox of 1918, who received as much as that. . . . The average golfer doesn't know one-tenth of the rules of the sport. . . . All Great League teams spent every Monday in practice. . . . The jumps in the circuit are much longer than those in the majors. . . . The late George Stallings was one of the greatest masters of sport psychology. . . . But in the days when he was taking a mediocre Braves team into a world's championship, psychology had never been mentioned in connection with athletics. . . . The gang had a far more appropriate name for the Stallings method at that time. . . . There is not one outstanding sprinter competing on indoor tracks this season.

First Round Play in Ft. Lauderdale Open

Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., Jan. 12 (INS)—With two curtain-raisers out of the way, a field of more than 150 amateurs and professionals today began the first round of the second annual Ft. Lauderdale open tournament for prizes totaling $1500.

The tournament will be decided in 54 holes, with 18 scheduled for today and 36 for Tuesday. Last year the tournament went only 36 holes.

Preliminary events yesterday were a pro-pro and a pro-amateur tourney. Scores of 86 in the pro-pro were turned in by three pairs of professionals, Bob Grey, Saddle River, N. J., and Bob Burns of Montreal.

Joe Scrantino of Woodmere, L. I., and Herbert Oxford of Woodmere won first prize in the pro-amateur matches with a best ball of 60.

OUTDOOR SPORTS :-: :-: BY KNOTT

YEH, I'M FIGURIN' ON DEMANDING MY UNCONDITIONAL RELEASE. I DON'T THINK I'D LIKE THEM LONG TRAININ' TRIPS DOWN SOUTH. ANYWAY, I NEVER DID CARE FOR HOTEL COOKIN' AN' TRAIN RIDIN' Y'AINT GONNA LEAGUE THE LEAGUE FLAT, ARE YA, LUKE?
MAYBE IF Y'TOOK IT UP WITH THE NATIONAL COMMISSION THEY'D LET YOU DO YER OWN COOKIN'
YEH, THEY MIGHT EVEN LET YOU HOP FREIGHTS OR HITCH-HIKE AROUND THE CIRCUIT IF THEY KNEW THAT'S HOW YOU LIKE TO TRAVEL
SOUNDS LIKE HE'S GRANTING WAIVERS ON ALL THE TEAMS IN BOTH LEAGUES
HE SPENT MOST OF LAST SEASON IN THE SHOWERS THEY'LL MISS HIM LIKE A PAIN IN THE NECK
1-12
©1931, King Features Syndicate, Inc., Great Britain rights reserved.

ONE FOR THE BOOK

GENL. ABNER DOUBLEDAY LAID OUT THE FIRST BASEBALL DIAMOND IN 1839 AT COOPERSTOWN, NEW YORK

GOOD GOLF

By CHESTER HORTON

The new wood clubs for 1931 come with a baby. There are four of them. They are beginning to be like the cylinders in an automobile, so presently we may talk of our woods in terms of sixes and eights, and possibly dozens for all I know. Also, for the first time in golf club making in this country, we are to have woods with heads of different size. The driver, or No. 1 club, has a large head, and a rather wide or deep face. The head of the brassie is slightly smaller and the face narrower. The spoon head is much smaller. Then there is the little fellow, with a still smaller head and this one, too, is several inches shorter in the shaft, with heavy loft. It takes the place of the No. 1 iron, which, it has been shown, is pretty much a useless weapon in the hands of the ordinary player, anyhow. The fourth wood is really the wood clerk of former days reintroduced into the game. The wood clerk, while seldom used, has always been a good implement.

Copyright, John F. Dille

Bruins Open Title Drive Against Rangers at Garden

BOSTON TEAM FIT FOR FRAY TOMORROW

By BILL GRIMES

Having acquired a comfortable lead during the first half of the season, the Bruins will open their final drive to the American division championship against the New York Rangers tomorrow night at the Boston Garden.

The Rosemen failed to get off to an auspicious start, but once they rounded into form, they soon overtook opponents and swung out in front, reaching the halfway mark with a three-game lead over the other contenders, which was a pace seven points faster than that of Les Canadiens, the International division pacemakers.

Bill Grimes

The Bruins continued their winning streak at the expense of the Detroit Falcons, whom they defeated last night, 4 to 1. Dutch Gainor, Harry Oliver, Red Beattie and Eddie Shore did the scoring for the Rosemen.

While the Bruins were disposing of Jack Adams' Falcons, the New York Rangers were taking it on the chin from the Chicago Blackhawks. Since the Hawks took to the road they have been playing good hockey and have won two games, which is further proof that they do better when they are not weighed down with poor training rules such as are in vogue while they are at home.

Although the New York Rangers have not scored a victory over the Bruins since 1928, they are always dangerous. Manager Lester Patrick has a smart aggregation under his wing but apparently stresses too heavily on the Cook brothers and Frankie Boucher, who have been carrying most of the Ranger load for three seasons.

Bruins Play Blackhawks Thursday

After the Ranger game tomorrow night at the Garden the Bruins leave for Chicago, where they are scheduled to engage the Blackhawks in a sizzling battle on Thursday.

As the Bruins have been on the road since last Wednesday, the coming trip to the Windy City is a tough assignment. They left home the middle of last week for Ottawa and arrived in Detroit on Saturday for last night's conflict with the Falcons. They are not due to return until this evening, and before they have shaken off their train legs they must away to Chicago for a one-game Western trip.

The Tigers turned in two victories last week, which was one of the best feats they have performed this season. A week ago Manager Eddie Powers' heroes were in last place, but a couple of wins over the Philadelphia Arrows jumped them into a third place tie with the New Haven Eagles.

On Wednesday the Tigers will journey to Providence for a tilt with Sprague Cleghorn's Rhode Island Reds, and on Saturday night the Little Rhody outfit will be the guests of the Tigers at the Boston Garden.

Harvard After 11th Straight Win

Harvard will swing back into action against Middlebury College at the Garden on Wednesday night, and doubtless will bang up the eleventh consecutive victory. The Crimson sextet is traveling at a championship clip and will need to be at the peak of its game for Yale, which is also represented by one of the strongest teams in the college ranks.

While Harvard and Middlebury are exchanging body checks at the Garden, the University Club will tackle Boston University at the Arena. The U. C. team is an exceptionally strong organization and will meet with little serious opposition from the Terriers.

On Friday night, the Arena will be the scene of the Rowdom-Northeastern contest. Ben Houser is bringing a representative Black and White sextet up from Brunswick and although Rowdom had not set the league on fire during the state championship series Coach Houser looks for a victory over the Huskies.

Hockey

National League

AMERICAN DIVISION

	W	L	T	Pts	For	Agt
BOSTON	15	5	2	32	76	45
Chicago	13	7	2	28	53	33
N. Y. Rangers	10	8	4	24	57	46
Detroit	9	10	3	21	65	60
Philadelphia	5	13	4	14	54	92
CANADIAN DIVISION
Canadiens	11	6	5	28	56	36
Toronto	10	7	5	25	47	40
Montreal	10	9	3	23	46	40
N. Y. Americans	7	9	5	19	34	39
Ottawa	3	17	2	8	49	65

LAST NIGHT'S RESULTS

Boston 4, Detroit 1.
Chicago 3, N. Y. Rangers 0.

Canam League

	W	L	T	Pts	For	Agt
Springfield	15	9	6	36	76	52
Providence	15	9	4	34	81	56
BOSTON	12	9	6	30	64	56
New Haven	9	13	2	14	55	68
Philadelphia	3	18	1	7	35	85

LAST NIGHT'S RESULTS

Providence 2, Philadelphia 3 (overtime).
Springfield 6, New Haven 1.

BACK ON THE JOB AGAIN

CYRIL WALKER WILLIAM WALKER

THE WALKER BROTHERS, Cyril and William, noted English golf professionals, who returned to the United States after a holiday at home. They arrived in Boston today on the S. S. Baltic. They are now pros at golf clubs in New Jersey.

Red Sox Have Lost Makings of Championship Team

By JOE CASHMAN

"For of all sad words of tongue or pen,
The saddest are these: 'It might have been.'"

This is a story of what the Red Sox might have been, and it sure proves that Whittier, who penned the above immortal lines, knew what he was talking about.

It is more than sad. It's tragic.

For, it reveals that if Bob Quinn had answered every time opportunity knocked and had received his share of the breaks since he took over the local franchise in 1923, he would long ago have had and would still have a pennant contender instead of a last-place outfit, now six years of age.

We had long realized that the Red Son "prexy" had been more unfortunate than most magnates, but until he told us a few days ago of a profitable deal that the club had a chance to make but didn't, and started us thinking of all the visits opportunity has paid to Fenway Park without gaining admittance, we never dreamed that anybody could experience as much hard luck as has the Sox prexy since coming in the Hub.

"I recently learned," said Bob "that I once could have secured Johnny Hodapp from Cleveland for Jack Russell, but my manager turned the proposition down. A great hitting and fielding second baseman like the Indian would just about make my club right now, but I couldn't get him today for three Russells and a few subs thrown in for good measure."

That certainly was a tough break, but it was only one of many that have robbed the local club of the services of some of the game's greatest stars in the past seven years.

Star Pitcher Was Turned Out by Fohl

In 1924, his first year as boss of the outfit, his manager turned loose a pitcher who later became one of the National League's outstanding hurlers, Frank Ulrich.

He and Charlie Ruffing were the best of the rookie hurlers on the squad that year. Instead of keeping both of them, Lee Fohl, then manager, decided to keep only one, picking Ruffing and turning Ulrich loose.

The youngster went back to the minors for another season and then returned to the majors as a member of the Phillies. With the last place club, he stood out as one of the best hurlers in the circuit until his untimely death in 1929.

Ruffing showed a lot of promise in '24 and the following year the Tigers were so anxious to get him that they offered Heinie Manush in return. Quinn turned down the offer and passed up one of the greatest outfielders and hitters in the game from that time to this to keep a pitcher who failed to become a winner here for six seasons and finally was traded to New York for Cedric Durst, just a fair outfielder.

In the fall of '25, the Red Sox had the choice in the draft, having finished last. They selected Chet Fowler, an infielder, and Deimar Lundgren, a pitcher, neither of whom ever made the grade. Among others, Leon "Hack" Wilson of the Cubs was passed up.

In the spring of 1929, one of the rookie pitchers on the squad was Henny Frey. He was given little opportunity to prove his worth and was released outright.

Frey Came Through for Cincinnati

Last year he showed up with Cincinnati and became the outstanding rookie pitcher of the season. Those are some of the costly and avoidable mistakes that the Sox have made.

Now for some of the unavoidable ill luck.

The same spring that Frey was being overlooked, Sad Sam Jones, a great pitcher, was refusing to sign with the Senators. He was offered to the Sox, the offer was accepted and the deal was to be completed at noon on a certain day. At 11 a. m. that certain day, Jones agreed to terms and the Solons kept him.

Later in the same season, the late Miller Huggins brought the Yanks to town for the last time. The mite pilot was very dissatisfied over the showing of Lou Gehrig, who was neither hitting nor fielding well, and he as much as made up his mind to offer the star first sacker to the Sox for Ed Morris on his next visit to the Hub.

Hug never returned, entering a hospital soon after and dying while the Yanks were playing their final series of the campaign here.

Last year was Gehrig's best and Morris' worst.

Just look at the list of the players the Sox MIGHT HAVE secured: Gehrig, Manush, Hodapp, Wilson, Jones, Frey and Ulrich. All have been stars for years and still are, with the exception of Ulrich.

With these players and those now on the roster, the Sox would be an even money bet to win the 1931 pennant instead of an outfit that isn't given any better than a fighting chance to finish as high as sixth place.

Yes indeed, the saddest of words are these:

"It might have been."

O'Shocker Wrestles Dusek on Friday

Jim Londos, Greek heavyweight wrestler, may be matched to meet the winner of the finish mat bout, between Dusek of Little Rock, Ark. and Pat O'Shocker of Salt Lake City, Utah, which will be staged at the Boston Garden on Friday night.

Londos has appeared in local rings on numerous occasions.

Dusek and O'Shocker have come through with clean slates in their bout at the Garden. The semifinal on Friday night will bring together Jim McMillen, former Illinois University star, and Billy Bartush.

Wanderers Lose

The Belmont A. A. defeated the Lexington Wanderers, 4 to 2, at Belmont high school rink.

Pioneers Down Angel Guardian Alumni

The Pioneers of Roxbury nosed out the Angel Guardian Alumni, 1 to 0, at the Angel Guardian rink yesterday.

Ward scored the only goal on a pass from Connors in the third period.

BIG PRIZE FOR DOG SHOW

One of the most valuable prizes ever offered at any dog show in the East, and probably in the entire United States, will be the reward of winner of "Best in Show" in the Eastern Dog Club exhibition to be held at Boston Garden February 23, 24 and 25.

Two hundred dollars in gold will be presented to the best dog in the show, along with two valuable silver trophies one of which is valued at $350, and a large rosette will also be included. This award makes the Eastern Dog Club show a stand out exhibition.

Navy Teams Forfeit Contests to Grove

Hanover, N. H., Jan. 12—Because of a ruling which forbids navy swimming and water polo teams to make the trip to Hanover, Dartmouth will not meet the Annapolis aquatic squad here this Saturday. The contests are scheduled affairs in the Intercollegiate Swimming Association, so Dartmouth automatically accepts the game as forfeit.

Fistic Failure Brings Fame in Gotham Rings

New York, Jan. 12 (INS)—Nothing succeeds like failure.

If you don't believe it, quit your bank president job and come to New York to score a success as a prizefighter.

Everyone beat Tony Canzoneri, so they made him lightweight champion; Fidel La Barba defeated Kid Chocolate, so the keed fought Sal Bartolino for the featherweight title; Billy Petrolle knocked down Jimmy McLarnin and hasn't been given a New York rumble since. Vince Dundee signed his death warrant last week by whipping Len Harvey of England, who is receiving more offers than Stribling.

In fact, the breakfast greeting nowadays for managers and their valiant boys is: "If we can only lose this one, we'll own Broadway."

The latest to lose and become a famous personage is Max Baer of California. He stopped—no, Ernie Schaaf a couple of weeks ago in Madison Square Garden. Ernie went fishing off Boston and Maxie came right back for another bout. He meets Tom Heeney, the old guide, at the Garden on Friday night in the big fight of the week. Of course Baer has not lost as many fights as Heeney, but he's just started losing and he got a very poor start out in his native state by scoring 20 knockouts in 27 starts. Too much confidence was blamed for this bad record.

But Baer easily assumed the "in the New York manner," and if he loses this week there is no reason why he should not become one of our most promising heavyweight contenders.

As a matter of fact, Heeney did very well, losing to such as Gene Tunney, Victorio Campolo and Tuffy Griffiths, and Max knows he must lose this one most decisively if he is to be considered with a future in the ring game.

Walter St. Denis, the publicity agent who has the toughest job in the world, because every day he must tell why a bad loser is better than a good winner at the Garden, had something interesting to offer about Baer today. Walter reports that Baer may fight Max Schmeling, even before the German loses his breath or anything.

It seems Schmeling is slowly but surely swatting over this way to fight anyone but Jack Sharkey, and he needs a "tune up" match for the championship. Ancil Hoffman, who, as a publicity man always says, guides the destinies of the young Californian, had made Joe Jacobs, chief guide for Schmeling, an offer for a Maxie-Maxie bout.

HARVARD POLO TEAM STRONG

The Harvard polo team of Ken Jenkins, Ebby Gerry and Connie Bliss looked exceedingly good in its opening game at the Commonwealth Armory Saturday night, the Crimson riders putting over a decisive victory over the strong Westwood club. Harvard prospects in both the indoor and outdoor intercollegiate championships seem very bright.

Of course Ebby Gerry, who assisted Tim Clark and his brother George to bring both championships to Cambridge in 1929, was the main cog in the Crimson machine. Gerry, playing No. 2, scored seven of the Crimson goals besides playing a fine defensive game.

Ken Jenkins and Bliss also played well and with a few games under their belt the Harvard mallet-wielders will be a hard aggregation to defeat.

The freshmen team of Bill McGuckin, Paul Shaw and Lowell Dillingham also looked immense and nothing should stop it from winning the Class C division.

ROBINSON MAY QUIT IN 1932

New York Jan. 12—Wilbert Robinson, a holdover from the mustached era of baseball, is about to begin his 18th—and possibly last—season as manager of the Brooklyn team.

And thereby hangs a tale of dissension that is approaching what may be a ludicrous climax.

Well does Uncle Wilbert know that the skids have been reinforced and well greased for his departure from Brooklyn on his ear when his contract expires at the end of next season.

But he plans to go out in a gale of horse laughs directed at the anti-Robinson wing of the Brooklyn party. He is plotting to present his old pal, Judge Steve McKeever, with a National League pennant winner—possibly a set of world's champions—and then lay back and listen to the voice of the people.

Win for Giants

New York, Jan. 12—The New York Giants easily beat the Brooklyn Wanderers, 8 to 1, in a first-round national challenge cup tie.

"I Hope You Do Not Abandon the Attack"

Says

DR. J. C. ELDRIDGE

Health Director, Hamilton County, Tennessee

A. C. McBRIDE, M. D. HEALTH OFFICER

HAMILTON COUNTY HEALTH DEPARTMENT
COOPERATING WITH
THE STATE DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC HEALTH
CHATTANOOGA, TENNESSEE

July 19, 1930

American Cigar Company,
111 Fifth Avenue,
New York, N. Y.

Gentlemen:

"Spit" is a filthy word. So is the practice of spitting.

More serious than any consideration of nicety, however, is the very grave danger of contamination carried in the mouth secretions.

Your attack on this evil in connection with your recent cigar advertising is an effective stroke which should do much to awaken the public to this peril.

I hope you do not abandon the attack. If my endorsement is of any value, please feel free to publish it in your campaign.

Sincerely yours,
J. C. Eldridge
HAMILTON COUNTY HEALTH DIRECTOR.

...one of 56 health officials from 56 different points approving Cremo's crusade against spit or spit-tipping.

Every smoker, every wife whose husband smokes cigars, should read Dr. Eldridge's letter.

"Who are the friends of 'Spit'?"

YOU MAY WELL ASK THIS QUESTION WHEN 56 IMPORTANT HEALTH OFFICIALS HAVE WRITTEN SO STRONGLY AGAINST THE EVILS OF SPIT OR SPIT-TIPPING.

Dr. Eldridge writes: "Your attack on this evil in connection with your recent cigar advertising is an effective stroke."

The war against spit is a crusade of decency. Join it...Smoke Certified Cremo—a really wonderful smoke—mild—mellow—nut-sweet! Every leaf entering the clean, sunny Cremo factories is scientifically treated by methods recommended by the United States Department of Agriculture.

In this period of cold weather and cracked lips, above all insist on a cigar—free of the spit germ.

Certified Cremo

...THE GOOD 5¢ CIGAR THAT AMERICA NEEDED

© 1931 American Cigar Co.

SPORTS

500 TEAMS IN HEARST RIFLE COMPETITION

Chicago, Jan. 12 (US)—More than 500 cadet teams of the R. O. T. C. units of the country are expected to participate in the national rifle competition for the William Randolph Hearst trophies, it was learned today from headquarters of the Sixth Army Corps Area in Chicago.

Maj.-Gen. Frank Parker has charge of the match and is the official judge under orders of the War Department. Gen. Parker's offices have been flooded with entries since the announcement of the 1931 shoot, 450 entries having already been received.

Some colleges and universities are vying with each other to see which can enter the greater number of teams. Washington University of St. Louis has entered 10 teams which means that this one institution has 50 students actively participating in the match.

The University of Missouri has four teams entered, Michigan College of Mining and Technology at Houghton has four, North Dakota Agricultural College at Fargo four, Indiana University at Bloomington three, University of Wisconsin three, Massachusetts Institute of Technology at Cambridge has eight, making it the second in numbers; Fordham University of New York five, Lehigh University at Bethlehem, Pa., three, A. and M. College of Texas three, University of Washington at Seattle four, State College of Washington three, Alabama Polytech three, West Va. University three, Virginia Military Inst. five, New York Military Academy six.

Mystic Sextet Plays in Nashua Tonight

The Mystic S. and A. Hockey Club has a tough assignment tonight when it faces the capable West Point Hockey Club at Nashua. The Mystic team now is in top form and hopes to defeat the Nashua club.

Bedfords Win

Bedford, Jan. 12—The Bedford A. C. defeating out Lexington H. C., 3 to 2, here.

Race Selections and Scratches

AT NEW ORLEANS—Ell-Weir —4th race.
AT JACKSONVILLE — Snowcloud—6th race.

ST. JOHN'S PARK

1—None.
2—Alton, Jeff O'Neill, Talky Landlord, Gladys McClain, Master Sweep, Golden Patch.
3—Angela Lavin, Ignite, Mint Toddy.
4—None.
5—None.
6—Borealis.
7—Boris, Tom Byrne, Dallia, Kentucky Colonel, Sedare.
Weather clear; track fast.

NEW ORLEANS SCRATCHES

1—Escoba, Fryus, Society Folk, Cloido, Fast Storm, Logwood, Tempus.
3—Irritation, Miconcha, All Girls, Attire, My Toots, Wigrose.
5—Saint Rider, Chicbrun, Golden Prince.
6—Dark Abbot, Ride a wee.
5—Bob Kernan, Ormonbird, Buddy Basil.
6—Smiling Princess, Polly Timber, Thistle Cont, Miss Peggy, Luke Jr., Vole, Clapper, Viraldo.
7—Thistle Pattie, White Mouse, Noels First, Sun Porter, Soarer, Black Lula.
Weather, raining; track, muddy.

NEW ORLEANS SELECTIONS

1—Obstinate, Executor, Watuga.
2—Wigrose, Falmouth Belle, Gallopette.
3—Golden Prince, Taffdwaun, Geranos.
4—Ell-Weir, Radiak, Ride-a-Wee.
5—Cloudy, Cloido, Buddy Basil.
6—Miss Corrine, Thistle Cool, Vandal.
7—Burman, Sarazen, Allegrette.
BEST BET—Ell-Weir.

FANNING

Continued from Page 8

is home sweet home * * * Bruce Caldwell, former Yale football and baseball star, and Gene Martin are after the franchise of the New Haven baseball club. They may bob up as owners at this week's meeting of the Eastern League. * * * That $150,000 offer Promoter Lou Darro of Los Angeles made to Jack Dempsey for a mixed match with Strangler Lewis may be the medium of a Dempsey comeback * * * As a tuneup for next Friday night's match with Billy Barnish here at the Boston Garden Jim McMillen meets Gina Garabaldi in New York tonight. On the same card tonight Rudy Dusek, who tackles Pat O'Shocker in the features bout here Friday, will take on one George Hagen * * * What's become of Yale Okun? He knocked out Dick Daniels, who faces Sailor Friedman at the Arena tonight * * * Nineteen crews, including four varsity sights, reported to Coach Ed Leader of Yale last week. Watch out Harvard * * * Gus Sonnenberg's return to the mat enthusiastically awaited. Dynamite Gus takes on Lee Wyckoff here one week from next Thursday * * * Boston, or at least New England, should get some of the flock of so-called Olympic skating tryouts that are being staged in other sections.

LETTERS FROM READERS

Letters from readers on current subjects are welcomed. Letters should not exceed 250 words in length, should be written on one side of the paper, and must bear the writer's name. Names will be omitted in publication, if requested. Address Editor, Boston American, 5 Winthrop sq.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

Editor Boston American:

I was glad to come across in your paper last week that you can tell the intelligence of your children by comparing their habits of spelling with a survey of the spelling habits of other children. This has been confirmed by Dr. Herbert A. Carroll of the University of Minnesota.

Bright children are poor spellers. This shows that they consistently err in trying to spell according to sound. They often misspell long words which dull children succeed in spelling correctly.

Such errors on the part of bright children indicate intelligence. This is too long a subject for your letter column. But the undersigned has always been a bad speller, and as he has been in the group of bad spellers, always spelling by sound, he is very glad to have this crown of intelligence placed upon him by the authority of this professor.

Thank you, Professor. You're an educational brick!

N. H. MUNSON.

Wants Whole U. S. School Plan Revised

Editor Boston American:

Without renovation, our public school system can never serve those purposes for which it was instituted. I suggest a change in the national curriculum.

Most of us have neither time, money nor inclination to dote on idealism or drive in theory.

Our leaders say that the stability of America depends upon the retention of every American's faith in his government. But how, may I ask, can we react intelligently to a government in whose intricacies we have never been thoroughly schooled?

Participation in a democracy is a far cry from mere acquiescence in an autocracy. Ours is a rare privilege which should be defended with all the fierceness of free-men. A political education is our strongest weapon. I mean an education derived from constant practise under capable instruction—not a mimicry of street car politics, not an adherence to soap box legislation!

Be American in song and language; in thought and action. Else remember the words of Edmund Burke.

DANIEL A. O'CONNELL,
145 High st., Danvers.

Finds Black Shirts Active in Boston, Too

Editor Boston American:

I understand that Boston is running true to its national reputation of harboring more isms, cults, fads and ites than any other city.

The "Black Shirts" (Fascists) are here. I found them down in Atlanta, Ga., where they are about 50,000 strong. They may be growing in other sections of this country, but to think they have infected Boston is a surprise to me. They have a great deal of race hatred in their bones and cannot get rid of it.

Boston is the most liberal minded city in the universe. You can believe anything in this city without having your mind blocked with real truth, simon pure. You can go off half-cocked with any idea and people will believe you are a prophet or a son of a prophet.

N. H. NELSON.

Doubts Wisdom of Deporting Aliens

Editor Boston American:

I agree with Patrick J. Ward, who said: "Be in no hurry to deport non-citizens. There may be another war."

We have 20,698 miles of a boundry line to defend, we cannot defend it by deportation of all aliens and birth control. We should not blame aliens for our hard luck. We should blame our government. Mr. Ward says, "Aliens built this country and fought in many wars to defend it. I know aliens who fought in the World War and came back maimed for life and could not get a job.

Today we have 5,500,000 idle in this country who are able and willing to work. I don't blame aliens, I blame our government, who could put as many more to work. Uncle Sam owns half a billion acres of land that have never even been surveyed. Equal to the total areas of the five biggest states in the Union; also 200,000,000 acres of land that have been surveyed but have not passed into private ownership, and about 300,000 square miles of land in forests.

In concluding, Mr. Ward says the real cause of America's trouble is a corrupt system that makes the rich man richer and the poor poorer. We can see that in this state—men overpaid getting a salary boost, with nothing for thousands.

THOMAS SCULLY.
Somerville.

Agitator Gets Reply to His Own Question

Editor Boston American:

Queer things happen under the spell of unemployment as seen in this state.

An agitator was yelling his lungs off before a crowd of jobless, who refused to go to work at $10 a week.

"Just think only 16 bucks a week. How can a man be a Christian on that amount of money? How can he? I demand an answer."

"How," yelled a voice from the back line of spectators. "Yes, how can he afford to be anything else?"

H. H. V.

Sons of Encouragement Cited as Boston Need

Editor Boston American:

Former Governor Cox of Massachusetts said recently:

"I am at the firm conviction, we are near Utopia, the imaginary place where everything is getting perfect."

This is something to keep in mind. Think it over occasionally. Give it a present application in daily conversation and thereby make it something to look forward to in the future.

We are too slow to acknowledge that the dawn of better prospects is apparent in every adventure. We must work towards that end. This is the gist of former Governor Cox's statement.

A Biblical pageant named "Barabas" was recently presented by young people belonging to a church in Greater Boston. Why called "Barnabas?" Because he was the son of encouragement.

We need more sons of encouragement in Boston today. Every one can be a son of Barnabas.

B. N. DONALDSON.

Injured Veteran Fails to Obtain Medical Aid

Editor Boston American:

While in France I became afflicted with some sort of trouble in my back and leg. Like many others in similar circumstances, the doctor told me I was lazy and ordered me back to work.

Though I suffered untold agony, I never again reported at sick-call.

Four years ago, on account of this same trouble, I was forced to give up my job and procure lighter work. A short time ago I was again forced to give up my position.

I applied at the Veteran's Bureau for examination. They gave me about a three minute examination and ordered an X-ray. They said the X-ray showed nothing wrong.

I the, applied at the Boston Dispensary, and when they found I had been to the Veterans' Bureau they would do nothing for me unless I presented a letter from the bureau. I went back for the letter and was refused on the excuse that the dispensary would send them a bill.

The government is holding a beautifully engraved certificate belonging to me, on which I have borrowed all the money I can.

I have three small motherless boys. I have been going without pleasures for the sake of providing good homes for them.

No doubt there are many others in worse circumstances than I am. Immediate payment of the bonus certificates would certainly help such conditions.

Any advice as to how I might meet my present difficulty would be greatly appreciated.

ALBERT L. WILDER.
681 Mass ave., Boston.

Seeks Information of New Rubber Remedy

Editor Boston American:

In the evening edition of Jan. 8, 1931, on page 13 of same, there was printed an article entitled "Rubber Remedy for Car Squeaks Found."

I would appreciate it very much if you could give me some further information concerning this, such as who is using this formula, etc.

The reason of my inquiry is that I have a formula for one sort of rubber that I have developed on the market.

Thanking you in advance for any information that you may be able to give me concerning this.

REED'S BLOCK.
per E. F. Withington.

Pact Ratification Predicted by King

Stockholm, Sweden, Jan. 12 (AP) King Gustave of Sweden, in a speech from the throne at the formal opening of the Riksdag today, predicted ratification of an international agreement recently signed by Sweden and 47 other nations, pledging said to a nation attacked or threatened by war.

Just Try These Tasty Ice Box Cookies

MIX AND BEAT ingredients well together. You will need plenty of elbow grease.

PACK FIRMLY into bread pan or other oblong mold and press down with back of BAKE IN QUICK oven until crisp and brown. Serve with cold drinks or ice cream.

Easy to Plan Meals Ahead

FROM MARTHA LEE'S MONDAY MORNING'S BROAD CAST OVER STATION WLEX

By MARTHA LEE

WHILE I'LL admit that it's not always practical to plan meals a week ahead, I do find it a real saving of time and money to outline what we are going to eat for at least two or three days ahead.

Martha Lee

Even though visits of the in-laws, or sudden decisions of dad not to come home to dinner do upset schedules quite often. I find, nevertheless, that if I don't plan ahead a little but buy haparadly, I all-too-often have left-overs that might have been made into appetizing main dishes, instead of serving for in-between bites—chiefly for the pup.

MAKE LOTS OF GRAVY

Say, for instance, that you had for your Sunday dinner Roast Leg of Lamb, with Browned Potatoes, Baked Squash, Chopped Raw Vegetable Salad with French Dressing and Butterscotch Baked Apples. For lunch today, I'd forget all about the lamb and have perhaps a casserole of ready-to-heat-and-eat spaghetti, with bacon, celery, whole-wheat bread, cheese, and perhaps some canned fruit. For dinner tonight why not a lamb pie with a baking-powder-biscuit crust?

Here's hoping you made lots of gravy, in which you can arrange your lamb cut in neat dice. The gravy should be well seasoned with onion salt and celery salt, as well as pepper and salt, and to it can be added one of the tiny cans of diced carrots and a tiny can of peas, if you prefer these buffet-size tins in your pantry.

Or you could use any left-over vegetable that you might find in the ice chest, other than the squash. A crisp cabbage salad with a boiled dressing will balance this meal, and for dessert, a fruit custard would be nice. I forgot to say that for an extra delicious flavor for the lamb gravy, dissolve ¼ cup of currane jelly in it, before adding the meat and vegetables.

CHEESE SOUFFLE

For Tuesday's Luncheon, a cheese soufflé or a cheese omelet with tomato sauce would be nice and, maybe, toast with cherry jam, and tea. For Dinner, a meat loaf with bacon and mushroom sauce, baked potatoes, buttered diced turnip with parsley, whole wheat rolls, fruit salad, small cakes and coffee.

For Wednesday's Luncheon, how would you like cream of tomato soup, and sandwiches filled with the cold sliced meat loaf and served with gravy? For dinner, we can get away from our lamb left-overs and splurge with a baked ham butt, with apricot sauce, baked sweet potatoes, stewed celery, iceberg lettuce with Russian dressing, and pineapple upside-down cake, or Bavarian cream.

For Thursday's Luncheon, scrambled eggs, with bacon and corn, apple and celery salad, and left-over pineapple dessert. For Dinner, ham cutlets made from the left-over ham, creamed potatoes, buttered onions, asparagus salad with French dressing, and chocolate pudding.

APPLE PUDDING

For Friday's Lunch, omelet with Creole sauce, whole wheat toast, and banana and date salad. For Dinner, fruit cocktail, baked cod with Spanish sauce, string beans, scalloped corn, apple pudding with lemon sauce.

Saturday, cream of vegetable soup, using left-over vegetables, toasted bacon sandwiches and pear salad. For Dinner, if you are out of the habit of New England baked beans and brown bread, how would you like a beef stew with vegetables and dumplings, served in individual casseroles, with pickles, seven-minute creamed cabbage, corn muffins, apple pie, cheese and coffee?

I do hope that this will be of some help in solving the ever-present question: "What will we eat today?" More tomorrow from

Yours Faithfully,
Martha Lee

BAKED HASH

2 cups cold meat, pork or beef, chopped.
1 cup gravy.
1 cup stewed tomatoes.
1 chopped green pepper.
1 chopped large onion.
Salt and pepper to taste.

Mix chopped onion and pepper with meat and tomatoes. Arrange in buttered baking dish. Cover with hot fluffy mashed potatoes. Brushed with beaten egg, diluted with a little water. Bake until potatoes are a delicate brown.

For Luncheon

LEFT-OVER cabbage can be heated in cream sauce, sprinkled with grated cheese and baked for a luncheon bite.

Roquefort Cheese Can Be Made to Go Further

To make expensive imported Roquefort cheese go further and taste better, blend together three times as much cream cheese as you have Roquefort, add a little cream if necessary, and salt, a dash of cayenne and Worcestershire to taste.

Pile in a mound on a cheese dish and garnish with strips of pimiento or green pepper. Serve with unsalted soda crackers.

Cookies Win Prize

Delicate and lacy as fairy food are these melt-in-your-mouth ice box cookies, sent in by Mrs. A. H. Seaver of Cohasset, Mass., to whom is awarded this week's $5 prize.

MARIE'S ICE BOX COOKIES

1 cup Hood's butter
2 cups Domino brown sugar
1 tsp. baking soda sifted with flour
½ tsp. Worcester salt
1 cup chopped nuts
2 eggs
3½ cps. Cereosta flour
1 tsp. Burnett's vanilla.

Cream butter and add sugar, stirring well. Add the beaten eggs. Add nuts chopped rather coarsely and vanilla; then sifted dry ingredients. This makes a very stiff mixture. Pack into a square or oblong pan and put in ice box over night. When ready to bake slice paper thin and cook quickly in 400 deg. oven to brown and crisp. Watch carefully, as they burn in a few minutes.

Have you sent your favorite recipe to compete for the weekly $5 prize offered for the best recipe using one or more food products advertised in the Boston Evening American. If not, won't you?

Shoulder for Heat Food

AS THE days get colder and colder and we pull the coat collars up around the ears a little closer, thoughts of a sizzling brown ham or baked shoulder are not to be scorned.

SHOULDER STEAK EN CASSEROLE

Sprinkle a medium thick fresh shoulder steak with salt and pepper, and brown it quickly in hot fat in frying pan. Place it in shallow roasting or baking pan, and heap a dressing made as follows on it:

1 cup bread crumbs
½ cup chopped cooking apples
1 tsp. chopped onion
1 tbsp. minced green pepper
An egg and a little milk to bind together.

Just barely cover the bottom of the baking pan with water, bake in a moderate over ½ hour, and then place halves of sweet potatoes around the meat and bake another ½ hour.

Eggs Build Health

Isn't it good news that egg prices are so low? Just when Budget cautions "go slow!"

Eggs have an enormous amount of food value, and are rich in protein. They are practically free from waste, and the ease with which they may be prepared makes them a favorite with the home cook.

A great saving in eggs may be made by buying them when they are plentiful and cheap, and incidentally at their best, and preserving them in water glass. Water glass is an inexpensive liquid, and closes the pores against air and cannot harm the EGG.

I had planned to give you one or two egg recipes here, but have used all my space holding forth on their essential virtues. However, I've hundreds of fine egg recipes that are simply begging to be let out and tried by readers of Martha Lee's columns. Just drop me a line and they're yours.

GOOD APPETITES AID GOOD HEALTH

If you relish your food it is better for you, medical authorities state. Improve the taste of what you serve with Ivory Salt. Of highest quality, Ivory Salt seasons quickly. Free flowing, it seasons evenly. And it's the cleanest, finest salt that money can buy. Look for the orange carton with the special pouring spout.

Write for booklet of recipes and other household uses for salt. Address
WORCESTER SALT CO.
71 Murray St., New York

IVORY SALT

A&P
ESTABLISHED 1859
COFFEE PRICES!
still further reduced!
EIGHT O'CLOCK
lb 23¢
Watchful of every opportunity to save our customers' money, we have again substantially reduced the prices of our Eight O'Clock, Red Circle and Bokar Coffees.
• • •
This is our fourth reduction, following the decline in market prices, on these nationally known quality coffees within fifteen months. Here is another manifestation of our policy of always giving our patrons the benefits of our savings in buying.
• • •
Fresh Roasted . . . with deliveries made daily to each distributing point, these coffees are always delicious in flavor and aroma. Select your favorite brand of coffee at your A. & P today!
RED CIRCLE
lb 27¢
A blend of specially selected Colombian and Brazilian coffees. Wonderfully satisfying and a fine, rich, full flavor. Price 15 months ago, 29c lb.
BOKAR
lb 33¢
tin
The last word in coffee enjoyment . . . possessing a rare richness, mellowness and flavor. America's greatest package-coffee value. Price 15 months ago, 45c lb. tin.
More than 30% reduction within the past 15 months
Ask the manager of your nearest A & P store for our booklet "How to Make a Good Cup of Coffee."
A&P FOOD STORES

TIGER HEART

Gripping Story of Society Girl Whose Love Entangled Her With Underworld

GREATER BOSTON NEWS

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN

A HOME PAPER FOR PEOPLE WHO THINK

2D SECTION

BOSTON, MONDAY, JANUARY 12, 1914

CARDINAL HITS DISCONTENT PROPAGANDA

Grand Jury Hears 26 in Gilman Probe

Connie Meets Half-Sister at Cafe in Gangland

The Story So Far

Connie Calvert, beautiful daughter of a rich family, lives with her widowed mother in a Connecticut town not far from New York. She is to be married to Jim Tracy, a pleasing young man who works in a brokerage office. The day before her wedding she receives a letter which greatly disturbs her. She sends Jim home, dips, however, sensing that something is wrong, parks his car in a secluded spot and late in the evening hears Connie's roadster leave her garage. He trails her, but his gasoline gives out and he loses her. She goes in a cheap restaurant in Tenth ave., where Duke Garson, a gangster, tells her she has a half sister in the underworld.

Now Continue

By Robert Terry Shannon
(Author of "The Taxi-Dancer" and other well-known serials.)

"ABOUT THAT TIME," continued Garson, "I imagine, your father was already paying court to your mother. So far as we know, he never saw his daughter. Until she was 10 or 11 years old he sent small monthly sums of money to the Irish family that brought the girl up. When he died the money stopped."

Duke Garson was stating the bare, jagged facts to clothe them with details. She was watching his steady eyes in absorbed fascination. Despite her urgent desire to cry him down—to denounce him as a liar—she was slowly and terribly being convinced that he was dealing in truth.

Can Prove It

"You say you can prove all this?" she asked, tensely.

"We can prove everything, Miss Calvert. Perhaps you're wondering why these people who brought up this girl never made any claims on your father's estate. I will explain that by saying they were ignorant people. The man was a drunkard and his wife could neither read nor write. Perhaps you have no idea how stupid and shiftless some people are. When the child was 14 her mother died and the drunkard husband disappeared. Your half-sister, Kate—she was named for her mother, but they called her Sitty—hit the world alone and on her own. It was pretty tough don't you think, for a kid of 14 to start out on 10th ave. and try to keep alive and decent at the same time?"

Connie knew that her own face had lost color. It was terrible! The whole story sounded incredible, yet, reviving the scenes of which in her mind, she was shocked to realize that it was possible. Her father had been a man of wonderful charm—but he had been stranked with a wild irresponsibility.

"Why are you telling me all this?" she demanded. "What do you want me to do?"

Gai on looked at her unwaveringly.

No Income

"I myself, have no personal interest in the matter, I'm simply acting in behalf of your sister, Kitty Casseri. All of your life you've been living on the fat of the land, you've had every luxury that money and a home could give a girl. During all these same years your father's other daughter has been battling her way along down here on the avenue. I'll be perfectly frank. She has been mixed up with underworld life. By that, I don't mean she's been on the loose; she hasn't, but her friends—well, you kind of men police are looking for—if you know what I mean. I wouldn't say she's mixed up in any crooked stuff herself—nor would I deny it. I don't suppose you can allow a picture in your mind what sort of life she has led.

A sudden impulse, stronger than any brain reasoning, leaped from Connie's heart.

"I want to see her"

Duke Garson for the first time smiled thinly.

"Nothing easier; she's here now. It will be quite a family reunion, won't it?"

"A pretty family reunion," Duke Garson repeated, musingly.

Connie detected, faintly, a sneer in his voice, but that didn't matter. She was stunned, hurt. Never before had her family pride been violated. A swirl of emotions tore in her breast—a hot, furious anger that was muffled by sharp humiliation. Too, there was a startling, living flame of sympathy for the other girl.

The idea that she had a sister was unbelievable; it repelled and fascinated her simultaneously.

The most disconcerting thing was this new, primitive call of blood—the poignant quality of seeing, at once, this

Continued on Page 15, Column 3

Most Popular

MISS ESTELLE M. KETTNER of Brookline has been chosen as "Miss Boston University," an honor accorded the most popular girl at the university.

BROOKLINE GIRL B. U. WINNER

After two months of balloting to determine who is the high fellow at to the title of the most popular co-ed" at Boston University, the Beanpot, monthly magazine, today announces the selection of Estelle M. Kettner of Brookline as "Miss Boston University."

Miss Kettner, described as a "winsome blonde" is a 19-year-old junior at Boston University's College of Business Administration, where she is studying journalism.

Miss Jean Parrell of Dunbarton, also a junior in the journalism department, was runner up in the contest. Miss Kettner and Miss Parrelle defeated a field of nine tants who were in the lead in the Christmas holidays.

LAXITY LAID TO FOLEY IN INQUIRY

Congressman Charges Discrimination by the District Attorney

Mrs. Edwin U. Curtis, widow of the former police commissioner, and 25 others appeared before the grand jury today for the case of Florence Sennott Gilman, about whom a "jury party" investigation centered last week.

Mrs. Curtis was occupant of a an into which Mrs. Gilman is alleged to have fled a month ago when arrest seemed imminent in the Back Bay. She identified Mrs. man for the police at the time.

The returning witnesses were detectives, police officers and other employes in addition to Capt. Jeremiah Mosher and other police.

McCORMACK MENTIONED

Their appearance indicated the investigation of the "party" in which Congressman John W. McCormack's name was mentioned and later brought from him charges of discrimination against Dist. Atty. William J. Foley, would not be resumed directly.

Senator Michael J. Ward of Roxbury also mentioned and later examined with an going before the grand jury, was unable to Cuba and will not return for a few weeks.

Congressman McCormack charged Foley failed to place additional facts before the body and spurred Ward's appearance whereupon Congressman was made to appear and be exonerated.

The following statement added his considered it his duty to make public if necessary certain information which has come into his possession regarding the case.

Senator Ward's charges against Capt. Mosher of the Back Bay, alleging assault and battery, revealed the legislator also was present at the Gilman house, although he previously had denied being there.

FOLEY SURPRISED

Congressman McCormack became involved in the case when Harold P. Clark clerk of the grand jury, said he had loaned his car to a man there who said he was Congressman McCormack. McCormack was summoned before the jury, but was cleared of all connection in the case when Clark was unable to identify him as the man who borrowed the auto.

McCormack insisted that Foley had no right to call him before the grand jury without fully investigating the facts of the case. He characterized the whole affair as an unwarranted attempt to injure him.

Early today Dist. Atty. Foley said:

"I am surprised to hear of Congressman McCormack's attack. After leaving the grand jury room, he thanked me for his courteous treatment of him in the presence of several newspaper men. As a matter of fact, I did not call him.

"The grand jury requested that he be summoned before them. I merely acted for the grand jury as I did in the cases of all other witnesses they summoned."

WATCHING FOLEY

In his statement, Congressman McCormack said he was ready and willing to go before the grand jury and tell his wife what information he had gained by his own investigation, and that at the same time he is closely watching what action

THELMA HARRIS

FRANCES DOIG

BARKING OF PET DOG BETTY today aroused Thelma Harris, 17, and she fled to the street as flames swept a three-story house at 60 Wendell st., Cambridge. She is pictured with her dog. Frances Doig, 15, residing on the third floor, is shown pointing to a hole burned in the wall near her bed. (Staff photos.)

Pet Dog Saves Many in Cambridge Fire

Fire, which started in a rubbish barrel near a furnace roared through a three story wooden dwelling at 60 Wendell st., Cambridge early today and drove out three families.

The blaze was discovered by Charles Bait who lived on the first floor. He sent his family outdoors and then awakened Mr. and Mrs. Doig on the second floor, and Miss Mary Daley on the third.

Miss Thelma Harris, 17, who also lives on the first floor was awakened by the barking of her pet dog Betty. Seizing Betty in her arms the girl escaped from the house.

SIX ARE SAVED FROM GAS FUMES

Victims of a fumes from some undetermined source, six occupants of an apartment house at 12 and 14 Erie st., Swampscott, were rushed today to the homes of neighbors for treatment.

Those that are being treated for poisoning from the fumes, which had been leaking slowly through the entire house all of last night, are Mr. and Mrs. Morris Green, Evelyn Green, Gilda Lambert, Frederick Brown and Bessie Brown Jr. aged three and a half. None is critically ill.

The leaking gas is thought to have come from an old pipe in the cellar. Lynn Gas & Electric Co. officials are investigating.

BURGLARS LOOT THREE PLACES

Three [illegible] were reported to police today with losses including the pay envelope of an office boy.

The envelope, containing $8, was taken from the Spaulding Moss blueprint office in the Park at building where the thieves entered after crawling along a ledge from a skylight on the fourth floor.

The envelope escaped [illegible] William Dugan who had collected [illegible] and a dozen pairs of shoes were taken. A grating and shutters were forced.

The third was at Fecher Bros. music store, 2 Tremont st. A [illegible] saxophone were taken after thieves forced the rear door.

WARY COP NABS 3, LOOT FOUND

The alertness of a policeman today resulted in the recovery of about $1500 worth of stolen silverware and clothing in the Back Bay, and the arrest of three youths technically held as suspicious persons.

Their capture followed discovery by Patrolman Maurice Sheehy of a jimmy and two masked flashlights in a car parked in front of 792 Beacon st.

According to Capt. Jeremiah Mosher of the Back Bay station, the youths admitted breaks in Northampton, Amherst and Wesley, but denied any in Boston.

Vincent Dunn, of a Brighton ave. "Drive Yourself" automobile company, told police he rented the car to the three youths last Saturday.

Dunn appeared at this moment and claimed the car. Sheehy then went into the house and took the three youths to the Back Bay station. [illegible] house was the one named to live in Northampton as Amherst.

According to Capt. Thomas Hayes, who began an investigation on the stolen property was found in the room [illegible] up a pile [illegible]

Skidding Truck Rams Wall; Driver Escapes

A four ton coal truck owned by the Shawmut Coal Co., today, skidded on Highland st., Chelsea, and crashed into a two-story apartment house at 119 Highland st., making a huge ragged hole into the wall of the [illegible] apartment of [illegible]

The truck was empty and was operated by Harry Farrington, who was uninjured.

Mild Snow Storm Here, Colder Tuesday

Promised by the weather man for several days now from Atlantic in Boston this morning. Due to the unusual high accompanying temperature which was [illegible] 30s throughout the day, the storm will not reach much intensity. However, a drop in the mercury is predicted for tomorrow, when the winds are due for shift from northwest to southerly.

Man Stricken in Church; Dies in Home

Stricken with a heart attack while attending the 11:00 o'clock [illegible] Church, Dorchester, yesterday afternoon, Charles F. Goodale, 49, of 40 Ashland st., Dorchester, died in his home a short time later.

Arrival of Woman M. P. Here Delayed

Miss Ellen Wilkinson, Labor member of the British Parliament, who will address the annual dinner meeting of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom tonight, will not arrive here until this evening, according to a message received [illegible]

Miss Wilkinson was to have met Governor Eley at noon and also was scheduled to make several public appearances this afternoon.

$50 Weekly for News and Picture Tips

Do you want to get money for being alert? If so, the Boston Evening American offers the opportunity. Each week $50 in prizes will be given for news and picture tips telephoned into the News Tip Editor, at Liberty 1000.

And what is a news tip? It's the information that something of interest to Greater Bostonians has taken place or will take place. Do you know, for instance, that an interesting picture is to be obtained, that an accident or an unusual event has happened, that there is going to be a business merger? That's a news tip. If you have a camera, take a picture of some news event, while it is happening. Pictures of unusual animal poses are wanted, too. Bring your action pictures to the American quick. Delay often spoils them for use in the American.

There will be $15 given weekly for the best or an unusual event news tip received; $10 for the next best; $5 for the next best, and $2 prizes for each of the 10 next most valuable tips. Of course, the first one who turns in the tip in an interesting event receives the award on that particular item. Anyone who is alive and alert can win.

GOVERNMENT FOES CALLED COWARDS IN ADDRESS

Holy Name Society Members Called on to Preach Gospel of Peace, Contentment

Propagandists who are creating a spirit of discontent to such an extent that no government feels safe were assailed as cowards by Cardinal O'Connell in an address to 4000 men at the Cathedral of the Holy Cross, at one of 60 meetings held throughout the archdiocese yesterday in observance of Holy Name Sunday, and which were attended by more than 200,000.

His Eminence called on members of the Holy Name Society to go forth and preach the gospel of peace and contentment and fight against the opponents of the movement of discontent who work secretly and often times violently in the dark.

Thousands of members of the Holy Name Society received communion yesterday morning and in the afternoon services were held in churches throughout the archdiocese, in many cases the societies of two or more parishes uniting.

SEES SOLUTION

Solution for the problem of discontent rest with men of the Holy Name Society, the cardinal said.

"It is for such as them to see, he said, that the rights of life are not taken away by the happiness [illegible] appreciating the [illegible] and impending [illegible] peace will not [illegible] the foundations of the republic.

The cardinal said in part:

"I always look forward every year to the beautiful and inspiring sight which comes to us the second Sunday in January each year, and that inspiring sight which we see here in the Cathedral is being multiplied again and again in different communities in the whole diocese.

"Through the society simple as it is, you are able to sanctify your lives, learn faith, hope and charity and gird yourself round with an impregnable wall against the attacks of the evil one.

"Now my dear men, one of the diseases of the day is discontent. They call it 'unrest.' Call it what you will, the real root of the problem is discontent. You look out on a world in which no one is satisfied with the position in life, or the work that he has to do. The times are so agitated one scarcely knows what is going to happen tomorrow.

WELFARE OF AMERICA

"Millions and millions that are disseminating the gospel of discontent are enemies of God and man. Why can't you men of the Holy name have as much zeal for God as the enemies, who are trying to destroy your faith in government, faith in God? There is your mission.

"If we have enough men of courage we might well be sure of the welfare of America, for after all, these enemies of God are cowards, who work in the dark secretly and oftentimes violently. Men of the Holy Name, faithful to heart, with the courage of soldiers, preach the gospel of peace and if necessary of suffering—for after all, it is through suffering that the greatest happiness comes—and you have a pledge of your eternal happiness in the hereafter."

Clarks Observe Golden Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Peterson Clark of 21 Pleasant st., Newton Centre, are celebrating their golden wedding anniversary today at their home with an open house to [illegible] friends informally from 3 [illegible] o'clock. A dinner for 30 members of the immediate families will be given this evening.

The sons and daughters present are Mrs. Mary Lancaster Hyde of New York, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Clark of Revere, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Shirley of Newton, Mr. and Mrs. Philip S. Clark of Brunswick, Me. Nine grandchildren are also present.

Ladies' Night to Be Held by Pishon Post

The annual ladies' night of Crosby-Pishon Post, American Legion, outstanding social event of the winter season for the members of that organization, will be held in the Hotel Bradford next Wednesday evening. A supper dance and program of entertainment, including special stars now appearing in Boston as well be the principal features of the evening.

News in Want Ads

—A Roxbury firm has a number of 1909 automobiles which may be purchased for a fraction of their new-car cost. Two sedans have been run only 1000 miles, another has traveled only 4000 miles. The stock includes many high grade makes.

—New apartments are for rent in a desirable section of Somerville. All suites are equipped with electric refrigeration. The location is within 15 minutes of Boston.

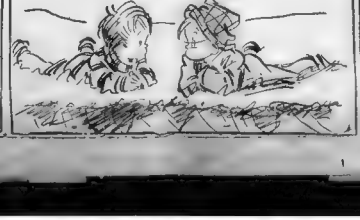
—A position is open for a man who can cover New England for a firm dealing in hotel and restaurant equipment. The position carries a salary and is permanent.

—A man's wrist watch, with a [illegible] band has been lost in the subway between Scollay sq. and Park st., or in the Dorchester tunnel. A reward will be paid for its [illegible]

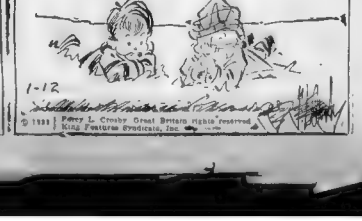
SEE WANT ADS

SKIPPY

A Misfit



By Percy Crosby



SULLIVAN BARES BRIBES AND THREAT 'IF HE TOLD ON POLICE'

PLOT PUT HIM IN ASYLUM, HE TELLS CROWDED COURTROOM

John F. Sullivan, former owner of the Hotel Ritz, was returned to the stand at the reopening of the Garrett trial today. He was under cross-examination by Atty. Daniel J. Gallagher.

Q—Previous to the opening of the Ritz Hotel, you had owned the Oxford Hotel on Huntington ave.? A—Yes

Q—How long did you run that place? A—Four or five years

Q—Before that what business were you in? A—Liquor.

Q—You mean you ran a saloon? A—Yes

Q—How many years? A—Eight years

Q—What did you do before that? A—I was a barkeeper.

Q—Can you give us the names of any of the places? A—Clark's Hotel.

Q—You mean you were a bartender there? A—Yes

Q—Your principal business has been either in the hotel or liquor business? A—Yes

Q—You told us Friday, did you not, that your reason for going to Atty. General, previous to the time you testified at the hearing, was because you had been told by my lawyer that Garrett, Officer Tiernan and Sergt. Timmins had turned state's evidence? A—I believe so

TO ESCAPE PRISON

Q—Well, Mr. Sullivan, have you any doubt about that? A—I haven't

Q—Well, what was it that influenced you to go to your lawyer? A—Mr. Callahan told me I testified against the police I would be sent to State Prison.

Q—Mr. Callahan told you if you testified against the police you would be sent to State Prison? A—Yes.

Sullivan testified, under cross examination, that Atty. Chamberlain told him that Sergt. Timmins and Special Officer Tiernan had turned State's evidence, and that he (Sullivan) had been told he would go to prison if he testified against the police

Q—You knew, did you not, that you would be given immunity if you testified before the attorney general? A—I did not.

Q—Did you not find out, Mr. Sullivan, that if you testified you would get immunity? A—Yes.

LEARNS OF IMMUNITY

Q—When did you discover that? A—When the case went on trial.

Q—You mean the hearing? A—Yes

Q—When did you learn you were to be given immunity? A—I saw it in the papers

Q—You knew before the hearing you would get it, didn't you? A—No.

Q—Well, if you didn't know before and you didn't know after, will you please tell us when you did find out that you would be given immunity? A—When the hearing first started

Q—Did you know what you needed counsel for if you were going to tell the truth? A—No.

Q—Did Mr. Mayberry tell you why he wanted to retain counsel instead of acting for you himself? A—No.

"MAYBERRY PAID HIM"

Q—I believe you told us that Lafayette Chamberlain acted for you? A—Yes

Q—Had you ever met Mr. Chamberlain? A—No, I had not

The former Hotel Ritz owner declared that he paid Atty. Chamberlain money through Atty. Mayberry, although Atty. Chamberlain never before had acted for the Ritz Hotel

Q—Do you know there was a settlement of $20,000 in the Hotel Oxford case and he retained some of the money and out of that he deducted enough to pay Mr. Chamberlain? Do you remember the amount Mr. Mayberry paid Mr. Chamberlain? Answer yes or no A—Yes

Q—Your recollection on that, Mr. Sullivan, is all right? A—I don't know why it shouldn't be.

TOLD TO TELL TRUTH

Q—What service did Mr. Chamberlain render you? A—He walked up to the State House.

Sullivan Claimed He Had Been 'Double-Crossed'

Q—When it was all done you realized you could have done it yourself? A—I did

Q—Did Mr. Mayberry charge you something? A—No.

Q—Don't you claim you were double-crossed, Mr. Sullivan? A—I did

Q—By double-crossed you mean deceived? A—Yes.

Q—Did you say that Mr. Mayberry deceived you? A—No.

Q—Now, Mr. Sullivan, do you remember me asking you this question Friday? Then I ask you again —Why did you tell that to the attorney-general under oath? Do you remember that? A—Yes

Q—What was your answer? A—I do not know.

Q—Why didn't you say you lied to the Attorney-General? A—I don't know, I am sure. I misunderstood the question

Q—What did you think I meant? A—I thought you were referring to the Cockinos case.

Q—Did the Attorney-General have anything to do with the Cockinos case? A—No.

LIED UNINTENTIONALLY

Q—As a matter of fact, you did lie before the Attorney-General? A—No, I did not.

Q—Let's see, you told Mr. Hall, the special assistant attorney-general—did you not—at the hearing in the Attorney-General's office, that you had told the truth in the Cockinos case about everything except the matter of giving money to police officers? A—Yes

Q—When you testified in the Cockinos case you said you never sold liquor? A—I don't remember

Denies He Hid Out When Garrett Expose Threatened

Q—Before going to Mr. Mayberry's office when you received his telephone request as where were you? A 271 Newbury st.

Q—Did you go alone? A—Yes

Q—Had you been at home all day, up to the time you got the message? A—Yes

Q—Before the telephone message did you have any intention or plans to consult Mayberry or any other lawyer about the Garrett matter? A—No.

Q—It's a fact, is it not, that for several days and nights previous to the telephone message you had not been at home? A—No.

Q—Had you not spent several days in a place known as a disorderly hotel? A—No.

HAD BEEN DRINKING

Q—You don't know the place I refer to? A—No.

Q—In your experience as a caterer in the hotel had you ever heard of a disorderly hotel? A—Yes, it is a cheap hotel.

Q—You do know of such places on Warrenton st? A—No.

Q—Then you would say that you were not, for several days, at a hotel on Warrenton st? A—Yes.

Q—Were you there the day before you went to see Mr. Mayberry? A—No.

Q—You were not there the night before? A—No.

Q—Did you ride to Mr. Mayberry's office? A—Yes, in a taxi

Q—Were you ever in a disorderly house on Common st.? A—No.

Q—Had you been drinking just before you went to see Mr. Mayberry? A—I may have been.

Q—Drinking a little more than was good for you? A—I don't think so.

Q—You mean by that you were not drunk enough to be locked up? A—No.

Q—Were you drinking vanilla extract? A—I might have been.

Q—Were you under the influence of that flavor? A—I don't think I was.

Q—Are you a vanilla extract addict? A—No, sir.

DOESN'T REMEMBER

Q—You only use it occasionally? A—I use it.

Q You prefer the standard brands of whiskey, of course? Why were you using vanilla extract? You were worried about your breath, were you? A—I don't recollect

Q The United States authorities had been looking into your affairs, can't that so? A—Not to my knowledge

QUIZZED ON SUICIDE

Q You mean to say you didn't know that they had started to look into your affairs? A—Not to my knowledge (The witness mumbled something about Garrett.)

Q—You started to say something about Mr. Garrett? A—I heard they were looking into Mr. Garrett's affairs.

Q—What was worrying you? A—I had a big financial loss.

Q—Was that all? A—Wasn't that enough?

Q—Previous to the attorney-general's hearing did you attempt suicide? A—I don't recollect.

Q Didn't you, at one time "I am not fit to live" and whetting the blade of a knife along a bar in Lynn in order to end it all? A—No I did not.

Q That you left a number of pals in Lynn at baths that you were going to commit suicide? A—No

Q Who accompanied you to the I. st baths when you went there? A I don't remember.

Q Have you a brother? A Yes

WATCHED BY FRIENDS

Q What is his name? Did he go there with you? A—Daniel, he may have

Q—Do you know any Brownies, as they are called, at L st.? A—No

Q—Do you know Bill Hanrahan? Do you know Jerry McNamara? A—I know McNamara.

Q—Did you know some of your friends over there were watching you closely so you would not commit suicide? A—No

Q—Do you know Dan Sullivan? A No

Q—Do you know Tom McGrath? A—No

Q—Do you know a hotel man by the name of Joseph Breece? A—No.

Q—Do you know John Nilan, a member of the Cambridge police department? A—No

Q—Do you know a George Cuddihy, a letter carrier? A—No

Q—Do you know a William Hackett? Did you tell him you were going to take poison? A—No.

POISONED BY MISTAKE

Q—Now do you know a fellow at L st., whom they called Big Dan? A—No.

Q—You mean you never told anyone you were going to take poison? A—No.

Q—Did you ever take poison? A—Not intentionally.

Q—You took it with an idea of killing yourself? A—By mistake.

Q—Where were you then? A—In the bathroom

Q—At your home? A—No, in the hotel.

DIDN'T ASK LICENSE

Q—Was that the only time you took poison? A—Yes

Q Now, before you closed up the hotel in September, 1928, business had kind of petered out, had it not? A—I don't recollect the business

Q—Well, you were refused your license in May, 1928? A—I didn't apply.

Q—Previous to the closing, the company was holding the license on a sort of probation, wasn't it? A—Yes.

Q In the proceeding before the excise board Mr. Mayberry represented you? A No, Mr. Gallagher.

Q Mr. Robert Gallagher who was at that time in Mr Mayberry's office? A Yes

Q During May, June, July and August, up to September, business had fallen off considerably had it not? A Yes

Q—Do you not recollect having a serious disorder of mind at that time? A—No

Q You were feeling all right? A Yes

DOESN'T RECALL GUARD

Q—You were in good health? A -No, I wouldn't say so.

Q—Were you not under constant guard—somebody watching you to see you did not drink too much or do yourself harm? A—No.

Q—Were you going home every night? A—I can't remember.

Q—Is it not true that you were in a very serious nervous and physical and mental condition? A—I wouldn't say so.

Q—Did you not have a doctor in attendance by the name of Preble? A—Yes.

Q—During that time did you have the attendance of several doctors? A—I can't recollect.

Q—Do you recognize the name of Dr. Barry or Barrett? Do you remember having more than one doctor? A—No, I can't recollect

Q—Now, between May 1, 1928, and the time of the closing of the hotel in September, you were at a sanitarium, weren't you? A—Yes.

Q—What sanitarium was it? A.—Dr. Ring's

Q—Where is that? A—Arlington

NERVOUS COLLAPSE.

Q How long wereyou there? A Six weeks

Q—What did you go there for? A Nervous breakdown

Q Did another doctor send you there? A- I don't recollect.

Q When you were there were you visited by any physician other than a member of the staff of that hospital? A—Possibly.

Q—Did you have any treatment there? A -Yes

Q—Who were the doctors who treated you? A. I don't recollect.

Q—Did you go to the hospital at any time the hotel closed? A—At the time the hotel closed.

Q—You said previously that it was before the hotel closed? A—It might have been.

Q—Well, was it before? A—I believe it was

Q—You were there three weeks? A—Six weeks

Q—What did you tell us your age was? A—Fifty-four years old.

Q—After the six weeks you spent at Dr. King's place, did you return home? A—I believe I did

Q—Had you recovered from your illness? A—No.

Q—Had you improved? A Somewhat.

Q—Were you able to conduct your business at the hotel? A No, I was not.

Sullivan in Sanitarium 5 Times, Denies He Ever Lost Faculties

Q But you were at the hotel, weren't you? A I may have been.

Q—Have you ever been to other sanitaria for treatment? A—Yes.

Q—How many times? A—Five times.

Q Can you give us the names of some of them? A—McLean's at Waverley and Mr. Muldoon's at White Plains, N. Y.

Q When were you at Waverley? A Two or three years ago

Q—Did you have the same trouble? A—Yes, a breakdown.

Q—Did you have the same malady at Mr. Muldoon's sanitarium? A—Yes

Q—When were you at Mr. Muldoon's? A Fifteen years ago.

Q—During these periods of infirmity at the places you have mentioned, were you conscious of all of your mental faculties or your memory? A—I was.

NAMED ONLY 3 OFFICERS

Q—Could you recall occurrences at these sanatoria as well as you recall the occurrences at the Ritz Hotel? A—I think so.

Q—Any better? A—(There was no answer).

Q—When you went to Mr. Mayberry's office and before you were transferred to Mr. Chamberlain, you mentioned to both the names of Garrett, Sergt. Timmons and Officer Tiernan—and no other officer. That's right, isn't it? A—Yes.

Q—And you accused those three officers and no others? A—Yes

Q—Speaking to Mr. Bickford, you understood he was a special assistant to Atty-Gen. Warner, didn't you? A—Yes.

Q—Did he say that Garrett, Sergt. Timmons and Tiernan had turned State's evidence? A—No.

Q—And you said nothing about that to him? A—No.

SAYS HE PAID 3

Q—Did Mr. Chamberlain, in your hearing, say anything to Bickford about that? A—I don't know.

Q—Did you mean by that that he may have or may not have? A—I didn't say that.

Q—Then you would not say that Mr. Chamberlain did not tell Mr. Bickford that in your hearing? A—I didn't hear him

Q—Do you remember what you told the attorney-general about Garrett, Timmons and Tiernan? A—I told him I paid Tiernan $20 a month, Sergt. Timmons $25 a month and Mr. Garrett $50 a month.

Q—Now Mr. Sullivan, let me see if I can refresh your recollection I will read you these questions and answers: "Q—Do you know Officer Timmons? A—Yes. Q—Did you begin to pay him money? A—I did. Q—Do you know when it was you began to pay him some money? A—A short while before I was closed up" (Atty. Gallagher was reading from the transcript of testimony.)

Q—Do you remember those questions and answers? A—Yes

Q—And now I will read you some more questions and answers: "Q—How much did you pay him', speaking of Timmons, and you answered $20 a month.

Now, Mr. Sullivan, do you still want to say that you were paying Timmons $25 a month? A—I don't remember.

Q—You just said you had been paying Timmons $25 a month. (There was no answer.)

"PAID HIM $20 OR $25

Q—Was it $20 or $25 a month you paid to Timmons? A—I cannot say.

Q—Sullivan, did you ever pay Timmons anything? A—Yes, I did.

Q—How much? A—Twenty or $25.

Gallagher then walked to the witness stand and showing Sullivan part of his testimony at the attorney-general's hearing. He read the following questions and answers. "Q—Now do you know Officer Tiernan? A—Yes. Q—Did you pay him any money? A—Twenty dollars a month. Q—How long a period did you pay him $20 a month? A—I just don't recollect. Q—How long before the place was padlocked were you paying him' A—A couple of years."

Q—Was the place padlocked? A—I couldn't say.

Q—Well, was that the truth? A—I couldn't say.

Q—Well, you did say before the Attorney-General that the place was padlocked? A—Yes, I did.

WORDS TURNED ON HIM

Q—What did you mean by padlock? A—I don't know.

Gallagher started to read questions again from the attorney general's hearing. "Q—Did you pay Tiernan A—In bills Q Where did he take the money. A—At the hotel

The cross-examination was resumed.

Q—Was this testimony true. A—Yes

Q—Well you told quite a different story before the Cockinos trial about Tiernan and Timmons? A Yes

Gallagher then read testimony from the Cockinos trial transcript of the cross-examination of Atty Edward J Tierney, who defended Cross "Q You knew Mr Tiernan did you? A—I didn't know he was a police headquarters man Q Well, never mind where he came from, did he ever take part in any of the raids at the hotel? A—I believe he was in a few raids Q—Who was the other man from police headquarters or any other place A I don't remember many of the other police officers Q—You knew Sergt Timmons very well, didn't you? A—Not very well, he used to come in and inspect the dining-room every once in a while."

Q—Was that testimony true. A—No.

Q—Well, that adds one more to the list of lies to the Attorney-General. A—Yes.

Q—You knew him well enough to hand him $20 or $25 a month and you would call that knowing him intimately—You would call that knowing him well, wouldn't you? A—I would

Q—After the hearing at the Attorney-General's office, you went to another sanitarium? A—Yes.

Q—About when was that. A—Several days.

Q—That was to the state Insane institution at Danvers. A—Yes.

Q—Who arranged that you should go there. A—I don't know who was behind that plot.

Q—Oh it was a plot (Sullivan refused to answer, just nodding his head.)

Q—Do you believe the sanitarium authorities were in on the plot? A—No.

Q—Did you Mr. Chamberlain go down with you. A—No.

Q—Did Mr Chamberlain visit you? A—Yes.

Q—How many times? A—Once.

Q—Did you send for him? A—No.

Q—Did you know you were going to the insane asylum at Danvers before you got there? A—No

Q—Did the Attorney-General have anything to do with your going to Danvers? A I don't believe he did

IN NERVOUS STATE

Q—Did he see you while you were down there? A—No.

Q—Weren't you in a rather nervous mental condition? A—I was in a nervous condition, I don't know how serious it was.

Q—How long after April 4 was it that you went to Danvers? A—I don't know.

Q—Do you recall that you came direct from the institution to the Grand Jury? Then can't you recollect when it was? A—I can't remember whether I testified in the Grand Jury before I went to Danvers or after I came back.

Q—You have been under police guard right along, have you not? A—Yes.

NO GARRETT PROMISE

Q—Who was the officer? A—Officer Morrissey (At this point Morrissey stood up.)

Q—He and Inspector Donovan relieve each other, do they not? A—Yes

Q—Who was the other officer? A—Haggerty.

Garrett Smile—A Recess Chat—More Evidence Today

OLIVER B. GARRETT and his wife smiling and chatting during recess at the Suffolk Superior Court, where they are on trial with Miss Lillian V. Hatch. A little game of holding fingers was on as the camera clicked. (Staff photo.)

"YOU PROMISE." Miss Anna Manning was sworn in to assist in the stenographic work in the trial. Work had become too heavy for the court reporters who have been putting down thousands of word characters. (Staff photo.)

DOES NOT REGRET TESTIMONY AGAINST GARRETT, HE SAYS

Q—You went into the Grand Jury room and testified that Timmons and Tiernan had accepted bribe money for you? (Doyle objected to the question).

Q You testified twice? A I don t remember

Q—But you did testify the only money given was for a present or a tip" A—No, I didn't. I said I gave them $20

Q—At any time were you told that it would not be necessary for you to come to court and testify against Garrett? A No

Q—Did anyone at any time give you to understand that you would not be called to court to testify against Garrett? A—No.

Q After you came back from Danvers you were still in somewhat of a disturbed and agitated mental condition, were you not? A—Yes

Q—You suffered from remorse and regret for having testified before the Attorney-General, did you not? A—I suppose I did

Q Do you recall expressing your remorse and regret A Very plainly

Q—Do you recall opening the window in your house, looking up and crying, "Oh God, strike me dead! I don't deserve to live!" A—No, I did not say that.

Q You were conscious stricken? A I don't remember.

Q Your remorse and regret was upon your conscience because you had done Garrett and his family a tremendous injury? A Not at all

"GARRETT RUINED ME"

Q—Then why were you remorseful and regretful? A I don t know

Q—You mean to say that you suffered that remorse and regret without knowing what you regretted? A—I did not regret testifying against Mr. Garrett, because he ruined me.

Q You say Garrett ruined you and therefore you didn't regret testifying? A—Yes

Q—Tell us all about Garrett's ruination of you and everything he did that you can recollect. A.—Three or four times Garrett came in and went upstairs and raided my house. At that time I was paying him from $50 to $100 a month.

Q—Have you now mentioned everything which in your mind constitutes the ruination which you say Garrett inflicted upon you? A I don t know

Q You say the ruination consisted first of his having double crossed you Tell us what you mean A—Garrett had taken liquor from the house on several occasions

Q What is it that stings your conscience that he took some money? A Both, until a fixed

Q According to your code of morals, you are as much to blame as he in giving him money? You were just as bad" A I don't think so, he was police officer

BRIBERS BOTH BAD

Q—Do you think it is just as bad to take a bribe as to give one? A—Yes.

Q—It was hardly worth while for a house proprietor running the kind of a joint you were to bribe anybody, but for a police officer it was bad? A I don't know just how to answer

Q—Well, if there was any bribe given, you would consider yourself just as bad for trying to corrupt a police officer as the police officer was for accepting the money? A—No

Q—If your ruin consisted largely of being double-crossed by Garrett and the double-crossing was the taking of money and Garrett taking the liquor, you would agree you had contributed something to your own ruin? A—Yes

"MORE THAN $65,000

Q—Even according to your own ethics and morality, John Sullivan did a great deal to ruin himself, isn't that right? A—I can't tell you.

Q—When did you start to tell people that Garrett was responsible for your financial and social ruination? —I don't know.

Q—As a matter of fact, you have told several people that, haven't you? A—I can't recollect

Q—When did you tell people Garrett took you for more than $65,000? A—It took me for more than that.

Q—Didn't you say $65,000? A—I didn't say that?

Q—How much did you say? A—I don't remember.

Q—Will you say, positively, that you never said Garrett took $65,000? A—I don't remember

Q—Well, if you did say that Garrett got $65,000 from you, was it true? A—Yes.

Q—Can you figure for us here the total? A—No.

Q—Why? A—I can't

Q—How do you get at it? A—I have not got it exact

Q—Will you give it to us within $2000 or $3000 A—I haven't any records

CRASH TIES UP TROLLEYS

A construction truck, said to have been stolen by joy-riders smashed into a cast iron overhead pole at Dorchester ave near Southampton st., at 6 o'clock last night, and cut the whole South Boston peninsula completely off from the rest of the city for more than three hours as far as street car traffic was concerned

Hundreds of persons, the majority of them bound in town for theaters or churches, were delayed for half an hour or more, until a fleet of buses could be pressed into service.

South apton st., Dorchester st. and Dorchester ave. were the three trolley car arteries paralyzed.

The truck, owned by the Coleman Brothers Construction Co, Police stated that the driver of the truck is John Sullivan, of 32 Chester st. Sullivan declared he left the truck parked on Mt. Vernon st. some time before, and that it had been stolen apparently by joy-riders who took it on a joy ride. The boys disappeared at the time of the crash

The pole which was struck carried two boxes, each containing a switch controlling power lines for trolley cars in and out of South Boston

Advertisement

First Thing to Do for a Cold

Open the bowels, drink plenty of water and relieve any congestion in head or chest by the use of Albatum Albatum is a new-found preparation that works two ways at once. It acts locally on the affected parts and at the same time releases penetrating vapors which you breathe. You get a twofold effect of vital importance in relieving congestion and in stopping a cold. Anything less is half-way measures. In case of chest colds, apply Albatum to both chest and back and to nostrils. In case of head colds or stuffed nose apply only to nostrils. In quick time circulation is restored and cold relieved — any unpleasant after-effects. Albatum, unlike other preparations, is clean to use—does not stain clothing. All McKesson Service Druggists and other independent drug stores sell Albatum. Note the name, A McKesson & Robbins product.

Advertisement

EASIEST WAY TO BREAK UP A COLD

Millions Say of This Proved Way

Works Fast—Makes You Feel Like a New Person Before You Know It

If you want quick relief from a cold, go back to first principles and use something you know does the business—don't start "trying" a lot of people's ideas or remedies. Even a "little" cold is too dangerous to take chances on

Get Hill's Cascara Quinine, A scientific formula made to do ONE THING WELL: to knock a cold in a nifty, not to cure a hundred different things.

Take two tablets every three hours. Drink lots of water between times—that's all. Soon those mean, aching pains in head and body begin to go; the cold breaks up; poisons leave your system. Almost before you know it, you feel like a new person.

If it doesn't do that, your money back. It's so sure now, you'll be surprised at the speed with which it works. Costs only a few cents.

HILL'S Cascara Quinine Compound

4 Newton Paralysis Cases

Four cases of infantile paralysis and nine cases of scarlet fever were reported in Newton during December.

League Plans for Sessions of School

At its Foreign Affairs school which will be conducted Jan. 27, 28 and 29 at Agassiz House, Radcliffe College, the Massachusetts League of Women Voters plan to devote the program to world conditions of unemployment and economic depression

Mrs Charles Peabody has been made chairman of a committee for the dramatic presentation of the World Court in four scenes. The general program is in charge of Mrs Vrue Worthy White, assisted by Miss Elizabeth Bridge Piper, Mrs Peabody, Mrs Henry Randolph Brigham, Mrs Frank Gaylord Magoun, Mrs Edwin J. Cohn, Mrs. Brenton K. Fisk, Mrs. Lewis Jerome Johnson and Miss Leslie White Hopkinson.

PAINLESS DENTISTRY

DON'T LET FEAR or Lack of Cash Keep You Away

Have your dental work done now and pay for it in convenient, small monthly payments

$12 UPPER OR LOWER

Broken Plates Repaired in 3 Hours

Summer St. Dentists

CHAPPELL DENTAL CO., Prop.

48 SUMMER ST. COR. ARCH ST. Hours Phone

'BILLY' STEARNS' WAR RECORD TRACED IN FIGHT OVER ESTATE

First Visit in Six Years

MRS. GRAY-EDWARDS MAJ. GRAY-EDWARDS

MAJ. AND MRS. H. B. R. Gray-Edwards of England paid their first visit to Boston in six years today when they landed here from the liner Baltic. They are to visit with Mrs. Gray-Edwards mother, Mrs. George Lee of 301 Berkeley st., Back Bay, while here. (Staff photo.)

WOMAN SAYS HE PROPOSED ON LEAVE

"Buddy" Who Accompanied Dead Youth to Tours Denies He Ever Saw Her

The record in France of "Billy" Stearns, deceased son of the late Richard Sprague Stearns, was offered in Suffolk court today to contradict testimony of Louise French, who claims a fifth of the Stearns $300,000 estate.

Mrs. French brought suit as a "dutiful daughter in view of the dissolution of her marriage with the elder Stearns because of California divorce laws. She said the father called her the dutiful daughter and provided for her in his will.

She testified she was drawn to the father by love of the son and that the latter proposed to her while he was on leave from the front at Tours France.

Gen. William T. McMillan testified of a week's official leave to Tours for Stearns before he was killed in 1918 and said there were no records of absence without leave.

Roy W. Hall of Andover, wartime buddy of Stearns, told the court he was on the same leave with Stearns and said he never saw Mrs. French until he came to court today.

Expert

A NEW DIRECTOR has been appointed for the Garland School of Homemaking. She is Mrs. Gladys Beckett Jones. (Bachrach.)

NEW DIRECTOR FOR SCHOOL

Mrs. Gladys Beckett Jones has been appointed director of the Garland School of Homemaking to succeed Mrs. Margaret Stannard, whose resignation takes effect at the end of the present school year. Mrs. Lewis Jerome Johnson, president, announced today.

Mrs. Jones, who has a master's degree from Columbia University, has been associated with the Garland school since 1923, first as instructor and later as assistant director. She is advisor of the institute of homemaking and related vocations at Boston University and has been resident lecturer at the institute of euthenics at Vassar College. She is prominent in several women's clubs.

The Garland school was founded by Mrs. Stannard in 1902. It was the first school of its kind in the country and has not only provided a course of study in intelligent living for a thousand and more young women, but has stimulated humanized education of a similar kind in other schools. Mrs. Stannard is retiring from school administration to devote her attention to other homemaking education aspects.

New plans for the further development of the school and its work will be announced in the near future.

THOUSANDS PAY TRIBUTE TO SLAIN GIRL

Mother Is in Collapse as the "Love Death Victim" Is Buried in Malden

One of the greatest tributes ever paid a young person in Malden was witnessed yesterday at the funeral of Miss Lillian R. Franks, who was shot to death in Franklin Field, Friday night, by Abraham Goldenberg, 23, of Lorne st., Mattapan.

More than 3000 persons filed through the girl's home at 531 Everett ave., before the funeral services were held and when the police on finally got under way there were as many more in streets nearby who had been unable to enter the home.

POLICE CLEAR WAY

The services at the home were scheduled to start at 12 o'clock. The body came from the undertaker's at 11:30, and the street and home had to be cleared by police of one hundreds converging on the house for a last tribute to the unfortunate schoolgirl, to enable the undertaker to get into the house.

For an hour the people filed in the front door and out the rear door of the Franks home. Because of the intense of the hour the tribute had to be stopped, and the Rev. Max Lansky conducted the prayer service in the home.

More than 150 automobiles were in the cortege to the Beth Israel Cemetery in Fuller st., Everett. On the way, as the funeral procession passed synagogues, it halted, mourners entered the temples and held brief prayer services. Such stops were made at the Beth Israel Synagogue in Faulkner st., Azudas Achim in Harvard st., and the Bryant st. temple.

MOTHER COLLAPSES

There were services also at the grave. Here Mrs. Lazarus Franks, the girl's mother, collapsed and was cared for by her four sons under direction of Dr. Harry J. Weintraub.

Goldenberg now is lodged in Charles st. jail following a confession a few hours after the crime. Louis Skonick, 25 who also lives on Lorne st., faces Dorchester court today charged with being an accessory before the fact of murder. Skonick furnished Goldenberg with the gun used in the killing a few days before the slaying.

New Solitary Cells at Charles St. Jail

THE CHARLES ST. JAIL is to have a new solitary cell section. It is being built in the foreground, at the intersection of Cambridge and Charles sts. This section and many feet of new wall are being built in the readjusting of section for a wider Charles st. A larger traffic circle and finally a station on the Cambridge subway line will be added.

NOTABLES LAND FROM BALTIC

A number of notables disembarked from the White Star liner Baltic this morning when she docked at Commonwealth Pier after an uneventful trip from Liverpool and Queenstown.

Major and Mrs. H. B. R. Gray-Edwards came to Boston to visit Mrs. Gray-Edwards' mother, Mrs. George Lee of 301 Berkeley st., it being their first trip to this country in six years.

Others who disembarked at Boston were L. F. Hellmuth, K. C. and wife; Mrs. R. Samuelson, daughter-in-law of Sir Herbert Samuelson, Mrs. M. O'Donovan, wife of the secretary to the minister from the Irish Free State at Washington with the Misses Marion and D. O'Donovan; Mrs. Inez Gates, daughter-in-law of Capt. Gates, of the steamship Minnetonka, and Cyril and William Walker, New Jersey golf professionals who spent the holidays with their parents in Manchester, England.

'Bozo,' Elks' Pet Cat, Saves Watchman From Flames

"Bozo," pet maltese cat of the Winthrop lodge of Elks, proved himself a real hero today, when he was credited with saving the life of Frank Edwards, night custodian of the lodge on Washington ave., Winthrop.

Early this morning a boiler in the cellar backfired, starting a raging blaze, which almost immediately started to creep up the cellar stairs to the first floor, where Edwards was asleep.

"Bozo," wandering about the cellar, leaped through the flames, scrambled up the stairs and leaped on the sleeping body of Edwards, awakening him. By this time the couch on which Edwards was sleeping was already starting to burn.

The damage was estimated at $5000.

Reception Given for Sir Philip Ben Greet

The future of the stage is far from hopeless despite the inroads of the movies and the talkies, or any other influence, according to Sir Philip Ben Greet, honor guest at a tea and reception at the residence of Mrs. Frederick H. Briggs, 449 Beacon st., last evening.

In the receiving line at the reception were the hostess, Sir Philip Ben Greet, Muriel Hutchinson Sheils, Gillaspie, Adela Ferguson, Russell Thorndike, W. E. Holloway, Frank Newman, George Hare, Reginald Jarman, Keith Beer, Donald Layne-Smith, Victor Watts-Weston, Peter Dearing, members of the Ben Greet Players, and Miss Lydia Walker, president of the A. Club.

Chatterbox Club Ball Next Friday

The Chatterbox Club of Boston will stage its 13th annual formal ball in the Princess ballroom of the Hotel Somerset next Friday evening. The committee in charge is composed of Anna Zimbaldi, Emma Caggiula and Mary D'Italia.

Golden Jubilee

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Peter Clark who were married in the old First Church in Newton, are celebrating their golden wedding today at their home, 71 Pleasant st., Newton Centre.

Church Dedication

The newly constructed building of the Union Church, West Watertown, will be dedicated during the week of February 8. Dedicatory services will be held on Sunday, February 8.

Mattox to Address Ad Club Tomorrow

W. C. Mattox, advertising manager of the Walworth Co., will speak before the Advertising Club of Boston at a luncheon tomorrow at 12:15 at the Hotel Statler. His subject will be "Advertising and Sales, The Right and Left Tackles of Business."

W. C. Mattox

Mr. Mattox, formerly a newspaper reporter in New York, later city editor of the Indianapolis Star and telegraph editor of the Detroit News, left newspaper work to take charge of the publication section of the Emergency Fleet Corp. under Charles M. Schwab.

When the shipbuilding agency demobilized at the end of the war, Mr. Mattox came to Boston as assistant to President Howard Coonley of the Walworth Co., and for the last five years has been advertising manager of that company.

Monahan Heads Committee

Joseph J. Monahan has been elected chairman of the Democratic town committee in Watertown. Vincent McDonough was chosen vice-chairman; John Harrison, secretary, and Arthur Fagan, treasurer.

To Wake up FIT Tomorrow Take one TONIGHT
Quick Relief for CONSTIPATION BILIOUSNESS BLOATING, ETC.
Cascarets 10c "THEY WORK" WHILE YOU SLEEP
Indigestion
Sassy stomach, morning sickness quickly relieved by taking Bromo-Seltzer
Centicotter, Mass., for Free Sample

AUTO CRASHES INTO STORE

A parked car, started in some manner at it stood in Cambridge st., near Chambers st., late yesterday, rolled across the street into the doorway of the store of Benjamin Feldman at 176 Cambridge st., forcing the framework of the door back about six inches.

Mrs. Feldman, who was in the store, collapsed. Her son, Milton, 12, who was with her, was later taken to Massachusetts General Hospital for an X-ray examination.

Officers from the Joy at station found the car from the doorway after bystanders failed. Inspector George Mulen of the Registry of Motor Vehicles inspected the brakes on the car and reported that they were in perfect condition.

The car had been parked at the spot by Victor Lieb of Washington st., Brookline.

Lydia Joy Draper in Debut Wednesday

Miss Lydia Joy Draper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clare Draper of Hopedale and Boston, will be presented to Boston society at the Hotel Somerset Wednesday evening.

Guests will include Princess Margaret Boncompagni (nee Draper), Miss Gretchen Upperci of New York city, Miss Caroline Starin of New York city, Miss Elizabeth Wells of Southbridge, Miss Sophie Carter White of Northbridge, Miss Lorraine Whiting Parsons of Whitinsville and Miss Caroline Hunnewell, Miss Kitty Talbot, Miss Charlot Ray, Miss Eleanor Rowe and Miss Marion Dalton.

Gen. Edwards, Y. D. Leader, Improves

Gen. Clarence R. Edwards, wartime commander of the Yankee Division was reported improved today at his home in Westwood. Gen. Edwards became ill last week with a stomach complaint.

A comfortable night and daytime rest today brought a decided improvement in his condition today, however, his physician said.

Duane to Reorganize Forestry Department

In his annual address to the Waltham City Council this evening Mayor Patrick J. Duane will recommend the reorganization of the forestry department in order to do away with the internal dissension that has occurred in that department during the past year.

Boston Boy Who Made Good at Hollywood

CURTIS NAGEL ANNE NAGEL

MRS. NAGEL MR. NAGEL

WHAT A QUARTET! Yes, they do sing, although their business is mostly moving picture doings. Curtis F. Nagel, Hollywood producer and director, flew to Boston from the coast to visit his family and his mother, Mrs. Sarah Nagel, at 236 Jamaicaway. Nagel was born in Boston, being formerly in theater business here. At present he is engineering a program to produce 26 pictures. Mrs. Nagel, at the piano; then we have Curtis, 16 months; Anne Marie Nagel, 17 years. The fourth person is Mr. Nagel. (Staff photo.)

PAZO for PILES GUARANTEED

CASH PRIZES IN LETTERS

Three generations have laughed their troubles away through the witticisms and comic antics of "Charley's Aunt," who will be the next attraction at RKO Keith's Theater, in a 1931 talking version.

A quaint character who reigned supreme as queen of comedy on the speaking stage, she surpassed her rivals and triumphed on the silent screen.

"Charley's Aunt" has been played in every language and in every civilized country in the world. "Laugh and the world laughs with you," is the slogan of this jolly lady and she believes in encouraging others to spread joy.

She wants to know if you have a relative who spreads sunshine wherever he or she goes. She offers $100 in prizes for the best letters, of not more than 150 words, telling of some incident brought about by a humorous relative that made gladness where gloom reigned before.

PRIZES FOR THE FOUR BEST LETTERS

1st prize	$50
2nd prize	25
3rd prize	13
4th prize	10

Letters may be mailed not later than Saturday, January 17, to "Charley's Aunt" Editor, Boston Evening American, 5 Winthrop sq.

Gay Old Sport

CHARLES RUGGLES makes a laugh provoking figure as "Charley's Aunt" in the picture of that name, next attraction at RKO's Keith theater.

Edith Rhine to Wed T. E. Harrington

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Rhine of 87 Morris st., Everett, announce the engagement of their daughter Miss Edith Rhine, to Thomas E. Harrington of Bridgeport, Conn. Miss Rhine is secretary to Headmaster William H. Rockwood of Everett high school. Harrington is connected with the Western Electric Company in Bridgeport, Conn.

20 Cows Rescued at Weston Fire

Twenty cows and two horses were rescued and damage estimated at $15,000 was caused by a spectacular fire that destroyed several farm buildings on the estate of Edward Jennings on Glen rd., Weston, yesterday.

The Weston firemen were aided by the fire departments of Newton and Wellesley.

Everett Girl to Marry Classmate

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Ward of 42 Wakefield st., Everett, announce the engagement of their daughter Miss Catherine Lennox Ward to Dr. T. Rowe Smith of Springfield. Miss Ward is employed by the Somerville Trust Co. and Dr. Smith is an optometrist in Springfield. Both were classmates at Everett high. No date has been set for the wedding.

Ex-Mayor Tibbetts Leaves Hospital

Ex-Mayor Albert M. Tibbetts, who underwent an operation during the final week of his administration and who was unable to take part in the inauguration of the new city government, returned to his home in Cedar Park, Melrose, yesterday.

Murdock Party Treasurer

Daniel R. W. Murdock, of 38 Pleasant st., Everett, has been elected treasurer of the Democratic State committee, succeeding Senator-Elect Marcus Coolidge.

DOG GIVES FIRE WARNING

Swampscott firemen believe no accident backing of a pet police dog probably saved the lives of four persons in the home of C. Hudson Johnson at 117 Burrill st. when it was gutted by flames early yesterday.

Johnson led his mother, Mrs. Julia Johnson, down the smoke-filled stairs to safety while Mrs. Evelyn Johnson and her daughter, Rosamond 14, trapped on the third floor climbed out the window to a roof three feet below, and were taken down a ladder to safety.

The dog was rescued by fireman Luke Thompson after the animal had been taken from the house.

The entire household was asleep when the fire broke out. The dog was in the room of the third floor where Rosamond was sleeping and its barking aroused Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, who found their room was filled with smoke.

HIGHWAY LIGHT BILL IN HOUSE

A bill providing for the construction of lights on the "through ways" of the Commonwealth that would make headlights on vehicles unnecessary was filed in the House today by Rep. rlen P. Anderson.

The new street lights, as described would be of a tremendous candle power making a light as bright as day.

A second section of the bill provides for the Commonwealth, subject to the approval of the Governor and the Council, to enter into all necessary contracts with manufacturers and electricians for the erection and maintenance of the lights.

During the year 1931 it is authorized by the bill that not over $1,000,000 be spent on the new illuminating system. These funds are to be taken from the highway fund.

The bill also provides for the State entering into contracts with cities towns and counties for part payment of the lighting. There will be conferences, according to the provisions of the bill, with boards of commissioners to determine how much payment for the highway lighting will be equitable.

Attacker Strikes Woman and Flees

Louisa Glover, 30, of Sacramento st., Somerville, was mysteriously attacked last night on Linnaean st., Cambridge, in front of Trowbridge House, a Radcliffe College dormitory.

An unidentified man, approaching her from behind, struck the woman with his fist and fled as she fell to the ground. The matron of the dormitory took Miss Glover inside and notified the police.

Doak to Address 2 Meetings in Boston

Secretary of Labor William N. Doak, recently appointed by President Hoover a Cabinet, will address the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs at the Hotel Statler on Jan. 22. That noon he will speak at the luncheon of the Crossed Sabres, Post of the American Legion at the Hotel Bradford.

Chinese Students Publish Directory

A students' directory published by the Chinese students of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology containing the names, addresses and activities of all Chinese students of the institute since 1887, was issued today.

When Best Is Broken
Deal Promptly with Kidney Irregularities

If bothered with kidney irregularities, getting up at night and constant backache, don't take chances! Help your kidneys at the first sign of disorder. Use Doan's Pills. Successful for more than 50 years. Endorsed the world over. Sold by dealers every where.

50,000 Users Publicly Endorse Doan's:

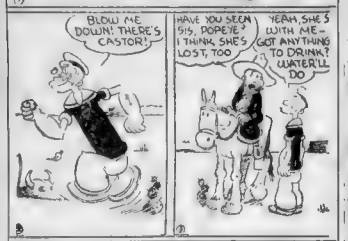
CHRIS. BILHORN, 103 E. MAIN ST., WEISER, IDAHO, says: "I was troubled with my kidneys. The secretions were cloudy, contained a thick sediment and were scanty and painful. My back was so sore and stiff in the mornings that sometimes I could hardly get out of bed. After using Doan's Pills I was completely cured of the attack."

Doan's Pills A Diuretic for the Kidneys

THE THIMBLE THEATER

By Segar

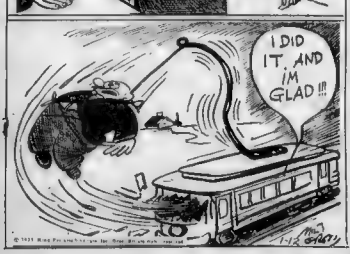
Now Showing—"A Man With Taking Ways"
Tomorrow—"Taken for a Ride"



I DID IT AND I'M GLAD

By Mill Gross

Reg. U. S. Patent Office



Kabibble Kabaret—By Hershfield

Registered U. S. Patent Office—Copyright, 1931, International Feature Service, Inc.

DEAR MR. KABIBBLE,
I WOULDN'T MARRY THE BEST MAN ON EARTH—AM I RIGHT?
—J. Z.
EVEN BEING WRONG WOULDN'T BOTHER YOU.

BRINGING UP FATHER

Flowers Shun for Jiggs

By George McManus

BY GOLLY! THE OLD GOUT IS SHOWIN' UP AGIN—I'LL PUT ME FOOT OUT THE WINDOW—
AN' LET THE SUN BAKE IT. GOSH! THAT FEELS GOOD.
1-12
WHAT'S THE MATTER?
SOME FAT-HEAD IN THE APARTMENT ABOVE DROPPED A FLOWER-POT ON MY FOOT.

POLLY AND HER PALS

Feline Facing

By Cliff Sterrett

Y'LIL CAT!
WHY PAW! I'M SURPRISED ATCHA!
NO GENTLEMAN EVER CALLS A LADY A CAT!
I AIN'T TALKIN' ABOUT NO LADY. I'M TALKIN' ABOUT GERTRUDE!
I WANT YOU TO PROMISE ME THAT NEVER AGAIN, AS LONG AS YOU LIVE, WILL YOU USE THAT EXPRESSION!
O.K., SUSIE. I'LL PROMISE!
BUT I STILL INSIST THAT HER MAMA "MEWS".
CLIFF STERRETT 1-12

TIM TYLER'S FLYING LUCK

Watchful Eyes

By Lym Young

EVER SINCE TUE THREE LADS ARRIVED BY PLANE IN THE ARCTIC REGION OF ALASKA, IN SEARCH OF BELSO RAGA, THINGS HAVE BEEN MOVING QUITE RAPIDLY—ESPECIALLY FOR YOUNG TIM, NOW A CAPTIVE IN THE HANDS OF THE MUCH SOUGHT BELSO RAGA! WE FIND SPUD HOT ON THE TRAIL OF HIS PAL—
HE THINKS HE CAN GET AWAY WITH TIM, EH? WAL, WELL SEE—WELL SEE
LET ME GO BACK TO MY FRIENDS? DO YOU HEAR? LET ME GO—
BELSO RAGA LOVE BOY.... WANT HIM—ALWAYS
HMM—SO THAT'S WHERE TH' OLD GIANT LIVES! SORT OF A HUT BUILT RIGHT INTO TH' SIDE OF TH' MOUNTING
IF ANYBODY COMES TRY TAKE BOY AWAY—THEY GET.... SHOT! YES?
!

LITTLE ANNIE ROONEY

Getting Next to Old Sol

By Darrell McClure

GEE, SH-LUCKY AS A HORSESHOE—THERE'S LOTS OF WORK FOR A KID TO DO AROUND THIS PLACE!
POOR MRS RUTLIDGE AIN'T A BIT WELL—AN' YOU KNOW MEN FOLKS AIN'T NO GOOD WHEN IT COMES TO DOING HOUSEWORK!
SO YOU SEE—WE'RE GETTING A LUCKY BREAK—A CHANCE TO WORK FOR OUR CHOW—AN' HELP SOMEONE WHO'S HELPING US!
AIN'T IT GRAND, ZERO—NO SNOW—NO ICE—WE'RE JUST LIKE THE RICH FOLKS WHO GO SOUTH FOR THE WINTER—NOTHIN' TO DO BUT LOAF AROUND AND SOAK UP A LOT OF SUNSHINE!

BARNEY GOOGLE

Under Lock and Key

By De Beck

LOCAL NEWS
COUNTRY BOY BELIEVED DROWNED.
CLOTHING FOUND ON RIVER BANK IS IDENTIFIED AS THAT OF ELISHA POWERS, FORMERLY DRIVER OF PALACE LAUNDRY WAGON—POLICE ARE DRAGGING THE RIVER.
POOR ELISHA POWERS! HE BELIEVES THE SENATOR HAS HIS BEST INTERESTS AT HEART AND AGREES TO CARRY OUT THE PLAN OF SUICIDE—THE SENATOR, OF COURSE, WISHES TO HAVE EDAL BELIEVE POOR ELISHA IS DEAD—AND, THUS TURN HER THOUGHTS TO HIMSELF
THERE, MY SON, IS THE STORY OF YOUR "SUICIDE"—READ IT—IT SAYS THE POLICE ARE DRAGGING THE RIVER FOR YOUR BODY—HA—THERE, THERE—DON'T GET ALARMED. YOU MUST REMAIN HERE TILL THE EXCITEMENT BLOWS OVER AND THEN I'LL SEE WHAT I CAN DO FOR YOU—
GEE, OAL HER AUNTIE—AN AN' MADAME LAMOUSSE!! BET'LL THEY THINK I'S
TAKE THE YOUNG MAN'S BREAKFAST TO HIM, HODGES AND REMEMBER, THE DOOR IS TO BE KEPT LOCKED AT ALL TIMES! UNDERSTAND?
VERY GOOD, SIR
OH SENATOR, I FEEL TERRIBLE 'BOUT POOR LISHY!! WHATTA AWFUL THING FOR HIM TO GO AN' DO—I WHAT WILL I OWAL SAY!
COME, COME, YOU MUST BREAK THE NEWS TO HER AT ONCE.
BOO HOO
SOB SOB

ABIE THE AGENT

And the Law Won

By Hershfield

JUMP IN YOUR CAR, ABE, AND RUSH OVER—DON'T BE LATE!!
LEAVE IT TO ME, NATE
WHEE-E-E
WHEE-E-E
EVEN WITH AN AUTOMOBILE YOU HAD TO COME LATE!
I WAS ARRESTED FOR RESISTING AN' OFFICER
YOU RESISTING AN' OFFICER??
YES—I WANTED TO ONLY GIVE HIM FIVE DOLLARS, AND HE WANTED TEN HERSHFIELD

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN—Largest Evening Circulation in New England

Magazine and Fiction Page

Banns

Banns, in the feudal law, were a solemn proclamation of any kind, hence arose the present custom of publishing banns, as giving notice before marriage. The Church of England introduced the custom in the year 1200.

This Day in Our History

John Winthrop, the man who laid the foundations of the Massachusetts colony, was born January 12, 1588. Winthrop served repeatedly, although not continuously, as governor of the colony until his death.

It's the Girl Who Must Draw the Line

—By BEATRICE FAIRFAX—

BEATRICE FAIRFAX will gladly answer questions regarding heart and home problems. Address her in care of the Boston American. Write on one side of the paper only. If you wish a personal answer enclose self-addressed, stamped envelope. Otherwise, questions of interest will be answered through her daily columns.

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

I became engaged tonight, and I feel free to say this: Those girls who have been writing in to you saying they have just lost a boy friend and are so heart-broken they know they just can't survive, are only like babies losing a new toy and thinking they can never have another. Girls, you were meant to lose that boy for a very good reason. There is always someone waiting for you.

Beatrice Fairfax

You may go with many before you find him, but he's there just the same. And you girls who say you have to yield to boys' advances to keep their love are crazy. It's never the fellow's fault he does wrong. He will only go as far as the girl lets him. She should set the stop line. I am not an angel, but I have never done wrong. I have gone with nice fellows. I lost them because they went with me long enough to think they could do anything. They were wrong, and now for waiting and being good I have found "him." We are to be married in four months. I am only 19. It pays to be good. BRIDE-TO-BE OF EVERETT.

Dear Bride-to-be: I am sure many girls will read your letter with interest, so I am printing practically all of it. I think you are sort of riding the crest at the present moment and inclined to be very cocky over having "got your man," but nevertheless there is much sound advice in your letter, although it does not answer all the questions that confront the modern girl. Many a "good" girl will go to her grave an old maid, and many of them feel that virtue is after all merely its own reward and hardly worth fighting for.

Why Girls Leave Home

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

I am the youngest and only single child at home and am 22 years old. One of my sisters married about six months ago and she and her husband live at our house. Whenever I am going to have company they always have the house torn up or in some other way make things utterly miserable for me. I have been dating with a young man for quite a while and I will admit that perhaps he could show me a little more consideration. Still, I do not see that he is at all rude. He comes to see me about twice or three times a week, but on the nights when he doesn't come or call on the 'phone my family start nagging about how he neglects me and telling me he is out with another girl. This boy seems very fond of me when he is with me and is thoughtful and well mannered. The only complaint I could possibly find with him is that sometimes he sets a definite time to telephone, so I will be at home and then does not call. I have thought several times about getting an apartment away from home, as I have a small income from some money I inherited, but I am afraid it would occasion ugly talk for me to move and besides, I am very fond of my mother and father and would hate to hurt them. PERPLEXED.

Dear Perplexed: Talk with your mother and father—you're fond of them and very naturally feel that in leaving home and setting up a separate establishment you would occasion gossip in your home town. Without doubt your parents will take the necessary steps to have your sister and brother-in-law behave with more consideration.

He's Always Doubting

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX.

I love a boy who is handsome, has personality, and a wonderful future. He has told me several times that he loves me, and plans making me his wife, but seems to doubt me every second that I'm not his completely. They isn't an evening when we've been together and he leaves me at my door, that he doesn't remind me to be good and "not step out." First of all, I was not allowed to go out till I met him, so there is nothing in my past to doubt. My mother and father like him and trust him with me. But my patience can't hold out much longer if he doesn't stop doubting me; still I love him dearly.

"DOUBTED"

Dear Doubted: Of course he has been jealous, and some seem to have jealousy thrust upon them. You might try telling this young man that he must have had some pretty unhappy experiences in his own past that have resulted in doubting a girl who has been as carefully reared as you have been. You'll have considerable missionary work to do, I'm afraid, before he will be a comfortable life partner.

Poor Walking Posture May Cause Flat Feet

By R. S. COPELAND, M. D.

PRIMITIVE PEOPLE who go about barefooted or wear sandals never complain of weak feet. On the other hand, the most common complaint of civilized life is weak feet, or as the trouble is commonly called, "flat feet."

Dr. Copeland

Flat feet are the result of poor development of the muscles of the feet and legs. Some persons are born with poor posture in walking and the wearing of improper shoes are the most important causative factors. Work that necessitates standing continuously on hard floors and pavements are other causes.

The treatment of weak feet consists essentially in the proper development of the muscles of the feet and legs. To this end proper posture in walking and the use of sensible footwear are of great importance.

A flat foot is a weak foot, one in which the muscles have thoroughly relaxed. As a result of this relaxation the normal arch of the foot is no longer maintained. This change from the normal brings on pain in the feet, and frequently in the legs very severe. The pain may not be confined to the foot, it may be felt up the back of the leg.

People with flat feet cannot stand for any length of time. Walking is an effort, and they are only happy when they can be off their feet.

In children, as well as in adults, exercise for the feet is simple and beneficial. While sitting on the edge of the bed try to grasp or hold a lead pencil with the toes. Then turn the toes so as to be able to see the sole of the foot. Bend the toes downward toward the floor and back again. Now lie on your back and with your feet in the air, turn the ankle upward and bend the toes toward the knee and back again.

These exercises are to be done for 10 minutes twice a day. The best times are preferably upon arising in the morning and in the evening when retiring.

Posture is important in the correction and prevention of flat feet. Slouching leads to turning out of the feet, and this causes strain and friction of the joints. The muscles supporting the instruments of the joints are called upon to do more work than they should.

Walk with the head erect, chin and abdomen in, and back straight. In walking always carry the weight of the body on the balls of the feet.

Answers to Health Queries

SUE M. Q.—Would it be dangerous to use nitric acid on a mole?

A.—Such blemishes should have proper medical attention and treatment. It is most unwise to attempt treatment unless it has been specifically prescribed. See a skin specialist and he will advise the treatment you require.

A. B. Q.—What do you advise for nervous indigestion?

A.—Try to clear up the nervousness by building up the general health. Your digestion will then improve.

E. A. BLAISDELL,
Wilmington, Dear 116.

Copyright, 1931, Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

BEST JOKE I EVER HEARD

The Boston Evening American will pay $1 for the best one of the jokes published each day. Address "Best Joke," Boston Evening American.

TODAY'S WINNER

Officer (to couple in parked auto) "Don't you see the sign, 'No parking'?"

Driver—Yes, officer, I see it and heartily agree with it.

MISS ANNIE DOWNS,
West Groton, Box 163.

HONORABLE MENTION

"How much cider did you make this year," inquired the farmer of another, who had offered a specimen for trial

"Fifteen yards," was the answer.

"Well, if you had another apple, you might have made another barrel."

MRS. ALBERT HOHMANN,
601 Washington st., Norwood.

Girl friend, writing to boy friend:

"Dear George, my little black and brown dog is dead.

"And I hope you are the same."

E. A. BLAISDELL,
Wilmington, Dear 116.

What's in Fashion?

Many Kinds of Jacket Costumes

—Directed by AMOS PARRISH

New York, Jan. 12—One of the words—or phrases—most on fashion's tongue right now is jacket costumes." And that's because even now fashion is looking ahead to Spring and thinking of new Winter clothes in terms of what can be worn later on, too.

And jacket costumes can. They can be smartly worn on the street without a long coat (weather permitting) even when they're the kind of jacket costume that's really a dress.

Right now they're a fine fashion to wear, too . . . under your winter coat. Because they look so new and springlike and up to the minute.

They can be wool or they can be silk. They can look like a suit or like a dress. They can be all one color or combinations of color. So you see there's a wide choice open to you in this smart new fashion.

Right now the silks and the lighter weights of wool are the best choice for the fashion-wise woman. Because they are more comfortable under the heavy coat.

Print and Plain Color

Wool crepes, silk crepes, prints, silk and wool mixtures and lacy woven tweeds are all practical and fashionable materials. And combinations of plain silk crepe with printed silk crepe are as smart as anything you'll see.

We've had one of these combinations sketched at the right above. Of course this is only one way print and plain color can be combined. But it's a good example of the softer, dressier, dress-type of jacket costume.

It's a one piece dress with a skirt of plain color and a blouse top of print. The jacket that drapes and ties like the bodices of many fashionable dresses, closes low enough to show the print of the blouse. And its sleeves are three-quarter length, so the dress sleeves show below.

Shorter sleeves are something to watch for on many of these jackets. Some of them are even shorter than the one illustrated, and are worn with a sleeveless dress. But that, of course, is a better Spring fashion than a mid-Winter one.

New Boleros

Our old friend, the bolero, is back again in three new jacket costumes. But new kinds of boleros. One of them is shown in the costume sketched at the left. It ties close to the neck with a scarf, following the trend toward higher necklines that you're going to notice in many new Spring fashions.

The sketch at the center shows a jacket costume of the type you're used to calling "suit." But you'll notice that it's softer looking than a real tailored suit—even though it has the notched lapels that you expect to find on tailored suits.

It's softer in the way it fits around the waistline and hips. (Notice that it's belted.) And its skirt is softer—with those groups of low-placed pleats. A good type for anyone who wants a suggestion of tailoring without severe cut.

Tomorrow: Amos Parrish shows how fashion keeps her neckline warm in Winter.

Copyright, 1931, by Amos Parrish & Co.

Coffee Cup at Bridge Party

By MRS. BEECKMAN.

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN

1. Is it proper to use small coffee cups at a bridge?

2. When serving coffee in the drawing room immediately after dinner, do you serve anything to drink at the table with dessert?

G. A.

1. Small coffee cups are often used for the service at bridge. Often, too, a choice of "large or small" cups is offered.

2. No.

The Tea Wagon

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN

1—When entertaining in the evening would it be all right for me to use my tea wagon? Should I let a friend pour the tea and look after the serving myself?

2—When giving a tea for a friend, is she, as guest of honor, served first?

3—At an evening party, who opens the door for the guests, the host or hostess?

4—Should a host shake hands with his lady guest, or should he wait until she offers her hand?

M. S.

1—Use any table that is convenient for your serving. The tea wagon is certainly one of the most convenient of tables. The nest of tables is convenient, too, and sometimes, when there are several friends, and the menu is fairly consequential, we find it more convenient to serve supper seated, at the dining-table.

It is convenient to ask a friend to pour, and that leaves you free for other duties in connection with your service.

2—Yes—this is another way to show honor to your guest of honor.

3—If there is no service, or if there is no one to assist in the family to press into this gracious service, it is best for the host to be assigned the duty. The hostess should always plan so that she will, as much as possible, be left free to greet the guests in the living-room, and to make the necessary introductions, and generally to start the ball rolling.

4—Since it is always taken for granted that a host greets his guest, a nod does the honors, with a handshake as he says his greeting, the arriving woman guest would hold out her hand for this handshake, as a matter of fact simultaneously with the host.

Accepting the Formal Invitation

DEAR MRS BEECKMAN:

1—When an invitation to a party is written in the third person is the acceptance or refusal answered in the same way, or is it permissible to use the calling card, and if so, what should be written on it?

2—Is it mailed in a long envelope?

ROSE.

1—An invitation written in the third person should be acknowledged by a note written in the third person—acceptance or regret. It is not considered good form to send one's visiting card for such an acknowledgment.

2—No. A visiting card is mailed in a card envelope

(Mrs. Beeckman will be glad to answer questions on etiquette submitted by readers.)

(Copyright, 1931, King Features Synd., Inc.)

Are Men Becoming the Weaker Sex?

By WINIFRED BLACK

ARE MEN growing weaker and women growing stronger?

A great sociologist comes right out in plain English and declares that an increasing number of young men are unable to grow that badge of masculinity, a mustache. No, they can't grow a mustache—to save their lives!

Winifred Black

And just as we are trying to get over the shock of that statement here we read in the public press that two men, one in the East and one in the West, have discovered that they were seriously injured by strong girls who hugged them too tight.

And as if these two statements were not enough—here comes a gentleman who says he has been studying some statistics and those statistics tell him without fear or favor that the height of the average high school graduate is an inch and a half shorter than the average height of the average graduate seven years ago—if the graduate is a boy.

But—mark you—but, says he, without even the shadow of a blush, the average height of the average high-school graduate is an inch and a half more than it was seven years ago—if that graduate happens to be a girl!

Now ladies and gentlemen, children and uplifters, what do you make of these things?

I ask you?

Are we passing through a strange state of development that is so gradual that we don't notice it? And will our grand daughters all be taller and stronger and more bold and more competent in all ways than our grandsons?

Aren't the poor girls who telephone to young men and invite them to go to parties and call for the young men in their own cars just a part of this strange, mysterious development and aren't they to blame, somewhat for their weird reversal of the old rule that man is a hunter and likes to do some of the hunting himself?

Are these apprehensive males who start dimorously whenever the telephone rings not freaks at all, but merely part of a great plan of evolution?

Do the little germs that turn into typhoid have the faintest idea what nuances they are or do they just frolic aimlessly on through the blood not because they want to, but because some mysterious rule tells them that now is the time for them to do so?

Out in Arizona the other day they dug up the sand in the desert and found a prehistoric graveyard with thousands of graves in it. And the shortest skeleton in that graveyard was the skeleton of a man eight feet tall.

Did those Arizona giants notice it when the children and grandchildren began to shrink or did they shrink so gradually that nobody noticed it at all?

Two or three years ago all the girls in this country looked a good deal like boys, or, anyhow, they tried to look like boys.

Do my horrified eyes deceive me or is it true that many of the modern young men appear not only to look but to act and to be very much indeed like girls?

Whither are we drifting? Tell me, ye winged winds

I should love to know

Really and truly I should

(Copyright, 1931, King Features Synd., Inc.)

Beauty of the Back Freed From Blemishes

By JOSEPHINE HUDDLESTON

I WANT to discuss the treatment for blackheads today. Of course, the skin on the back is treated, for an identical condition, exactly the same as that on the face.

In cases of excessive oiliness, the use of oatmeal baths was suggested to remedy the condition. That same treatment frequently clears the skin of minor blackheads. When an aggravated blackhead condition is present, however, a combination of the oatmeal baths for the oily skin and the clay pack for bleaching are effectual.

First of all, you will remember that we never start any skin treatment until after a thorough cleansing. That means into hot water and wring it out, then place it to the back and hold it there for a minute. When you remove the hot compress you are ready for the oatmeal. Do not dry the back. Just smooth over it a thin coating of the cream and quietly until it is thoroughly dry.

When the clay has completely dried, soak a heavy Turkish bath towel in cold water, fold it once and hold it to the back. Repeat these applications until the clay becomes moist enough to wipe away easily. The clay will not stain the towel.

After the removal of the clay pack you will find that an application of the oatmeal bag, differing somewhat to the one we used to remedy the oily skin condition, will finish up the clay pack treatment to fine advantage leaving the skin soft and normal. The difference between the two oatmeal bags is only that the castile soap is eliminated from the one we are to use in today's treatment since the skin was thoroughly cleansed before applying the clay. Therefore we will use one (1) cupful of oatmeal (uncooked and coarse) and one teaspoonful of powdered sulphur. You will need to use only one (1) tablespoonful of the mixture to each bag. After saturating the bag in warm water, rub it over the back until a thick cream part of the milky fluid is spread over the skin. Let this dry on the skin, then rinse off with clear warm water and pat on the benzoin lotion. You will remember this lotion is made by adding ten (10) drops of tincture of plain benzoin to one (1) cup of cold water.

These treatments should be repeated every day until the skin is free from blackheads.

Daily Pattern

By MARIAN MARTIN

Graceful Afternoon Frock

PATTERN 9100

THE INTERESTING points of this model find themselves repeated at neck, vestee and joining of skirt here, and smart slimming points they are, to be sure.

Pattern 9100 may be ordered only in sizes 16, 18, 20, 34, 36, 38, 40, and 42. Size 16 requires 3¾ yards of 39 inch material.

Please write very plainly your name, address, style number and size.

To get a pattern of this model, send fifteen cents (15c) in coins to Boston Evening American Pattern Department, 133 West 18th st., New York City.

TIGER HEART -:- -:- By Robert Terry Shannon

Continued From Page 1, 2nd Sec.

girl who was flesh of her own flesh. . . .

"Bring her here—let me see her—let me talk to her—"

Connie was startled at her own eagerness. Ever so slightly, her poise was beginning to tremble.

"You'll find," Duke Garson said, rising, "that kitty has a different slant on life than you have. You might as well get ready for a jolt."

Connie saw Duke Garson go to the rear of the restaurant, saw a slender girl rise from a table and walk toward her.

Heart Beats

The girl advanced sinuous and confident, opposite Connie. She stopped and looked down with one side of her mouth drawn into a quirk. A thousand times Connie had seen that same quirk on her father's mouth

This was no mistake — no swindle! Connie could feel her own heart beating rapidly. The eyes, the brow of this strange girl were the eyes and brows of her own dead father. The whole sensation was ghastly . . .

"Well, sister," Kitty said, in a sardonic rasp, "how's tricks?"

For a second Connie could not speak. She was looking not at a strange girl, but at a slightly altered picture of her own self, this girl . . . It was the effect of a hurried glance in a mirror . . . the similarity was uncanny . . .

"Sit down, please," Connie said, in a disturbed voice.

"Hure," said the other nonchalantly.

Duke Garson, too, took a chair. Now at close range, Connie growing steadier, could see that the other bore unmistakable traces of her own blood strain. Those blue eyes and black brows were, without doubt, a heritage from her Irish mother, the Cunningham wo.an. Kitty's hair was jet black, like hose had the slightest tilt; she was, in a vague way, rather pretty. Pretty, but hard. Together they were both striking in appearance, similar in resemblance, yet individually unlike

"I suppose Duke spilled the stories to you," Kitty said.

Connie nodded. "He told me—yes."

"Did it interest you any?"

"Very much."

"How does the whole business strike you?"

Connie was studying the other, trying to drink in her personality, to realize what her sister was actually like.

"It's awful, isn't it?"

The girl laughed harshly. "Yeah—it's pretty awful for you, ain't it? I suppose you feel disgraced to find that your old man left you a sister and forget to mention it before he kicked off. It wouldn't sound so good to your society friends, would it?"

"I wasn't thinking of my friends," Connie said, quietly. "I was thinking how awful it must have been for you."

"Yeah? It's a wonder you don't try to claim that it's a frame-up. I thought I might have a little trouble convincing you that I really am your sister."

"I know you are," Connie responded. "You look like my father and you look like me. Yes, it's all true—my instinct tells me it is."

"Well, that saves time. If you want it made legal, I will gladly produce the proofs whenever you say."

"I can't help what you must have endured all these years," Connie's voice stopped, trembling.

"You mean that for sympathy?"

"Yes—all the sympathy in the world."

"Well, Kid, you can let your sympathy run for Sweeny. I don't deal in that stuff. Your father gave you all the best of it—I got all the worst of it."

"But if you knew all this," Connie protested, "I can't imagine why you kept silent so long."

Kitty shrugged. 'Maybe I had a little pride myself, or maybe I was just dumb. When I saw your picture on the society page and read about the swell marriage you're pulling off, it got my goat, that's all. But don't think I want anything in the way of your sympathy. Do you want me to tell what I'm after?"

"Please do."

"All right—I want money, jack, dough! I want a lot of it. I'm broke, and I'm sick of it up there in Connecticut, the money you got in the bank, even the clothes on your back . . . they are as much mine as they are yours. We had the same father, and I'm just as legitimate as you are. When—ever you are ready to talk business to me, you have to say it with bank notes."

Hot Blue Eyes

The blue eyes across the table were hot with dislike, and a burning sense of injustice.

"I can't give you a lot of money," she said, quietly, "because I haven't got it."

"You get it—or else."

Duke Garson leaned forward and spoke directly, suavely, to Connie

"Your sister," he said, "has all the proof, Miss Calvert. She can take her case into court and prove it. You would be forced to make a settlement. Not only that, she could humiliate you publicly, because you by exposing this scandal in the newspapers. If she wanted to, she could crash the gate at your wedding and make a scene. Remember she has as much like you that everybody would believe her. Besides all that, you must think how this exposure would wreck your mother's happiness. If Kitty here wants to, she could stain your whole family with dishonor. You see, it is useless for you to try to dictate to her."

How much did Garson ask for silence" Did Connie agree to pay? See tomorrow's installment.

The Rhyming Optimist

Farewells

—By ARLINE MICHAELIS—

If God decreed that I today
Must bid a last farewell to you,
Dawn would be drab, dusk would be gray,
No star would shine, no tide be true.
No hope would cast its rainbow gleams
Along the way where I must tread;
April no more would weave me dreams
And moonlight's glamour would be dead

Instead, if I must say good-bye
To friends and home, to toil and song,
If change should sweep me utterly
Beyond the pathways known so long,
Still gladly onward I could go,
Forgetting in an hour's space
My life's accustomed ebb and flow.
Could I but look upon your face:
And with a radiance undimmed
Would glow the moon and stars and sun,
Old earth with rapture would be brimmed
If still, hands clasped, we went as one

SMART SAYINGS OF CLEVER CHILDREN

The Boston Evening American will pay $1 for the best one of the published smart sayings each day. Address "Smart Sayings," Boston Evening American.

TODAY'S WINNER

While walking down town with his mother a small boy saw a man with a mustache and exclaimed, "Mother, see the man has three eyebrows."

Mother—How come?

Boy—One under each eye, an' the other under his nose.

MARGARET CAPEFALO,
Taylor st., Littleton, Box 24.

HONORABLE MENTION

Mother—Why, Helen, don't let me see you playing with Edna, because she has a dirty tongue.

Helen—Mother, I saw her tongue and it was not dirty

MARY TEREDINA,
126 Willow st., Lawrence.

Bobby (arguing about his mother) My mother has false teeth.

Jane—That's nothing, my mother has a cedar chest.

ANNA HANSEN,
214 Fountain st., Medford.

Financial Market News, Stocks, Bonds, Commodities and Comment

Forbes Gives Vivid Sketch of O. D. Young

Old-Time Employers Think He Is Socialist!

X-Ray of R. R. $

By B. C. FORBES

New York, Jan. 12—Owen D. Young with a power shovel! What a commentary!

Owen Young should be the last man in America to receive "threatening letters. No one "capitalism" in the United States has ... as far as he has gone in championing the rights of workers. It was he who, a few years ago, said publicly that he looked hopefully for the day to come when labor would ... capital, when labor would be the owners of our great enterprises, when labor would be ... How gone so far, in fact, in ... in their aggressiveness that ... recent earlier years that some of our old-fashioned employers wonder whether he has not turned Socialist!

H. C. Forbes

Since General Electric ... he ... day Mr. Young ... has gone further than most ... tions in fostering ... benefit plans, ... insurance ... plans, ... time and relief ... ment fund, to ... Swope plan, ... More recently ... Plan. Electric ... guarantee of ... of 40 hours ... round employment.

Then, where could be found a private citizen who ... rendered more signal public ... than Owen Young? He is regarded in Europe as the ablest of all the Americans delegated to cooperate over there in restoring the world's equilibrium? It is no secret that he was chiefly responsible for the actual formation of the original Dawes plan, and that Young who again led the way in intellectual field in evolving the Young plan, in every way proven inspired by President Hoover took ... toward the betterment of employment conditions in the country. Young has influentially and helpfully participated ...

He is known today throughout the world as the ... of the country. ... practices like a charm on politics or business ... He is ... only by his phenomenal analytical ability, but by his ... outstanding sincerity, his fine sense of fairness, his absolute disinterestedness in seeking a just decision. His manner is gentle in the extreme, the polar antithesis of bellicose.

Why this splendid citizen, modest in men and unselfish in action should be singled out, even by a crank for annoyance, passes all understanding.

Incidentally, the police guard about which the newspapers have said so much, was not sought by Mr. Young. Nothing could be more distasteful to him. Protective measures were instituted, not by Mr. Young, but by others. Very sensibly, he has not regarded himself as in any degree ... the ... triple armor, as Shakespeare said.

I can well ... and ... men occupying ... positions ... regarded with any ... cordiality by fiery agitators. But Owen D. Young, not ... a matter of fact, is never ... in that ... any other industrial or financial leader in America today.

* * *

What happens ... the moment ... and I pay the railroads in ... fares and for freight and ... other necessaries of ... port to us"

We pay them ... a quarter ... 6279 millions.

This important question is answered very ... Bureau of Railway ... of Wyoming. The information may be summarized thus:

OPERATING I...
Freight transportation	3
Passenger train ...	1
Express trans...	3
Mail, trans...	3
All other ...	1
Total	1
Net ...	3
Taxes	1
OPERATING ...
Salaries and wages	2
Locomotive fu...	1
Materials, supplies	1
Loss and damage ... and insurance
Rent of ... Union stations, etc.
Depreciation, retire...	1
Taxes	1
Rent of leased roads
Interest on borrowed money	1
Cash dividends	1
Balance (for new facilities etc.)	1
Totals	$

It is explained that more than one hundred million dollars should be deducted from the dividend total because this amount is paid by certain railroads to other railroads and is therefore a duplication.

America's railroads are faring none well financially. They should be able to do better for themselves and for the public once the various large-scale consolidations now planned are completed and sanctioned by the Interstate Commerce Commission. The sooner such sanction can be conscientiously given, the earlier will business and employment prosperity return.

(Copyright, 1931, by B. C. Forbes.)

BULL MARKET SEEN COMING IN SPRING

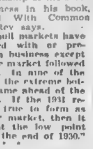
By FRANK H. MELLON

Dr. Pierre R. Bretey, economist for the Weld Market Bureau, offers the prediction that a spring rise will inaugurate a bull market. Discussing relationship of the stock market to business in his book, "Looking Ahead With Common Stock," Dr. Bretey says.

"The tops of bull markets have always coincided with or preceded the top in business except in 1919, when the market followed in four months. In nine of the 11 bear markets, the extreme bottom in stock prices came ahead of the low in business. If the 1931 recovery runs as true to form as the 1908-38 bear market, then it is probable that the low point was reached at the end of 1930."

* * *

President Howard E. Fritch of the Boston & Maine Transportation Co. points out that the B. & M. has been the



H. E. Fritch

Photo Copyright by Pach Bros.

... in meeting automotive competition. ... competition was a principal cause of recent earlier protests which attracted national attention. Perhaps no New England ... gone further than ... tions in fostering ... benefit plans, ... other than ... end of the ... elsewhere ... they ... meet competition with ... competition.

* * *

"The Boston and Maine Railroad was the first road in this country to use the motor bus as a common carrier in connection with its railroad service. Further, it did in 1924 when it replaced branch line service on the Ashburnham Branch with a motor bus on the highway," says Mr. Fritch.

"Other railroads had used the motor truck in connection with their freight service, and the Boston & Maine went into this activity in 1925. In order to effectively and actively carry on such highway transportation activities as might be desirable in connection with the railroad operations, the Boston & Maine Transportation Company was organized in 1925. Its stock is entirely owned by the railroad.

"From the first operation on the Ashburnham Branch, activities were readily expanded so that now the Transportation Company operates a fleet of about fifty motor ... over 800 miles of highway. These motor coaches are owned by the railroad and leased to the Transportation Company."

* * *

Sidney Rainbridge, treasurer of the Economy Grocery Store Corporation in the Financial Review Number of the Boston Evening American, January 5, said:

"If big business creates uncertainty among its workers as to the stability of their employment, fear and the hoarding of earnings naturally follows. It is quite obvious that the major market of industry is the working class. Employers of labor must generate confidence among those who, through regular employment, are the makers of prosperity, if they themselves would flourish. It is their duty to maintain their confidence in the future of the country through the uninterrupted employment of wages and the assurance of regular employment."

* * *

A very similar statement was heard over radio station WOR Friday when Paul Block, New York publisher, declared that an early return of prosperity will be made possible if business men everywhere in the workers their present jobs are safe. Such assurance, Mr. Block said, would remove fear and pessimism from the workers' minds and bring their money back into circulation, thus bringing business

New York Bank Stocks

Bank of Amer...	66	62
...	112	115
Bankers Trust	230	230
Central Hanover	270	270
Chase National	58	58
Chatham Phenix	50	50
Chemical Bank & Tr...	48	48
City ...	94	96
Com Exchange	170	170
Empire ...	58	58
First National	1000	1000
Guaranty Trust	476	490
Irving Trust	26	27
Manhattan ...	53	55
Manufacturers	57	58
N Y Trust	154	157
Public Nat...	63	63

$100,000,000 Spent by N. Y. Telephone

New York, Jan. 12—New York Telephone Company spent approximately $100,000,000 during 1930 for plant additions, improvements and replacements, according to J. B. McCulloh, president. Nearly two-thirds of this total was spent in New York city.

The total expenditures during 1930 were the largest in the history of the company within the exception of 1929.

Bank Statement

Boston Balance	$76,000,000
Boston Clearance	$48,000,000

Today's News of Live Stocks in Wall Street

A series of favorable developments, which evidently have not concluded as yet, is responible for the material improvement in sentiment that is reflected in the continued recovery of the stock market. The Four-System railroad merger plan and the optimistic view expressed by Paul Warburg and Albert H. Wiggin have been the outstanding bullish influences to date, while steel news is expected to prove the main prop of the bulls in the immediate future.

Continental Can Has $13,000,000 in Cash

Continental Can held steady today, following announcement that, as of December 31 last, it had over $13,000,000 in cash and no bank loans or debts other than current bills. This compares with cash of $10,025,668 at the opening of 1930, out of which $5,117,125 was used during the year to retire all preferred stock outstanding. In addition, during the year 1930 approximately $5,000,000 was expended for improvements to plants and equipment and in excess of $4,300,000 was paid out as dividends on the common stock.

Net earnings per common share in 1930 are stated to be approximately the same as those for 1929, possibly showing a slight increase, although larger amounts have been charged off for depreciation. In 1929, net earnings after all charges and federal tax were equivalent to $5.02 a common share then outstanding.

Subsidiaries of Motors Uniting

North East Appliance Corporation and Delco-Light Company, both subsidiaries of General Motors Corporation, have consolidated their activities under the name of Delco Appliance Corporation. Products manufactured and distributed by the Delco Appliance Corporation are Delco-Light individual electric plants, Delco electric water systems and Delcogas individual gas units; North East products, including ranges, water heaters, automobile heaters, starting, lighting and ignition systems, and a new line of products, under process of development.

Rise in Exchange Seat Price Cheers

The trend of Stock Exchange seat prices is called about the best barometer available to forecast future trading volume. Therefore the $80,000 advance in price of a seat during 1930 is a cheering influence. Many brokers look for some very big days before close of 1931, and the heaviest amount of wagers have been made on future transactions. One is that we will have more than 70,000,000-share days before close of the year.

Budd Wheel Gets Pierce Arrow Order

It is reported Budd Wheel Co. has closed a contract with Pierce Arrow Motor Car Co. for a new all-mountable welded stainless steel artillery wheel, having very large hub and demountable spokes. Comment in automobile circles is that the wheel if it receives the public approval the New York show indicated, will enable Budd to close contracts with other large automobile manufacturers.

American Radiator Earnings Estimate

In the current year American Radiator & Sanitary is likely to derive the benefits of economies in manufacturing and marketing which normally result about two years after such a merged company has been operating. That this has resulted in predictions of increased earnings this year, even if there is a short falling off in the gross volume of business.

Estimates are that earnings last year will be shown to have amounted to about 75 cents a share on the stock. This would compare with $2.02 on the average number of shares in 1929, and $2.27 a share shown by American Radiator & Standard Sanitary companies prior to the merger in 1928. Interests in the company appear confident that the current $1.20 a share dividend can be covered this year.

American Machine & Foundry Net About $3

Estimates are being heard of net earnings for American Machine & Foundry of about $3 a share for 1930. This would be considerably in excess of the 1929 results, despite the smaller consumption in cigars last year. Reason for the good showing anticipated is that increased use of cigar-making machinery. The company also is doing well with its cigarette making machines and this branch of the business is likely to show expansion in the current year.

Low Prices to Aid Fertilizers

Decline in the prices for soda ash and other chemicals recently should be to the advantage of the American Agricultural Chemical and other manufacturers of fertilizer. The companies will acquire products in the manufacture of their fertilizers and some of them have been taking advantage of the lower quotations to purchase part of their requirements. While there may be some reduction in demand this year, because of conditions in the agricultural districts, a reduction of costs would tend to offset the smaller volume of gross business.

Nash Strong in Cash Balance

Wall Street is impressed with the fact that directors of Nash Motors last week designated the dividend declaration of $1 a share as "regular quarterly" thus placing the stock definitely on a basis annual basis. Quite a few houses have given preference to Nash in the advices to customers seeking information on the motor group.

Emphasis is being placed on the strong position of the company, the balance sheet showing cash and Liberty bonds of $38,000,000, equal to approximately $14 a share on the stock. It is argued that this condition indicates the ability to maintain the $4 dividend.

Average Yield of Stocks Is 8.9 P. C.

The average yield on all active cash dividend-paying stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange was 8.9 per cent at the beginning of January, according to Moody's Investors Service. This contrasts with a peak of around 9.5 percent reached at the middle of December, and the average of 8.35 per cent on the first of this month.

Issues of oil producing and distributing companies changed hands in light volume, climbing close to Saturday's final prices. Vacuum yielded an early rise of a point. Profit-taking depressed Ford of Canada "A," but the shares of the British company, which features the trading, retained their improvement. Other Industrials ruled steady to firm.

Investment trust and holding company equities participated in the day's sluggishness. United Founders, the most active member of the group, was virtually unchanged

Average of Steel Prices Unchanged

Dow, Jones & Co.'s average price for eight important iron and steel products remains unchanged from preceding week at $44.29 a gross ton, Pittsburgh, based on Iron Age quotations.

From now on, No. 24 black sheets will be used in the average instead of plates. Sheets have now been introduced, imitations necessary. Plates and shapes are both fabricated products and are usually quoted at the same level, and as shapes are retained in the average, this class of products is still adequately represented.

The average, as now compiled, will be obtained by dividing the total of the prices of the eight products by 8.2792 instead of by 8 as previously, making the new average commensurate with the old. To permit comparisons with previous years, No. 24 black sheet prices have been substituted for plate prices in the historical tables, but previous years' averages for the group are still based on the old list of eight products

Earnings Reports Comparisons Made

Earnings reports, compared with those for the corresponding period a year ago, and dividend announcements by leading companies shape up as follows

	Since	New
	Jan. 1	Additions
Increased earnings	16	2
Decreased earnings	47	8
Unchanged dividds.	105	10
Increased dividends	2
Decreased dividends	6	3
Omitted dividends	13	4

Nearly All Market Leaders Are Higher

Issues on the big stock exchange in the past week are nearly all higher. Study today shows continued activity in the most actives and net changes, with annual dividend rates in dollars in parentheses, as follows

Sales		Net
100 ... Warner Bros Pictures	16
1,200 Chrysler Corp (3)	19	¼
38,200 United Aircraft	26
1,100 Allegheny Corp	9
22,800 U S Steel (4)	115
1,900 Commonwealth Power	37½	1½
200 Boston Elevated	49
2,100 Atlantic Refining (2)	19	¼
181,700 Auburn Corp Mar 12	132
68,100 Wm Fox A Nov 29	20
164,600 General Electric (1.60)	45¾
40,300 Radio Corp of America	14½
157,800 American Can (6)	113½	—1
148,700 Int Hvd Elec (2)	25¼
131,500 Int Tel & Tel (2)	23½	...
127,100 Standard Gas & Elec (2)	24	...
127,000 Electric Pow & Lt (1)	14
125,900 Case J I (6)	80	—3½
122,600 Stone & Webster (1.20)	18½

"Ex-dividend. (d) Including extras. (e) Last declaration. (x) Paid in 1930.

Telephone Merger Plan Is Revealed

Michigan Bell Telephone Co. is buying assets and good will of Kokomo County Telephone Co. Indiana Commercial Telephone Corp petitioned Indiana Public Service Commission for authority to buy physical properties of telephone companies in 27 cities in Indiana.

Peerless to List Additional Stock

New York Stock Exchange firm Peerless Motor Car Co. reports for fourth quarter of 1930 earned $1.10 a share on common stock, against $3.58 in 1929. For 1930 firm's earnings are placed at 25 cents common share, compared with $2.80. Other estimates, compared with 1929 earnings, as follows: Air Reduction $1.40 against $2; General Electric, 45 cents, against 58 cents; General Motors, 30 cents, against $3.51 cents. In international Telephone, 30 cents against 42 cents; Paramount-Publix, $1.50, against $1.80; Radio-Keith 50 cents, against 5 cents; Union Carbide, 80 cents, against $1.23, and Westinghouse, 80 cents, against $2.82.

Canadian Loadings of Cars Increased

Loadings of freight on Canadian railways, week ended January 4, 1931, totaled 36,336 cars, a gain of 1249 over the preceding week and a drop of 8094 from the like week a year ago.

General Tire Pays

General Tire & Rubber Co. declared regular quarterly dividend of $1 on the common, payable Feb. 1.

Boston Curb

Sales		High	Low	Last
20	Apple'n Co	3⅝	1¼	1⅝
100	Boa&Ely Cons	3-16	3-16	3-16
400	Chief Consoli	3-16	3-16	3-16
250	Conv Cop Mi	3¼	3	3
300	Ohio Cop'er Co	⅜	⅜	⅜
50	Shatick-Denn	3¼	3¼	3¼
600	Sil Dyke Mi	3-16	3-16	3-16
15	Un Ver Ext Mi	8¼	8¼	8¼
700	Verde Central	3-16	3-16	3-16

CURB MARKET SESSION IS COLORLESS

New York, Jan. 12—The curb market dragged through a colorless session today. Professional traders, who accounted for most of what activity there was, took little interest in either side, although the undertone was toward heaviness in utilities were unusually dull. Small losses in a few leaders, including Electric Bond & Share and United Gas, offset steadiness in other members of the group, but changes on the whole were in minor fractions.

Application for a receivership for Mitsuoyi Kansai Bank was followed by a three-point drop in the stock, which sold in the neighborhood of last year's low of 80.

Issues of oil producing and distributing companies changed hands in light volume, climbing close to Saturday's final prices. Vacuum yielded an early rise of a point. Profit-taking depressed Ford of Canada "A," but the shares of the British company, which features the trading, retained their improvement. Other Industrials ruled steady to firm.

Investment trust and holding company equities participated in the day's sluggishness. United Founders, the most active member of the group, was virtually unchanged

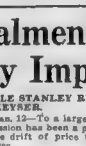
Boston Stocks

	A
Allegheny ...		9⅜	8¾	9
Alles & Fisher		9	8¼	9
Am Can		113¾	112½	112¾
Am For Pwr ...		33¾	32¾	33¼
Am & Cont C		10	10	⅛
Am Founders		6	6	⅛
Am Pneu		2¼	2¼	2¼
Atchison R R		186¾	186¼	187¼
Am Tel		186¼	184¾	185¾
Am Woolen ...		32	31¼	31¾
Am Woolen pf		32⅜	31¼	31½
Amoskeag ...		9⅛	8¾	8¾
Fortunato ...		32¾	31¾	31⅝
Andes Pete ...		15c	15c	15c
Ariz Com....		1¼	1¼	1¼
	B
Balt&Ohio.		79	77½	78⅝
Beth Steel		53	51¾	51⅝
Bigelow-Sanf...		27	27
Bos Elev ...		71	70	70
Bos Elev 1pr		103	103	103
Bos Elev 2pf...		84¾	84¾	84¾
B & M pf pf...		103	103	103
Briggs		17⅞	17¼	17¼
	C
Chrysler ...		17¼	16⅞	16¼
Cities Service.		17⅞	17¼	17¼
Col Gas ...		35¾	34⅞	34¾
Col Graph ...		8¾	8¾	8¾
Cmwlth Bo ...		8¼	8¼	8¼
Con Gas ...		88¼	84½	85¼
Con Mfrs ...		6½	6¼	6¼
Curtiss W		4¼	3⅞	4¼
	E
E Gas&F Asso		19	19	...
do pr ...		92	92	...
do p pf ...		80⅞	80	80⅞
E Mass Inv ...		4	4	4
E Mass RR ...		20	19½	19½
Edison		234	152	152½
Employers Grp		19	18	18
	F
First Nat St..		45	45	45
	G
Gen Allovs ...		4⅛	4⅛	4½
Gen Capital...		34	34	...
Georgian pf..		9	9	...
Gen Elec ...		45¾	44	44⅝
Gen Foods ...		50¼	49⅞	50¼
Gen Motors ..		37	36¼	36⅝
Gillette		27⅞	25¾	27⅛
Goodyear		44	44	44
	H
Hudson Motor.		23⅞	23⅜	23¾
	I
Int Hyd Elec		2¼	2⅝	2⅝
Int Tel		24	22⅞	23¼
	J
Jenkins Telev		2	2	2
	K
Kreiger&Toll		2	2	2
	L
Lowe's Th.....		9¼	9¼	9¼
	M
Mass Util ...		4¼	4¼	4¼
Mont Ward ..		18⅜	17⅞	18
	N
Nash		32⅝	31½	31⅝
National S C..		3¼	3¼	3¼
N E Tel		135	135	135
New Haven ...		85½	84⅝	85⅜
No Am Aviation		7	6⅝	6⅝
No American		68¼	67½	67½
North Butte..		1¼	1¼	1¼
	P
Pacific Mills.		21	20½	20½
Packard		9¼	9¼	9¼
Penn R R.....		61¼	59⅝	60⅛
	Q
Quincy		7½	7⅜	7⅜
	R
Radio Corp ..		14¼	13⅜	13⅜
	S
Shawmut ...		15¼	15	15¼
So Surety Co		3¼	3¼	3¼
Std Brands ..		18¼	17¾	18
Stone & Web		45⅛	44⅛	44½
Sullivr Mach		20	19	19
Swift & Co. ..		29¾	28¾	29¼
	T
Torrington		46	46	46
Tower		8¼	8¼	8¼
	U
Un Aircraft ..		26⅝	25¼	25¾
Un Carbide ...		84⅞	83⅛	83⅝
Un Corp		19¼	18⅜	18⅜
Un Founders ..		9	8⅝	9
United Fruit ..		93¾	87¾	87¾
Un Gas & Imp		29	28¾	28¾
United Shoe ..		57½	57	57
do pf		111	111	111
U Twist Dr....		21	19	21
U S Steel		143¾	141½	142¼
Util Equity pf.		70	69¼	69¾
Util Hy & Rail		4¼	4¼	4¼
	V
Venezuela-Mex		2⅜	2⅜	2⅜
	W
Warner Pict ..		17	16¼	16¼
Westinghouse.		90	87½	87⅞
	BONDS
Amoskeag Co..		72	72	...
N E Tel 5s....		101¼	101¼	101¼
E Mass 4½s...		36	36	36

Instalment Buying to Play Important Role

By MERRILL STANLEY BUCKINGHAM

New York, Jan. 12—To a large extent the depression has been a price phase of the drift of price to a distinctly lower ...



M. S. Rukeyser

trend has tended to correct the diseases from which the body economic has been suffering.

Artificial attempts to hold up prices during the property period, in the face of increased production efficiency, aggravated an unhealthy situation. Paul M. Warburg, able banker, though conceding that some commodities are depressed too much, points out that the existing level of prices may be relatively satisfactory, on the level which prevailed until the spring of 1929.

The result of the price decline for those who were fortunate enough to keep their jobs has been a sharply reduced cost of living. With productive facilities vast, it has become a matter of business necessity to stress social welfare, that is, to find ways and means of diffusing the good things of life among a wider public than in the past. The prosperity of the future will be based on means of expanding consumption, and incidentally, in my opinion, the instalment plan will play an increasingly important role. For a year persons in debt under the instalment plan have been paying off and many are at length off the hook and able to think of making new commitments ...

* * *

Eugene E. Agger, Rutgers University economist, in a message to the column, expresses the opinion that business recovery is only a question of time. He believes that the comeback will be gradual.

Mr. Agger, in diagnosing the economic situation, stresses the subjoined seven points:

(a) The disturbances of the world-wide war.

(b) The interference with trade and commerce by political readjustment after the war, and by an uneconomic emphasis upon purely national policy.

(c) Disturbances caused by monetary and credit readjustments relating to price levels.

(d) The disturbance of the investment situation caused by the abnormally high rates of war and post-war finance and in the United States by the "new era" speculative boom in the stock market ...

(e) The profound disturbance caused by lack of harmony between production and distribution. On the production side we have greatly increased output, but we have not, through a more generous system of distribution, supplied the basis for mass consumption of the products of mass production ...

(f) A disturbance in the normal application of income introduced by instalment selling. Instalment selling involves the mortgaging of future purchasing power for the benefit of those industries which sell and whose products the instalment system can be applied. This has involved a readjustment in the whole scheme of consumption with consequent reactions upon the whole marketing process ...

(g) The increasing weakness, under large scale of production, of an uncontrolled system of laissez faire ...

* * *

As for remedies, Mr Agger suggests

"I think that much could be done by governments and large business organizations in anticipating improvements of various kinds. The international implications must, of course, be worked out on co-operative lines. The world is distinctly done with a policy of narrow economic nationalism. Monetary and credit procedure must be worked out on a co-operative basis.

"Our opportunity in the United States lies in a generous expansion on the part of our Federal Reserve System with the Bank of International Settlements and with the central banks of other leading countries. We must also, in the United States, press the doctrine of high wages, and such an organization of the fiscal system as will tend to promote greater equality in distribution.

"Finally, I may say that the time has come to solve the problem of a better scheme of control of production. In some way we should endeavor to establish supreme council somewhat along the lines of our attempt during the war. We can no longer trust to blind good luck, but must employ to economic life the intelligence which we have been endowed."

Addressing himself to the same problem from the standpoint of organized labor, Sidney Hillman president of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers, asserts:

"We cannot afford to drift, we must plan our production and our consumption. At this time, in view of the large amount of unemployment, technological unemployment, we should place industry on a five-day week. This would absorb the major part of the unemployed at once.

"There is o ther way out unless we care to scrap our machines rather than to adopt a policy of progressively high wages, to provide always a higher standard of living so that we may consume what we produce."

STATE STREET SIDELIGHTS

While many State st. brokers feel that there are a few stocks that can be marked up, it is generally agreed that the main body of the list has enjoyed sufficient rally for the present. The second ... shares are looked for further ... market up in the hope of ... those who are looking to buy at lower prices. Short ... buying is spent, it is felt some setback is sure to develop.

* * *

In the opinion of one stock exchange house, public psycho ogy has undergone a change that is bewildering to professional traders because of its simplicity and naturalness. They point out that the successful trading formula has been applied that the old way of sell on good news has been superseded by "buy on the good news." Recent examples are the announcement of the rail plan and the speech of a large banker, both of which were known in advance.

* * *

Bond dealers here say that there will be offerings of about one hundred million this week and take this to indicate renewed confidence on the part of financial and commercial interests who have been holding up all financing projects in the last two months. Apparently such estimates that, if properly handled, the market could absorb about a billion dollars in fixed obligations between now and the first of May.

* * *

Fresh reductions in the price of copper constitute the only really poor news in the last week or so. Boston brokers point out that holders of the red metal shares are becoming discouraged at this backing and filling and are slowly coming to think that no matter what the intrinsic worth of the equities that in the end the stock commitments in other stocks for the present.

Calumet & Hecla Has Rich Strike

Houghton, Mich., Jan. 12—Boston-tated Calumet & Hecla reports a rich strike on the lode in the Kearsarge lode at depth of 7800 feet in crosscut driven east from 74th level of No. 12 conglomerate shaft. Vein is 22 feet thick and reported very heavy in copper.

1930 Trading in Increased Volume

That the volume of trading in the 1930 deals on the floor of the New York Stock Exchange was actually 13 per cent greater in the year 1930 than in 1929, whereas in the same stocks in 1929 is a surprising fact brought out in an analysis of the 1930 stock exchange transactions made by Standard American Trust Shares.

AMERICAN TELEPHONE AND TELEGRAPH COMPANY

165th Dividend

The regular quarterly dividend of Two Dollars and Twenty Five Cents ($2.25) per share will be paid on January 15, 1931, to stockholders of record at the close of business on December 20, 1930.

H. BLAIR-SMITH, Treasurer.

STOCK PRICES MOVE LOWER IN BOSTON

Prices were worked lower in trading on the Boston Stock Exchange today. Changes ranged from fractions to 3 points or more. Torrington and Gillette were strong features. Gillette added around 2 points, while Torrington was a point higher.

Boston Elevated common dropped 1⅝, while the fir t preferred sold 3 points higher. Point losses were recorded for New England Telephone and Penn. R. R.

Atchison slumped over 3 points. United Fruit dipped over 2, and American Telephone was nearly 2 points lower. American Woolen shares were soft, the common easing ⅝, while the preferred was around a point lower.

Quincy Mining lowered fractionally. Losses of a point or more were shown for Pacific Mills, Stone & Webster and General Electric.

President S. M. Crocker of Arnold Print Works of North Adams, bleachers, dyers, printers and finishers of fine textiles, says that the 1930 calendar year yardage of the company surpassed that of 1929 by several million yards and orders on hand are greatly in excess of those at this time a year ago.

"We feel that general business conditions are going to be considerably better," he states, "but we realize how keen competition is, and that the successful concerns in the future will be those which have low costs and efficient management."

PRICES CUT BY TIRE MAKERS

Akron, Ohio, Jan. 12 (AP)—Announcements of sweeping cuts in retail tire prices were made today by three of the largest Akron rubber companies. The General Tire & Rubber Company announced a reduction of 10% to 12 per cent on all passenger tires, but said no cut in truck tire prices had been made or is contemplated.

The B. F. Goodrich Company issued a statement that it "has reciprocated" by making possible to meet the reductions announced last week by competitive companies."

Official confirmation was obtained of the 6¼ to 12 per cent credited to Firestone Tire & Rubber Company early this week.

The Seiberling Rubber Company has announced slashes on all tires of its mail order brands but has listed higher priced lines will be practically undisturbed

Seat on Exchange Up $40,000 at $290,000

New York, Jan. 12—Arrangements have been made for sale of a New York Stock Exchange membership at $290,000, through acquisition of rights, an increase of $40,000 over previous sale.

Atchison Loadings for Week Larger

New York, Jan. 12—Atchison in week ended Jan. 10 handled 29,416 revenue cars, against 28,529 in the preceding week

7% on Your Money

Now is the time when the thinking investor insists on adequate, protected income in addition to fundamental soundness.

Earn 7% on your money, plus the privilege of additional participation in dividends to the extent of an extra 3%. Consider Hearst Consolidated Publications, Inc.

7% Cumulative Participating Class A Stock

Preferred as to Assets and Dividends

Price $25 a Share

BUY ON THE MONTHLY PAYMENT PLAN

$5 a Share Down; $2 a Share Monthly

A full 7% interest is paid on instalments from the date of each instalment payment

The coupon will bring full details, or you may obtain information and make subscriptions at the office of any Hearst newspaper or the corporation in the United States

NEW ENGLAND NEWSPAPER PUBLISHING CO.
Stock Sales Department, 5 Winthrop Square, Boston, Mass.

Please send me further information about the 7% Class A Stock of Hearst Consolidated Publications, Inc.

Name .....

Address .....

2-12-31

TREND LOWER IN WALL ST. DEALINGS

New York, Jan. 12—The trend of prices in New York Stock Exchange dealings today was lower-ward most of the session.

Heaviness of the rails, which had been piloting the new year rally, together with the failure of U. S Steel to respond to its favorable unfilled tonnage report, were signals for renewed activity in the stocks, who also looked ahead to the unfavorable fourth quarter earnings reports which soon will be appearing in bulk.

ALL GROUPS AFFECTED.

After an early rise, the market improved somewhat toward noon, but speculative sentiment refused to be stimulated by this activity as the downward trend was resumed, gathering a little momentum as it proceeded. The largest losses were in carrier and specialty shares, although all groups were affected.

Atchison, Reading and New York Central sank 4 points, while Erie, Delaware & Hudson, Baltimore & Ohio, Southern Railway, and Frisco dropped about 3. This was also the action of the leading Westinghouse, Allied Chemical, Republic Steel pfd. and Eastman Kodak.

U. S. Steel, after making up an early loss of a point, slipped off again to extend a similar decline including American Can, Case, Auburn Auto, R. H. Macy, Gulf States Steel, Union Pacific and Rock Island, that showed recessions of 2%.

There were temporary rallies in a few specialties, notably Gillette and Continental Baking pfd., but the small gains were quickly lost. Union Oil pfd. soared 7 points.

LARGE BAIL ORDERS

Professional traders who reirned to the short side argued that the market might be said to have discounted much of the reasonable improvement in business that has appeared so far.

It was also pointed out that there had been no important corrective reaction in some time and that the modest short interest had impaired the technical position.

The market suffered from sheer neglect rather than from any serious ailments calculated to depress values and the restless professionals were ready to "test" the strength of various stocks by a few well-directed selling shafts.

The short interest seemed to exert little influence on prices. Large orders for rails continue to forbid substantial improvement in production, which, it is believed, will show another increase this week as some plants are expanding operations.

Further cuts in tire prices were announced. Air silver registered a half cent in the New York market.

Pronounced easiness was still evident in the money situation. Demand loans held officials at 1½ per cent with plenty of funds offered at 1 per cent.

Call money was available in the outside market at one per cent and commodity markets were fairly steady.

Barringer Predicts Fresh Prosperity

Dayton, O., Jan. 12—"In the not distant future we will be enjoying an era of prosperity equal to that of 1928," J. H. Barringer, vice president and general manager of National Cash Register Company, stated.

"Our mental attitude is gradually changing to one that will allow progress in return to prosperity. We have been inoculated with fear, that barrier to all true progress. Business leaders have been afraid to expand because uncertain as to the future. Slowly a certainty in the future is building itself in the minds of everyone."

Burlington Gives Large Rail Order

Chicago, Burlington & Quincy R. R. has placed orders for 36,500 tons of steel rails involving approximately $1,070,000 as follows: Colorado Fuel & Iron Co. received orders for 17,200 tons of which 2700 tons is for Fort Worth & Denver City R. R., 3000 tons for Colorado & Southern and 11,500 tons for Burlington proper, of which 1600 tons is carried over from 1930.

Illinois Steel Co. received orders for 13,300 tons, including the carryover from 1930 of 1400 tons. Inland Steel Co. received order for 6000 tons with no carry-o er.

Bond Market Dull but Holds Ground

New York, Jan. 12—There was a lull in the bidding for fonds at the start of a new week today and the market found itself unable to do more than hold its ground. Sentiment toward Brazilian issues was helped by announcement of appointment of Sir Otto Niemeyer as financial adviser to the Brazilian government. Demand for German governments, whose advance was a conspicuous development last week, was fair around Saturday's closing figure.

O'Connor Approves Steamship Merger

New York, Jan. 12—T. V. O'Connor, chairman of United States Shipping Board, considers merger of Roosevelt Steamship Co. and International Mercantile Marine sound and beneficial to development of American merchant marine. Said board will study terms of merger before expressing official opinion.

Foreign Exchanges

	Demand	Cable
Sterling	$4.85 5-16	$4.85 17-32
France	3.92 7-32	3.92 11-32
Lira	5.23 3-16	5.23 5/8
Belga	13.95⅝	13.94¾
Marks	23.78¼	23.78⅝
Swiss	19.38⅛	19.38⅜
Span. peseta	.1041⅛	10.42
Sweden, Kroone	26.74⅜	26.76⅝

Saturday's sales, 778,650 shares
Week ago, 2,087,040
Year ago, 873,750

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

1931 to date, 14,992,443
1930 to date, 17,818,090
1929 to date, 41,567,040

A

1930-31 High	Low	Div. in $		Sales Complete	Open	High	Low	2:30	Net Change
42¾	8		Abitibi Power.	100	11¾	11¾	11¼	11¼	– ⅛
37¾	14½	1.60	Adams Express	3200	19¾	19¾	19¼	19¼	– ⅜
23¼	2½		Adv Rumely.	100	½	½	½	½
1¾	⅜		Ahumada Ld..	200	⅝	⅝	⅝	⅝
36	6⅝	.60	Airway Bl..	10	8	8	8	8	+ ⅛
156⅜	87½	4.50	Air Reductn..	1400	98½	99½	96⅝	97⅝	– 1¾
8¾	4½		Akron Rubber	300	5	5	5	5
49¾	4	.40	Alaska Juneau	5100	5½	5¾	5⅛	5⅛	– ⅛
12½	5		A M F Pipe Co	100	5	5	5	5	– ⅛
32½	5¾		Allegh Corp..	4600	5¼	5½	5⅛	5⅛	– ⅛
543	161¾	6t	Allied Chem..	4300	168¾	168¾	165	167	– 1¾
98	31¼	2	Allis Chalm..	600	36¾	36¾	35¾	35¾	– ¾
42¾	11½	4	Alpha Port C..	150	17	17	17	17
21¾	16½	2	Amerada	100	21	21	21	21
8	2		Am Beet Sug..	100	4	4	4	4	– ⅛
128	11⅞	7	Am Br Sh nt..	2	11⅞	11⅞	11⅞	11⅞	+ ⅜
123¾	¼		Am Bk Note..	100	11⅞	11⅞	11⅞	11⅞	+ ⅜
84	38	7	Am Br Sv pf..	200	45¾	45¾	45¼	45¾	– 1⅛
114¾	64⅜	3.50	Am Can..	4600	113¾	113¾	112¾	113¼	– 1
82½	24⅞	6	Am Car & Fd..	800	33	33	32½	32½	– 1¼
63⅛	27	3	Am Chain..	100	32	32	32	32	– 1
53¾	21⅜	2.20	Am Chicle..	100	41	41	40¾	40¾	– ⅛
33	9		Am Com Alco	100	9⅛	9⅛	9⅛	9⅛
101⅛	25		Am & Frn Pw	1200	33¾	34⅛	32¾	33⅛	– ⅜
100⅜	63¼		Am P & L pf A	100	74	74	73	73	– ⅜
53⅜	5½	2	Am Hawaiian	500	9⅞	9⅞	9¾	9¾	– ⅛
49¾	26⅜	4.20	Am Home Pr..	1000	51⅛	51⅛	51⅛	51¼	– ⅛
55⅝	16	2d	Am Inter..	2300	20⅜	20⅜	19⅞	20	– ⅛
	⅛		Am Labrance..	400	⅛	⅛	⅛	⅛
105	18½	2	Am Loco..	200	25	25	25	25	– 1
45	20¾	1.63b	Am M & Fdy..	100	33⅜	33⅜	33	33	+ ⅛
274⅛	109¾	5	Am Nat Gas..	2200	56½	56½	55½	55½	– 1
119⅜	36½	14	Am Pw & Lt..	600	47¾	48¾	47¼	47½	+ ⅜
87⅞	74½	3.50	Am P & L 5 pf	100	76	76	76	76
98	31¼	2	Am R & SR..	100	18	18	18	18	+ ⅛
37	5½		Am Republic..	100	6¼	6¼	6¼	6¼	– ⅛
100⅛	20		Am Rolling..	1000	21	21	20¾	20¾	– ⅛
116⅜	24		Am Safety R..	1400	63⅜	63⅜	62⅜	63	– ⅜
3⅜			Am Ship & C..	100
50¾	37½	4	Am Smelting..	700	44¾	44¾	44⅛	44¼	+ ⅛
22½	2		Am Sol & Ch..	100	3	3	3	3
69⅜	39¼	5	Am Sugar..	100	49	49	49	49
107	101¾		Am Sugar pf..	500	101¾	101¼	101½	101¼	+ 1
27½	15	5	Am Tel & C..	40	17	17
274⅜	169¾	9	Am T & T..	2200	166½	166½	165¼	165¾	– 1
127	98½	5	Am Tobacco..	200	109¾	109¾	109¾	109¾	– ¼
130⅜	99¼	7	Am Tob B..	200	112	112	111¾	111¾	– ¼
107⅜	99¼	7	Am Type Fd..	20	106	106	106	106
124⅝	47¾	3	Am Water W..	2300	59½	59¾	58¼	58¾	– ⅝
114⅜	15¾		Am Woolen..	200	11¾	11¾	11¾	11¾	– ⅛
14¾	15⅜		Am Woolen pf	200	32¾	33	30¾	31½	– 1
9	1¾		Am Wr Pa ct..		⅜	⅜	⅜	⅜	+ ⅛
77⅞	31½		Anaconda..	200	5	5	5	5
81½	25	2.50	Anaconda..	5500	32	32½	31⅜	31⅝	+ ¼
46⅜	24		Anaconn W & C	200	26	26	26	26
51¾	24	2.40	Anchor Cap..	800	30	30½	30	30¼
37¼	10⅜	1	Andes Copper.	100	13¾	13¾	13¾	13¾	– ⅛
8¾	2¼		Armour Ill A..	500	3¾	3¾	3½	3½	– ⅛
4⅜	⅛		Armour Ill B..	300	2½	2½	2½	2½
14¾	2¾	7	Armour pf 7%..	100	40¾	40¾	40¾	40¾	– 1½
13¾	3½		Arnold Constb..	100	4¼	4¼	4¼	4¼	+ ⅛
46⅛	20	4	Asso Apparel..	200	27¾	28	27¾	27¾	– ⅛
26¾	24¼	2.50	Asso D Gds..	200	25¼	25¼	24¼	25¼	– 1
242½	168	10	Atchison..	200	819½	189½	189	189	– 1
106¾	85	6	Atchison pf..	100	104¼	104¼	104¼	104½	– ¼
175½	95¼	8.50	Atlantic C..	100	115	115	115	115	+ ½
251½	16⅝	1.25b	Atl Refin..	100	22½	22¾	22¼	22¼	– ⅛
18¾	7	1d	Atlas Stores..	100	7	7	7	7
263¾	60¾	4d	Auburn Auto..	3100	109	109	107	108	– 1¾
10¾	⅞		Autosales..	100	⅞	⅞	⅞	⅞
10¾	⅞		Autosales pf..	100	3¼	3¼	3¼	3¼	+ ⅛
6⅝	2⅜		Avia. Corp..	300	4¼	4¼	4⅛	4⅛	– ⅛

B

38	19¾	1.75	Baldwin Loc..	3200	22	23½	22	22¾	+ ¼
118	84		Baldwin Le pf	100	93	93	93	93	– ¼
99¾	39	1	Balt & Ohio..	1500	80½	80½	78¼	78½	– 1¾
84½	70¾	4	Balt & Ohio pf	100	77¾	76⅝	78½	78½	– ⅜
104¾	52¾	4.50	Barnsdall Co..	20	105½	105½	105½	105½	– ⅛
43¾	3½	3.5.	Bangor & Ar..	200	19	60	59	60
34	6⅝	1	Barnsdall A..	300	12¾	12¾	12¾	12¾	+ ⅛
89	69	7	Baruch L pf..	30	87½	87½	87½	87½
92	62	4	Beatrice Cr..	300	65⅝	66⅛	66⅛	66⅛	+ ⅜
31	5		Belding H..	100	2¾	2¾	2¾	2¾
57⅜	14¼	1	Bendix Aviat..	700	19¾	19¾	19¼	19¼	– ⅛
56¾	30⅜	2	Best & Co..	1300	52¾	53	52¼	52⅝	+ ⅜
56¾	30⅜	2	Bethlehem Stl.	8100	53¾	53	52½	52⅝	– ⅜
134	112¾	7	Beth Stl pf..	100	117	117	117	117
41½	12¾	1.50	Blaw Knox..	1300	27¾	27¾	27¼	27¼	– ⅜
25	16¾		Blmoninsdale..	20	20	20	20	20
69	15¾	1.50	Bohn Alum..	100	22¾	22¾	22¾	22¾	– ⅛
3¾	1		Bohn Alum..	100	1¾	1¾	1¾	1¾
90½	60¼	3d	Borden Co..	700	69¾	70	69¾	70
41¾	20¾	2	Borg Warner..	600	27¾	28	27¾	28	+ ¼
25¾	12½	1.50	Briggs Mfg..	3600	17¾	17¾	17½	17½	– ⅛
22¾	1¼		Brockway Mo.	300	3¾	3¾	3¾	3¾	+ ⅛
78¾	30¾		Bklyn Man Tr..	200	60¾	60¾	60¼	60¼	– ⅜
30¾	10		Brunswick Blk	400	12½	12½	12¼	12½
33¾	5½		Brunswick Tr	100	6¼	6¼	6¼	6¼
16	7¾		Bucyrus Erie..	200	15	15	14½	15
74	9⅜		Bullard Co..	400	18	18	15¼	15¼	– 1¾
7¾	3½		Bulova Watch..	100	13¾	13¾	13¾	13¾	– ⅛
16¾	3		Budd Mfg..	100	4¼	4¼	4¼	4¼	+ ⅛
51¾	16⅝	1	Burroughs A..	300	23	23	23	23
51¾	16⅝	1	Burroughs Ad..	100	23½	23½	23¼	23½	– ⅛
114⅜	33⅛		Byers A M....	1400	43¾	44¾	43¼	44	+ ⅝

C

77½	41¼	4	California P..	200	47	47	47	47	+ ⅛
89¾	28¾		Cal & Ariz..	100	37½	37½	37½	37½	+ ⅛
10	6		Cal & Hecla..	100	8¾	8¾	8¾	8¾	+ ⅛
30	10	2	Campbell Edy..	100	13½	13¾	13¾	13¾	– ⅛
23¾	20⅜	3	Canada Dry....	100	34	34	34	34	– ¼
52¾	35¼	2.50	Can Pac....	3000	42	42	40¾	41	– ⅜
42	29½	3	Capital Ad pf.	100	34	34	34	34	+ ½
82¾	24	2	Case J I....	3400	87½	89½	87¼	88	– 1¼
79¾	22	3.25	Caterpil'r Tr..	100	31	31	31	31	– ⅜
60	6		Cayuga Ridge..	100	6½	6½	6½	6½	– ⅛
30½	18	1.50	Cen Agurrre..	500	23¾	23¾	23	23¼	– ⅜
62¾	21	2	Cerro De Pas..	500	23¾	23¾	23¾	23¾	– ⅛
15¾	2	4	Certain-teed pf	1300	3¾	3¾	3¾	3¾
67¾	14¾	1.80	Checker Cab..	100	19¾	19¾	19¾	19¾	– ⅛
51¾	32⅜	2.50	Ches & Ohio..	1700	41¾	41¾	40¾	40¾	– ⅝
			Chi Aiton..	300	2¾	2¾	2¾	2½
			Chi & Alton pf	4700	1¾	1¾	1¾	1¾
			Chi Gt West..	200	3	3	3	3
26¾	4¼		Chi & Nr Pw..	1100	8	8	7¾	7¾	– ⅜
52¾	19¾		Chi R I & Pac	1500	13¾	13¾	13½	13½	– ⅜
37	7¾		Chi Pneumatic	300	11	11½	11	11	– ⅛
43	14½	1	Chrysler....	4000	17½	17½	16¾	17¼	+ ⅛
19¾	1.60		Chy I & P....	200	3½	3½	3½	3½	– ⅛
98¾	79	6.50	U I & P pf....	100	79¾	79¾	79	79
93¾	25	2.50	Chy Stores....	100	34	34	34	34
2400	152¾	153¾	151	153¾	– 1¾
105	101	101	101	101	– 1
1400	87¾	89¾	87¼	88	– 1¼
100	31	31	31	31	– ⅜
100	6½	6½	6½	6½	– ⅛
500	23¼	23¼	23	23¼	– ⅛
200	23¾	23¾	23¾	23¾	– ⅛
100	19¾	19¾	19¾	19¾	– ⅛
1700	41¾	41¾	40¾	40¾	– ⅝
			Coca Cola....	2400	152¾	153¾	151	153¾	– 1¾
			Coca Cola A..	200	50½	50½	50¾	50¾
			Colo Carbon..	200	50½	50½	50¾	50¾
4500	36½	36½	35¾	35¾	– 1
100	99		Col G & E 8 pf	100	105	105	105	105	– 1
1400	8¾	8¾	8¼	8¾	+ ⅛
200	26	26½	26	26½	– ⅛
100	15¾	15¾	15¾	15¾	– ⅛
2000	9	9	9	9
200	8¼	8¼	8¼	8¼	+ ¼
10	69	69	69	69
200	9¾	9¾	9¾	9¾
100	3¼	3¼	3¼	3¼
100	4¼	4¼	4¼	4¼
100	4	4	4	4
100	4	4	4	4
100	1¾	1¾	1¾	1¾
1700	19¾	19¾	19¼	19¼	– ⅛
100	3¾	3¾	3¾	3¾

New York Curb Market

	High	Low	Last
A
Affiliated Prod	14¼	14	14
Agfa Ansco	10⅝	10⅜	10⅜
All Amer Gen Corp	5⅛	5	5⅛
Allegheny Gas	2⅛	2⅛	2⅛
Allied Mills	4⅝	4⅜	4⅜
Alum Co of Am	151¼	142¾	149
Alum Lt A ws	30	30	30
Am Austin Car	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛
Am Capital B	5	5	5
Am Cities Pwr B	7⅜	6⅝	6⅝
Am Commw A	12⅜	12⅛	12⅜
Am Cyanam B	8¾	8¾	8¾
Am F Pw ww	17⅛	17⅛	17⅛
Am Founders	4⅞	4⅞	4⅞
Am Gas & El	79⅛	77⅝	78⅛
Am Inv Inc B	5⅛	5⅛	5⅛
Am Light & T	44	44	44
Am Superpwr	11	10¾	10¾
Am U & G Cp Bvtc	4⅜	4⅜	4⅜
Amoskeag Mfg	7¼	7¼	7⅜
Appalac Gas	6⅛	6	6
Ark Nat'l Gas A	6	6	6
Assoc Gas & Elec	20	20	20
Assoc Gas & El cts	85	85	85
Assoc Gas A	21¼	21	21
Assoc G & E Al ct	20¼	20¼	20¼
Asso Gas & El	9⅝	9⅝	9⅝
Asso Rayon pf	39¾	39¾	39¾
B
Babia Corp	2	2	2
Brazil Trac	24¾	24	24¼
Brit Amer Tob B	23	23	23
Burma Corp	2	2	2
Bwanna M K	3⅛	3⅛	3⅛
C
Carib Synd	⅝	⅝	⅝
Carreras Ltd	3	3	3
Cent Pub Ut Md A	17⅛	17⅛	17⅛
Centrifugal Pipe	6	6	6
Cities Serv	17⅛	17⅛	17⅛
Cleveld Trust	10	10	10
Colombuit Syn	⅛	⅛	⅛
Colum O&G vtc	6	5⅞	5⅞
Colon Oil	1⅜	1⅜	1⅜
Columbia Pict vtc	18⅛	18⅛	18⅛
Cmnwl & S war	1⅞	1⅞	1⅞
Commun'lty Water	3	3	3
Community Wa sell	8	8	8
Cons Retail St	3⅝	3⅝	3⅝
Cord Corp	6⅞	6⅝	6⅞
Corp Sec Chi	18	18	18
Corrocoa & Pf A	6	6	6
Cosden Oil	2⅜	2⅜	2⅜
Cuini Mex
Cuneo Press	30	30	30
Curtiss Air vtc	1⅝	1⅝	1⅝
Curtiss Wright war	⅝	⅝	⅝
D
Dayton Air En	1⅞	1⅞	1⅞
Deere & Co	40¼	40	40¼
DeForest Rad	2⅜	2⅜	2⅜
Derby Oil & Ref	3¼	3	3⅛
Det Aircraft	2	2	2
Duke Power	125¼	122	123¼
Duquesne Gas	2	1⅞	1⅞
Durant	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛
E
Eastern St Pow a	14¼	14¼	14¼
East Ut Assoc C	8	8	8
East Util Inv A	4	4	4
Elec B & S	42⅝	42¼	42¼
Elec B & S pf	103½	103	103½
Elec Pwr Assn	15	15	15
Elec P Assn A	16⅛	16	16⅛
Elec Sharehd	10¼	10¼	10¼
Europn El dbr rts	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛
F
Ford Motor Ltd	18	17¾	17¾
Ford of Can A	24⅛	23	23⅛
Foremost Co A	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛
Foundat'n (For) A	3	3	3
Fox Theatre A	4⅞	4⅞	4⅞
G
Gen Aviation	7¾	7¾	7¾
Gen Bak Co. N	20¼	20¼	20¼
Gen Baking	87	87	87
Gen El Co rts	31	30¾	31
Gen Elect Ltd	10⅞	10⅞	10⅞
Gen G & El pf B	83	83	83
Gen Theat E cv pf	28¾	28¾	28¾
Gen W Wks&El A	15⅝	15⅝	15⅝
Gleaney Corp	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛
Glen Alden Coal	60	60	60
Gold Coin Min	⅜	⅜	⅜
Golden Center Mines	⅛	⅛	⅛
Goldman Sachs Tr	6¾	6¾	6¾
Grocery Str Pr vtc	3¼	3¼	3¼
Guenther-Law	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛
Gulf Oil	75	74½	74½
H
Hudson Bay	4⅜	4⅛	4⅛
Humble Oil	64⅛	64	64
I
Imperial Oil Can n	18⅜	17⅜	17⅜
India Rubber & R	8	8	8
Indiana P&L pf	101¼	101¼	101¼
Ins of N A	55½	54¾	55½
Insurance Seo	7	7	7
Interconn Pet	5-16	5-16	5-16
Internat Pet	15⅛	15⅛	15⅛
Int Utilities B	6⅛	6⅛	6⅛
Italian Sup A	3	3	3
K
Kolster-Brandes Ltd	7-16	7-16	7-16
L
Lefcourt Realty	10¾	10¼	10¼
Lefcourt pf	20¾	20¾	20¾
Leonard Oil
Liberty Dairy	2	2	2
Loews Boston	9½	9⅛	9⅛
Louisiana Land	4	4	4
M
Marconi Inter	9¼	9¼	9¼
Mavis Bott	⅛	⅛	⅛
Mead Johnson	78⅛	78⅛	78⅛
Memphis Nat Gas	11¾	11¾	11¾
Metals & Mi S	⅛	⅛	⅛
Metro Edison pf	97⅛	97⅛	97⅛
Michigan G & O	6¾	6¾	6¾
Mid Royalty cvf pf	14	14	14
Mid States Pet B	1⅛	⅞	⅞
Middle W Util	21	20¼	20¼
Min Con of Can	2	2	2
Miss Riv Pow pf	86	86	86
Mohawk H 7pc 2 pf	99	99	99
Montreal L&P	58	58	58
Mountain Prv	5⅜	5⅛	5⅛
N
Nat Amer	4¼	4¼	4¼
Nat Aviation	5⅜	5	5
Nat Inv	5⅛	5⅛	5⅛
Nat P&L 6 pc pf	98⅛	98⅛	98⅛
Nat Screen Pr	4⅝	4⅝	4⅝
Nat Short T Sec	15⅞	15⅝	15⅞
Nat Sug Ref	30¾	30¾	30¾
Natnse pf	72½	72¼	72¼
New Brad Oil	3	3	3
N Y Hamburg	26⅛	26⅛	26⅛
Niag & Hudp	30⅛	30⅛	30⅛
Niag Hudp P A war	2¾	2	2
Niagara Share Md	75	75	75
Niles Bem Pond	42	42	42
Nipissing Min	1¼	1¼	1¼
Noma Electric	5⅝	5⅜	5⅜
Norandex	3⅛	3⅛	3⅛
No Am Avia A war	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛
No Am Util Sec	2⅜	2⅜	2⅜
No Ind Pub S pf	99	99	99
O
Ohio Copper	⅛	⅛	⅛
Outboard A	5⅝	5⅝	5⅝
do B	5⅝	5⅝	5⅝
P
Pacific Gas pf ris	2	2	2
Pacific W Oil	4⅜	4⅜	4⅜
Paramt Cab	4	3⅞	3⅞
Penn Pw&Lt 97 pf	109	108⅛	109
Pennroad vtc	7⅝	7⅝	7⅝
Pitney Bowes	39	39	39
Plymouth Oil	16⅞	16⅞	16⅞
Premier Gold	15-16	15-16	15-16
Prince & Whit pf	14½	14½	14½

	High	Low	Last
P
Producers Royalty	2⅛	2⅛	2⅛
Prudential Inv	9⅝	9⅝	9⅝
Public Utilities ww	6¾	6¾	6¾
Public Utilities war	1	1	1
Puget Sound pf	98⅝	98⅝	98⅝
P S of N Ill rts	21	21	21
R
Reliance Manag	4¼	4¼	4¼
Reybarn Co	3	3	3
Reynolds Inv	1¼	1¼	1¼
Rockland Lt	17⅞	17⅞	17⅞
Rossia Intl Corp	3	3	3
S
St Anthony Gold	1-16	1-16	1-16
St Regis Pap	15	14⅜	14⅜
Saxet Co	8⅝	8⅛	8⅝
Schulte-United	⅞	⅞	⅞
do cv pf	3	2⅞	3
Selected Indus	4	4	4
do allot ctf	56	56	56
Shenan cv pf	30⅝	30⅝	30⅝
S Cal Ed pf A sel	29¼	29	29¼
S Cal Ed pf B	28⅝	28⅝	28⅝
St Oil of Ind	38	37⅝	38
St Oil of Ky	22⅜	22⅜	22⅜
Stand Screw	94¾	94¾	94¾
Starrett Corp	12¼	12¼	12¼
Strauss Robt S	3⅜	3⅜	3⅜
Stutz Motor	18⅛	18⅛	18⅛
T
Technicolor	8⅛	8⅛	8⅛
Tobac & Allied St	26⅛	26⅛	26⅛
Tobac Pr ex
Trans Lux	7⅞	7⅞	7⅞
Tri Continental	3	2⅞	2⅞
Tibize-Chatillon B	4⅜	3⅜	3⅜
U
United Dry Docks	3	2⅞	3
United Found Corp	8⅞	8⅝	8⅝
United Gas Imp	30⅛	30	30⅛
United L & P A	24¼	24¼	24¼
U S Electric	5⅜	5⅜	5⅜
U S Ind Shares	7⅛	7	7⅛
U S Lines pf	6	6	6
United Stores v	1⅜	1⅜	1⅜
Utility Equity	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛
Util P&L a	10⅛	10⅛	10⅛
Util Pr Hpr Mines	1⅞	1⅞	1⅞
V
Vacuum Oil	62¾	60¾	60¾
Venezuelan Pet	1⅜	1⅜	1⅜
W
Walker H	7⅜	7⅜	7⅜
Western Air Exp	15	15	15
Willow Cafe	3	3	3
Wright Hspe Mines	1⅞	1⅞	1⅞

New York Curb Bonds

	Sales	High	Low	Last
Alah Pow 5s 68		103⅜	103⅛	103⅛
Alumin Co 5s 52		104⅛	104	104
Alum Ltd 5s 48 wi		99¾	99½	99½
Am Cent Pow 5s 48		41	41	41
Am G&E 5s 2028		38⅝	38⅜	38⅜
Am P&L 5s 2016		105	105	105
Am Roll Mill 5s 48		95¼	95¼	95¼
Am Roll Mill 5s 52		95¼	95¼	95¼
Appalach Gas 5s 41		73¼	74⅛	74⅛
Appalach Gas 6s B 41		83⅛	83⅛	83⅛
Appalach Pwr 5s 56		100⅜	99⅞	99⅞
Ark P&L 5s 56		99⅛	99⅛	99⅛
Asso Elec 4½s 53		88½	88½	88½
Asso G&E 4½s A 53		88½	88½	88½
Asso G&E 4½s C 49		69¾	69¾	69¾
Asso G&E 5s A		78	77⅞	77⅞
Asso G&E 5s 58		78	77⅞	77⅞
Asso Tel Ut 5½s 44		97⅜	97⅜	97⅜
Asso Tel Ut 5½s 44 C		88	88	88
Bell Tr of Can 5s 55		100⅛	100⅛	100⅛
Bell Tr of Can 5s C 60		100	100	100
Beth Steel 5s 42		100⅛	100⅛	100⅛
Capitol Adm 5s A 53 ww		82	82	82
Carnana Steam 5s 34		99⅛	99⅛	99⅛
Caterpillar Trac 5s 35		99⅛	99⅛	99⅛
Cent Ill El 4½s 66		89⅛	89⅛	89⅛
Cent Ill El 5½s 54 ww		89¾	89¾	89¾
Cent Pow&L 5s 57		98⅜	98⅜	98⅜
Cities Serv 5s 68		74⅛	74⅛	74⅛
Cities Serv 5½s 43		73⅝	73⅝	73⅝
C S G P 5½s 53		82	82	82
Clev El Ill 4½s 56		101⅛	101⅛	101⅛
Cmwlth Ed 4½s D 57		101⅛	101⅛	101⅛
Cmwlth Ed 5s A 2030		104⅛	104⅛	104⅛
Com Lands 6s 41		41	40½	40½
Comm Cr Co 5½s 41		100⅛	100⅛	100⅛
Cont G&E 5s A 58		83½	83½	83½
Cuba Co 6s 42		53⅛	53⅛	53⅛
Cuyahoga Elec 5s 60		99⅛	99⅛	99⅛
Dallas Pow&L 5s 49		97⅛	97⅛	97⅛
Dayton P&L 5s 52		97⅛	97⅛	97⅛
Del Co Pr Rail 5s 36		97⅛	97⅛	97⅛
Det Int Brg 6½s 40		28⅜	28⅜	28⅜

	Sales	High	Low	Last
Det Int Br To 52		3⅜	3⅜	3⅜
Duquesne Gas 5s 45		81½	81½	81½
Duquesne Gas 6½s 35		83	83	83
Eastern Ut Inv ww 5s 54		45⅛	45⅛	45⅛
Ed Elec Boston 4s		100⅛	100⅛	100⅛
Elec P&L 5s Bond 57		97⅛	97⅛	97⅛
Firest Cat Mills 5s 48		84⅝	84	84⅝
Florida P&L 5s 54		103⅝	103⅝	103⅝
Gen Vending 6s 37 ww		11	11	11
Georgia Power 5s 67		99⅛	99⅛	99⅛
Goodyear T&R 5½s 31		99⅝	99⅝	99⅝
Grand Trunk 6½s 36		104⅛	104⅛	104⅛
Gulf Oil Penn 5s 37		102	102	102
Gulf Oil Penn 5s 47		102	102	102
Hood Rub 5½s 46		101⅛	101⅛	101⅛
Hood Rub 7s 36		104⅛	104⅛	104⅛
Ill P&L 5½s 57		101⅛	100⅝	101⅛
Indep Oil & Gas 6s 39		73	73	73
Indiana P&L 5s A 57		101⅛	101⅛	101⅛
Insull Util 6s 48 ww		96	96	96
Intern Pow 6s 49		54	54	54
Intern Sec 5s 47		83	83	83
Intern Pow Del 5s 57		74	74	74
Jersey Cent P&L 4s 49		102⅝	102⅝	102⅝
Jersey Cent Se B 47		100⅛	100⅛	100⅛
Keystone Tel 5½s 57		100⅛	100⅛	100⅛
Koppers Gas C 5½s 50		102⅛	102⅛	102⅛
Lehigh Pow Sec 6s 2026		104⅛	104⅛	104⅛
Libby McN&L 5s 42		91⅛	91⅛	91⅛
Long Is L 5½s 45		100⅛	100⅛	100⅛
Louisiana P&L 5s 57		98⅝	98⅝	98⅝
Manitoba Pow 5½s 51		95	95	95
Mass Gas 5s 55		99⅝	99⅝	99⅝
Midwest Uti 5s 33		98⅛	98⅛	98⅛
Minn Gas L 4½s 50		91⅝	91⅝	91⅝
Miss Power 5s 48		93⅛	93⅛	93⅛
Miss Riv Fuel 6s 44 ww		103⅛	103⅛	103⅛
Mo Pac 5½s 65		55⅛	55⅛	55⅛
Nat P&L 6s A 2026		104⅛	104⅛	104⅛
Nat P&L 6s B 2028		90⅛	90⅛	90⅛
Nat Pub Ser 5s 78		72⅝	72⅝	72⅝
Neisner 5½s 43		97⅛	97⅛	97⅛
Newark Onio P&L 5½s		101⅛	101⅛	101⅛
New Eng G&E 5s 47		87	87	87
N Eng G&E 5s 47		88⅝	88⅝	88⅝
N Y Edison 5s 44		97⅛	97⅛	97⅛
Niagara P&L 5s 56		96⅛	96⅛	96⅛
Niagara Share 5s 50		94⅛	94⅛	94⅛
Nor St Pw 6½s A 32		102⅛	102⅛	102⅛
Ohio Edison 5s 60 wi		100⅛	100⅛	100⅛
Ohio Edison 6s 47		97⅛	97⅛	97⅛
Okla Gas & El 5s 50 wi		100⅛	100⅛	100⅛
Pac G&E 4½s A 57		88⅛	88⅛	88⅛
Pac G&E 4½s F 60		88	88	88
Pac G&E 5s 42		105	105	105
Pac P&L 5s 43		98⅛	98⅛	98⅛
Pac Pow&L 5½s 55		98⅛	98⅛	98⅛
Penn Cent P&L 4½s 77		84½	84½	84½
Penn Ohio Ed 5½s B 56		97⅛	97⅛	97⅛
Penn O Ed 6s 50 ww		103	103	103
Penniroad 4½s 36		87⅞	87⅞	87⅞
Phila El Pow 5½s 72		104⅛	103⅞	104⅛
Portland Gen El 5s 40		86	86	86
Portland Gen El 4½s 60		88⅛	88⅛	88⅛
Power&Light 5s 2014		97⅞	97⅞	97⅞
Puget Sound P&L 5s 49 A		101⅛	101⅛	101⅛
Queens Boro G&E 5s		99⅛	99⅛	99⅛
Rhen Cent Pw 5s A 53		84⅛	84⅛	84⅛
San Anton P S 4s B 58		84⅛	84⅛	84⅛
Saxet A s 6½s		51⅜	50⅜	50⅜
Saxet B s 6½s		51⅜	50⅜	50⅜
Shawinigan W&P 4½sA47		94⅛	94⅛	94⅛
Shawinigan W&P 4½sB60		94⅛	94⅛	94⅛
Shawinigan W&P 5s C		103⅛	103	103⅛
Shawinigan W&P 4½s D		94⅛	94⅛	94⅛
Shawinen W Ts 3d		101⅛	101⅛	101⅛
Snider Packs 6s 42		27⅞	27⅞	27⅞
Southeast P L 6s A 2025		104⅛	104⅛	104⅛
So Cal Ed 5s 47		104⅛	104⅛	104⅛
So Cal Ed 5s 52		104⅛	104⅛	104⅛
So Ind G&E 5s 37		93	93	93
So Cal Gas 5½s		102⅛	102⅛	102⅛
So Ind G&E 5s 52		93	93	93
S W Gas&El 5s 42		101⅛	101⅛	101⅛
Stand G&E 5s 51		100⅛	100⅛	100⅛
Stand G&E 6s 61		100⅛	100⅛	100⅛
Stand Inv 5s 37 ww		80½	80½	80½
Stand Oil Ky 5s 48		100⅛	100⅛	100⅛
Swift & Co 5s 40		100⅛	100⅛	100⅛
Swift & Co 5s 44		100⅛	100⅛	100⅛
Tenn P Sil 6s 79		103⅛	103⅛	103⅛
Tenn Pub Ser 5s 70		77⅛	77⅛	77⅛
Tex El Ser 5s 60		97⅛	97⅛	97⅛
Tex Pow&L 5s 56		97⅛	97⅛	97⅛
Tex P&L 5s 58		99⅛	99⅛	99⅛
Tri-City Ry 6s 43		97⅛	97⅛	97⅛
Union El L&P 5s 67		102⅛	102⅛	102⅛
Union Gulf 5s		103⅛	103⅛	103⅛
Un L&P 6s 75		93⅛	93	93
Un Pow&L 5s 57		98⅛	98⅛	98⅛
U S Rub 6s 33		88	88	88
Van Beuren Rd 6s 44 ww		83⅛	83⅛	83⅛
Washington W Pr 5s		103⅛	103	103⅛
West Penn Pwr 5s		107⅛	107⅛	107⅛
West Tex Util 5s 57		89½	89½	89½
Western Gas 5½s A 56		85⅛	85⅛	85⅛
Western Newa Un 6s 44		58	58	58
Bonds Mtg B 7s 47 10-27		65	65	65
Cities Serv 6s		74⅛	74⅛	74⅛
Cont Ref Gar 6s B 61		85	85	85
Cont Ref Gar 6s 61		84⅝	84⅝	84⅝
Colum Ag Mg B 7s 47		63	63	63
Colum Ag Mg 7s 47		100	100	100
Finland Ind Bk 7s 44		93	93	93
Gen Am Investors 6s 61		71	71	71
Ger Con Mun 7s 47		71½	71½	71½
Ger Con Mun 7s 47		71½	71½	71½
Gesfuerel 6s 53 ww		70	70	70
Int Mer Mar 6½s 41		71	71	71
Rm de Janeiro 8s 53		98½	98½	98½
Rom Cath Bish 6s 46		98⅛	98⅛	98⅛
Saxon Pub Wks 6s		70	70	70
Unit Ind Corp 5½s 41		77	77	77

New York Bonds

GOVERNMENT ISSUES

	Sales	High	Low	Last
Liberty 3½s 32-47		101.27	101.27	101.27
Lib 1st cv 4¼s 32-47		103	102.28	102.30
Lib 4th 4¼s 33-38		103.27	103.24	103.25
Lib 4th 4¼s 38		104.1	103.31	104.1
Treasury 4½s 47-52		113	112.20	113
Treas 4s 44-54		108.27	108.25	108.25
Treas 4¼s 48-58		106.28	106.25	106.25
Treas 4¼s 44-46		102.30	102.28	102.28
Treas 3¼s 46-43		102.22	102.22	102.223

DOMESTIC CORPORATION ISSUES

	Sales	High	Low	Last
Abraham & Str 5½s 43		96⅛	95⅞	95⅞
Adams Exp 4s 47		84⅛	84⅛	84⅛
Alleg Corp 5s 49		81⅛	81⅛	81⅛
Alleg Corp 5s 44		81⅛	81⅛	81⅛
Am & Foreign Pw 5s 2030		82⅞	81⅞	81⅞
Am Int 5s 49		84⅛	84⅛	84⅛
Am T&T conv 4½s 39		130⅛	129⅛	130⅛
Am T&T 5s 43		106⅛	106⅛	106⅛
Am T&T 5s 65		106⅛	106	106⅛
Am T&T conv 5s 46		130⅛	129⅛	130⅛
Angio-Nic 7s 41		85⅛	84⅛	84⅛
Anglo Lon Pa 4½s 52		84⅛	84⅛	84⅛
Armour & Co 4½s 39		91⅛	91⅛	91⅛
Armour Del 5½s 43		97⅛	97⅛	97⅛
A T & L F gen 6s 63		98⅛	98⅛	98⅛
Atl Ref deb 5s 31		102⅛	102⅛	102⅛
B & O R 5s 95		98⅛	98⅛	98⅛
B & O cv 5s 48		95⅛	95⅛	95⅛
Bethlehem St 7s 2000		104⅛	104⅛	104⅛
B & O Southwstrn 5s 90		100⅛	104⅛	104⅛
Batavian Pet 4½s 42		87⅛	87⅛	87⅛
Bklyn Man T 4s A 68		99⅛	99⅛	99⅛
Bklyn Un Gas 5s 47		104⅛	104⅛	104⅛
Can Nat Rys 4½s 51		99⅛	99⅛	99⅛
Can Nat Rys 4½s 57		99⅛	99⅛	99⅛
Can Pac deb 4s		88⅝	88⅝	88⅝
Can Pac 4s 49		88⅛	88⅛	88⅛
Calif Pack 5s		99	98⅞	98⅞
Cent Branch U P 4s 48		85⅛	85⅛	85⅛
Certain-T pf deb 4½s 39		35⅛	35⅛	35⅛
Ches & Ohio 4½s 30		100⅛	100⅛	100⅛
Ches & O 4½s A 93		100⅛	100⅛	100⅛
Chic Gt W 4s A 88		100⅛	100⅛	100⅛
Chic Ind & L 5s 65		100⅛	100⅛	100⅛
Chic Mil St P 5s 75		100⅛	100⅛	100⅛
Chic R I & P 4s 88		100⅛	100⅛	100⅛
Chic R I & P 5s 34		100⅛	100⅛	100⅛
Chic R I & P 4s 88		100⅛	100⅛	100⅛
Chic St P M & O 5s 30		100⅛	100⅛	100⅛
Chic Un Sta 4½s 63		100⅛	100⅛	100⅛
Chic Un Sta 5s 63		100⅛	100⅛	100⅛
Chic Un Sta 5s A 63		100⅛	100⅛	100⅛
Chic Un Sta 5s B 63		100⅛	100⅛	100⅛
Chile Copper 5s 47		100⅛	100⅛	100⅛
Cin Gas El 4½s A 56		92⅛	92	92
Clev Un Ter 4½s 72		92⅛	92⅛	92⅛
Colo Fuel 5s 43		100⅛	100⅛	100⅛
Colo Ind 5s 34		100⅛	100⅛	100⅛
Colo Ind 5s 34 ctf		100⅛	100⅛	100⅛
Colon & Hud 4s 51		100⅛	100⅛	100⅛
Colon & H 5s 51 May		100⅛	100⅛	100⅛
Colon & H 5s 51 Nov		100⅛	100⅛	100⅛
Colon & H 5s 51 ctf		100⅛	100⅛	100⅛
Colon & H 5s 51 ctf		100⅛	100⅛	100⅛
Colon Oil 5s 38		100⅛	100⅛	100⅛
Colon Oil 5s 38 ctf

PORT OF BOSTON

By JAMES J. DELANEY

Dodd Haggard and worn from five nights and days continuous watch on the bridge during a storm which tore away ventilators and damaged deck fittings, Capt. John Smith, commander of the S. S. Javanese Prince, Prince Line, Ltd., brought her safely to this port.

The big freighter was five days off schedule and work of unloading her cargo was began last night.

After passing Gibraltar on December 28, Capt. Smith stated that he ran into the worst weather he has ever been through in a cross-ing. Northwesterly and westerly gales and mountainous seas made going difficult. Many times, head winds drove the ship astern, despite the fact that she was loaded with 10,000 tons of cargo and drawing 28 feet of water.

The big ship was sometimes thrown half her length out of water, Capt. Smith stated. Three passengers, Mrs. Florence Kendall of New York, who is returning home after ten years in the Orient, Nicola Navgier and Nicholas Rigas were on board.

SIMS SPEAKEE

Rear-Admiral William S. Sims, U. S. N. (retired), will discuss "The Influence of the Submarine and Airplane Upon Sea Power," at the January dinner meeting of the Proprietors to be held at the Boston Yacht Club, Rowes wharf, tonight.

CRIME LECTURE

Dist. Atty. William J. Foley will address members of the Traffic Club of Boston on "Criminology" at the regular luncheon meeting Tuesday, Jan. 20, at the Copley-Plaza Hotel. Edward G. Morris, the little giant with the big voice, announces events at Harvard Stadium, will talk about "Some Observation of Sports."

ARRIVED

BALTIC (Br.), Davies, Liverpool Jan. 2 and Cork 4, merchandise and passengers to White Star Line. Docked at Commonwealth pier.

JUNIATA, Baltimore via Norfolk, with merchandise and passengers to Merchants & Miners Transportation Co. Docked at Pier 3, South side.

KANSAN, Boston, Seattle Dec. 8, San Francisco 12, Los Angeles 15, Boston 27, New York 31, and Philadelphia Jan. 3, with merchandise to American-Hawaiian S. S. Co. Docked at Commonwealth pier.

MATHEW S. LYON, Rockport, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Norfolk via New York, with merchandise to Cunard Co. Docked at Pier 3, South side.

OSAGE, Seattle, New York via Colon, with hemp loading for Charleston, S. C., and Jacksonville. Docked at Lewis wharf.

SEATTLE SPIRIT, Cask, Philippines, via Rogers & Webb to finish loading for Hamburg and Bremen. Docked after 4-6, Commercial wharf.

PROVIDENCE SCOUT (motorship), Nelson, skipper, New York, to handle Oil Co. Passed Deer Island Light p. m. yesterday.

WATERFORD (tug), Hunter, N Haven, with two barges, during the aft

ELMER A. KEELER (tug), Adorsen, New Haven, towing two barges ying the night.

EASTERN CROWN is fundeschedul at Provincetown, Chelsea is a m.

CITY OF ALTON, which and below Minot's Ledge, was docked ich House Little Mystic, this a m.

SAILED

JAVANESE PRINCE (Br.) few York via Colon, sailed over Poundnight.

CHARLES T. GALLAGHER (tug), New haven, towing barge Cities Ser No. 2, New Haven.

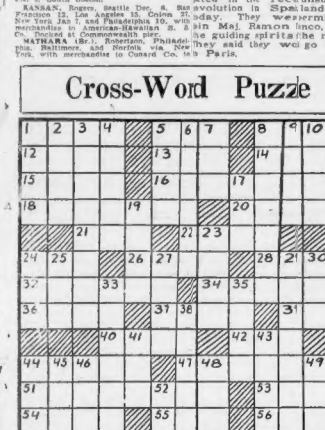
FISH ARRIVALS

Vanessa	Haddock	LOCod	Fished
Fr. Ripple	38,000	5,000	$3,000
Fr. Cornell	18,000	3,000	2,000
Fr. Cornell	35,000	6,000	3,000
Fr. Dauntless	23,000	4,000	2,000
Fr. Gamess	33,000	1,500	6,400
Fr. Esperia	23,000		4,500
Fr. Desdemona	22,000	1,0	4,300
Fr. Ranger	4,000	1,0	17,000
Fr. Shiner	28,000	1,0	5,000
New Bedford	8,000	1,0	9,500
Henrietta	9,500	1,000	8,000
Henrietta Parker	12,000	0	5,000
Clues
Ida	20,000	0	8,000
Loretta	20,000	0	8,000
Mary De Costa	25,000	0	2,500
Mary E. O'Hara	31,000	0	17,000
Fr. Ripple	38,000	0	3,000
Whiting	Heavier	50 cwts	Fis
Mackerel	2,000	yds	2,500
Paloma	4000	200	Reels
Swordfish	Large	cwts	Fis
Fr. Is mkts 4-5;	Fish 5½-7½;	pollock 4½-5;	cusk 4½-5;
haddock 5½-6;	cod 4½-5;	halibut 20-25c;
Fr. Is mkts 4-5;	fish 5½-7½;	pollock 4½-5;	cusk 4½-5;
haddock 5½-6;	cod 4½-5;	halibut 20-25c;
Boston, 5½ gray 10-11 haders 4½-5½.

Rebel Spanish Fliers Join Leaders in France

Havre, France, Jan. 12 (AP)—Antonio Reseche Aguilera, Spanish aviator who participated in the unsuccessful revolution in Spain headed by Gen. Garcia today. They were united to in Madrid. Ramon Franco, one of the guiding spirits of the rebellion, they said they would go together to Paris.

Cross-Word Puzzle



HORIZONTAL

1—heavy club
5—female of the domestic fowl
8—anything that assuages pain
12—Persian poet
13—Before
14—Percentage paid for exchange of one currency into another
15—Italian monetary unit
16—Kind of snake (pl.)
18—Newspaper executives
20—Assuages
21—Bulky piece of unshaped timber
22—Level
24—Character in Shakespeare's "Henry IV"
26—Mother of Helen of Troy
28—Roman patriot
32—Wore away
34—One who requires
36—City in Nevada
37—Always
39—Character in Spenser's "Faerie Queene"
40—Numeral
41—Unit of electrical resistance
44—Exclude
47—Pertaining to laughter
51—Aperd
53—Strong cart for carrying heavy loads
54—Despicable
55—Of each an equal quantity
56—Projecting lower edge of a roof
57—Greek god of war
58—Cooking utensil
59—Vehicle with runners

VERTICAL

1—Small animal living underground
2—Among
3—Set of bells
4—Mode of armory poetry
5—German title of respect
6—Rubbed out
7—Trap
8—Instrument for weighing
9—Erase
10—Italian coins
11—Peat bog
17—Artificial mound
19—Vow with amorous glances
23—Weathercock
24—Pronoun
25—Exist
27—Paradise
29—Shady
30—Numeral
31—Anglo-Saxon money of account
33—Contributes
35—Greek goddess of love
38—City in Italy
41—Man's name
43—Secludes
44—Prima donna
45—Arabian chieftain
46—Fluid secreted by the liver
48—Poetic name for Persia.
49—Wash
50—Glanced at
52—Strike lightly

Herewith is the solution to Saturday's puzzle.

Lost and Found

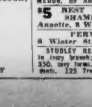
FOUND BY POLICE

Brown leather bag; German police dog; keys in leather case; fountain pen; eyeglasses; brown and white female collie. Call Miss James, Liberty 8000.

LOST—Thursday, Jan. 8, between Roxbury and Paris St. subway and Dorchester Tub. belt; lady's wrist watch, Hamilton, gold wrist band. "S. E. D." reward. May 1561.

LOST—Scotch terrier, female, black, breast and feet; "Buster"; reward. Cha. 1603.

Beauty Aids



CREATO

Hair Dye in powder form

Not a shampoo. Not to be mistaken. Gives hair wonderful lustre. Forty years' experience in making hair goods. Send sample for free sample.

BAMBINA CO. 101 Washington St. Lynn, Mass.

HAIR in ladies' faces permanently removed. No Pain or Scars. Physicians' references. Dr. Hollis, Specialist, 1225 Tremont St., Rm. 310. Kenmore 7262.

MASSAGING

By professional nurse. For appointment, MISS NEDDO, 69 Auburn St., Boston. KEN. 6750.

$5 BEST PERMANENT WAVE $5
SHAMPOO AND SET $1.00
Annette, 2 Winter St., Rm. 910, Dev. 7080

PERMANENT WAVE $1
6 Winter St., Rm. 710. Liberty 8282

STUDLEY BEAUTY SCHOOL—Thorough training in every branch; expert teachers, 8 seats' owned, $30. may lease. Send for ad. 91 Bolyston place (Rm. 125 Tremont St. bu. 503, Bo. 7634.

Birth—Marriage—Death Notices

IN this column $1.00 for first four lines or less, 15c each additional line. Notices may be mailed to the Classified Dept., or telephoned to Liberty 6000.

Deaths

ARMSWORTHY—In West Somerville, Jan. 9, Annie widow of Isaac Armsworthy of 77 Rogers ave. Funeral service at 2 p. m. Sunday, Jan. 11, at the John E. Lester undertaking rooms, 47 Broadway. Today at 2 p. m. Nova Scotia papers please copy.

BARTLETT—In Natick, Omer T., on his 77th year. Funeral services from the home of his daughter, Mrs. Frederick Robinson, 13 Winona st., Natick, Tuesday, Jan. 13, at 2 3/8 p. m.

BERNSTEIN—January 9, Edward E., son of Kathryn M. and the late Hans Bernstein, aged 6 years. Funeral service at the Waterman Chapel, 2328 Washington St., Roxbury, Monday, Jan. 12, at 2 p. m. Friends invited.

BIGELOW—In Dorchester Lower Mills, Jan. 10, Frank W. Bigelow, 75 years. Services at home, 1241 Morton St., Monday, Jan. 12, at 2:30 p. m. Relatives and friends invited.

BOSS—At Beth Israel Hospital, Jan. 10, Rosa, beloved wife of Nathan Cohen, of Mary, Dorothy, Theodore, services at the Eastman Chapel, 496 Beacon st., on Tuesday, Jan. 13, at 2 p. m. New York papers please copy.

CONVERSE—In Needham, Jan. 10, Alvero Mead, beloved husband of Catherine Converse, aged 74 years. Funeral from his late home, 37 Great Plain ave., Needham, Tuesday, Jan. 13, at 2:30 p. m. Relatives and friends invited.

CUSHING—Beth Israel Hospital, Jan. 10, Rosa, beloved wife of Nathan Cohen, of Mary, Dorothy, Theodore, services at the Eastman Chapel, 496 Beacon st., on Tuesday, Jan. 13, at 2 p. m. New York papers please copy.

CONVERSE—In Needham, Jan. 10, Alvero Mead, beloved husband of Catherine Converse, aged 74 years. Funeral from his late home, 37 Great Plain ave., Needham, Tuesday, Jan. 13, at 2:30 p. m. Relatives and friends invited.

RIGELOW—In Dorchester Lower Mills, Jan. 10, Frank W. Bigelow, 75 years. Services at home, 1241 Morton St., Monday, Jan. 12, at 2:30 p. m. Relatives and friends invited.

BULGER—In South Boston, Jan. 10, Esther K., daughter of the late Martin and Mary Jane Neagle Bulger. Relatives and friends invited to call at home, 249 East Broadway, and to the Gate of Heaven Church, Dorchester, Tuesday, Jan. 13, at solemn high mass of requiem at 10 o'clock. Burial private.

CALLAHAN—In Winchester, Jan. 10, Edward, beloved husband of Catherine Callaha... (nee McHale). Funeral from his late home, 37 Lloyd ave., Tuesday, Jan. 13, at 8:15. High mass of requiem at St. Mary's Church at 9 o'clock. Relatives and friends invited.

CROSS—At Beth Israel Hospital, Jan. 10, Rosa, beloved wife of Nathan Cohen, of Mary, Dorothy, Theodore, services at the Eastman Chapel, 496 Beacon st., on Tuesday, Jan. 13, at 2 p. m. New York papers please copy.

CORNDELL—Mary F., 25 Douglass St. Funeral services will be held Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock at St. John's Church, Bowdoin St., Boston. Friends invited.

DAYTON—In Medford, Jan. 10, Ruth Wadsworth, age 28, wife of Herbert D. Dayton. Services at her late residence, 28 Harvard ave., Medford, Tuesday, Jan. 13, at 2 p. m.

DOLAN—Suddenly, in East Weymouth, Jan. 10, Katherine S. Nash. Funeral from her late residence, 1 Reservoir St., Tuesday at 8 a. m. Solemn high mass of requiem in St. Francis de Sales Church at 9 o'clock. Relatives and friends invited.

FLANNIGAN—In Newtonville, Jan. 10, Clarence L., son of Patrick and the late Barbara (McDonough) Flannigan. Funeral from residence, 28 Assabet St., Tuesday, Jan. 13th, at 8:15 a. m. Solemn requiem high mass at St. Ann's Church at 9 o'clock. Interment of Fore Marquette Council. K. of C.

FREEMAN — In Somerville, Jan. 10, Henry J., beloved husband of the late Henry A. and Julia T. Hanley Freeman. Funeral services from his late residence from 305 Somerville Ave., at 3 p. m. Relatives and friends invited. Burial private.

FITZGERALD—In Milton, Jan. 10, Sophie (Brougall), beloved husband of James G. Fitzgerald (nee Brougall). Funeral from his residence, Milton St., on Tuesday morning at 8:15. Solemn mass of requiem at St. Agnes Church at 9 o'clock. Relatives and friends respectfully invited to attend. Intermment in St. Mary's Cemetery, Lynn.

GREEN—In Quincy, Jan. 10, Stillman J., beloved husband of Catherine (Walsh) Green. Funeral services from the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Henry J. Mc-Inneg, 13 Glenn Ter., Monday, Jan. 12, at 2 p. m. Relatives and friends respectfully invited to attend.

HILL—In Arlington Heights, Jan. 10, George W. Hill, in his 88th year. Funeral services at the home of Mrs. A. K. Cushing, 35 Appleton St., Monday, Jan. 12, at 2:30 p. m. Relatives and friends invited.

HOULIHCHOFF—In Boston, January 8th, William H., son of Louisa H. and the late William Houlihchoff. Notice of his late Funeral services at the home of his son-in-law, Mr. Frederick Robinson, 13 Winona st., Natick, Tuesday, Jan. 13, at 2 3/8 p. m.

HOWARD—January 9, Edward E., son of Kathryn M. and the late Hans Bernstein, aged 6 years. Funeral service at the Waterman Chapel, 2328 Washington St., Roxbury, Monday, Jan. 12, at 2 p. m. Friends invited.

HIGGINS—In Dorchester Lower Mills, Jan. 10, Frank W. Bigelow, 75 years. Services at home, 1241 Morton St., Monday, Jan. 12, at 2:30 p. m. Relatives and friends invited.

BULGER—In South Boston, Jan. 10, Esther K., daughter of the late Martin and Mary Jane Neagle Bulger. Relatives and friends invited to call at home, 249 East Broadway, and to the Gate of Heaven Church, Dorchester, Tuesday, Jan. 13, at solemn high mass of requiem at 10 o'clock. Burial private.

CALLAHAN—In Winchester, Jan. 10, Edward, beloved husband of Catherine Callaha... (nee McHale). Funeral from his late home, 37 Lloyd ave., Tuesday, Jan. 13, at 8:15. High mass of requiem at St. Mary's Church at 9 o'clock. Relatives and friends invited.

Deaths

REINHART—In Beverly, Jan. 10, Harvey, C., son of Mrs. Margaret Reinhart of Dorchester, and Nephew of 281 Hallet-North St., South Boston. Funeral services at Dunn's Funeral Home, Tuesday, Jan. 13, at 11 a. m. Relatives and friends invited. Interment private.

UPTON—In Marblehead, Jan. 9, Isabelle, Roger Upton, 87 years of age. Funeral from St. Michael's Church, Marblehead, Monday at 3:30.

WILSON—In Natick, Jan. 10, Amber, widow of the late George Wilcox, formerly of Milford, Mass. Funeral services will be held from her late residence, 6 Oakland St., Tuesday, Jan. 13, at 2 p. m.

WOOD—In Dorchester, Jan. 10, Florence M. (Powers), wife of Herbert R. Wood, formerly of 121 Washington St. Notice of Funeral from the residence of her sister, Mrs. Catherine Dinneen, 1 Ellis Park, Rd., Tuesday, Jan. 13, at 8:30 a. m. High mass of requiem in St. Mary's Church at 9 o'clock. Relatives and friends invited.

IN MEMORIAM

Mulligan

Fifth anniversary mass in loving memory of my wife Mary Agnes Mulligan, who died Wednesday, Jan. 14, at 7:30, at St. Teresa's Church, Jamaica Plain. Sweetest dear, gone from us five long years, leaving memories of love and tears. Jamaica Plain. JIMMIE WIFE MULLIGAN.

RICE

The family of the late Frank Roche of 15 Ritchie St., desires to thank their many friends for the many floral tributes, letters and kind expressions of sympathy extended to them in their recent bereavement.

1928—Lavey—1931

Third anniversary mass of requiem for the repose of the soul of Alice C. Lavey will be said Monday, 27 Jan., at 8 o'clock, at St. Augustine's Church, South Boston. MINNIE LAVEY SCANLAN.

1928—Fitzgerald—1931

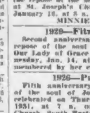
Second anniversary high mass for the repose of the soul of Mary Elizabeth, at Our Lady of Grace Church, Everett, Wednesday, Jan. 14, at 9 a. m. Lovingly remembered by her children.

1926—Purcell—1931

Fifth anniversary mass for the repose of the soul of John H. Purcell will be celebrated at St. Augustine's Church, Jan. 13, 1931, at 7 a. m., at St. Augustine's Church, South Boston.

Dermatology

Face and Feature Expert



Dr. Bild's Non-Lifting curative consists of the very latest items combined with long experience and scientific study and gives you a new look, keep your youth. Makes the skin fit the face. Satisfied in 3 days or no charge. Here are combination corrections. Painless and no time lost.

RESULTS EXCEL AND OUTLAST THOSE OBTAINED BY ANY OTHER METHOD.

All Facial Irregularities, Wrinkles, Baggy Eyelids, Flabby Cheeks, Thin Lips, Poor Nose, Double Chin, Crow's Feet, Hollow Cheeks, Imperfections Hair, Moles, Birthmarks, Superfluous Hair, Pockmarks.

E. P. REID, M. D. 166 Boylston St., Boston, Mass. Tel. Hub. 0239
Established Over 31 Years in Boston
REGISTERED IN N. E. SINCE 1898

Medical

FREE, X-RAY

Examination, consultation and trial treatment; absolutely free of charge; call before Jan. 15, 1931. The X-ray and electrical treatment we are now using are compelling wonders in disease of every description. Over 4000 cases of chronic cases may be Daniel J. Walsh, M. D., 18 Boylston St., Suite 1, Boston. Hours: Office Hours; Mon., Wed., Thurs., and Fri., 10 a. m. to 4 P. M., Closed Saturdays and Holidays.

Professional Services

NOSES Straightened and Reshaped

AT ANY TIME PAY BEFORE—NO REAL-BORN DISCOMFORT.

NEWEST FACE LIFT

A. STANLEY GIBSON, M. D.
154 Boylston St. Lib. 4167. Estab. 31 Yrs.

Dentistry

UNITED DENTAL CLINIC
Exclusive Plate Experts
SPECIAL INTRODUCTORY OFFER
$15—$30—$45 A PLATE
To introduce our exceptional work to new customers. FREE CONSULTATION. ALL WORK GUARANTEED. DENTAL SURGEON. Examination and advice cheerfully given.

OUR CLINICAL PRICES NOW
UPPER OR LOWER GOOD PLATES $8.00
UPPER OR LOWER PERFECT MASTICATING PLATES (GERMAN 24K-GOLD) $25.00
REPAIR OF BROKEN PLATES $1.00
EXTRACTIONS $1.00
When plates have faulty construction they never give satisfactory service, regardless of their high cost.
We make plates anatomically only. These properly fit your mouth.
SATISFACTION GUARANTEED!
170 TREMONT ST., COR. MASON ST.
OFFICE HOURS, 8:30 A. M. to 8 P. M.

Funeral Directors

J. S. WATERMAN & SONS
SINCE 1857
FUNERAL DIRECTORS
Local and Suburban Service

F. J. Crosby
Funeral Service
16-18 Warren St.—Highlands 8000
667 Beacon St.—Kenmore 1989
Satisfactory Service for Every Purse
The Best Costs No More

Fuel

COKE $12 A TON, Immediate delivery. Stetson Coal Co., Mystic 4672, Somerville 1000.

COAL $13—COKE $12
ALL SIZES—MYSTIC 5542

COKE $12 PER TON; COAL $12.50
SOMERSET 2940

Musical Instruments

Sell For Balance Due
BABY GRAND, $108
SMALL PLAYER, $73
SMALL UPRIGHT, $46

REPOSSESSED PIANOS to be sacrificed at once; pay $1 or $2 week; no payment down on above pianos; buy direct from factory and save the largest you have been looking for; keep it 2 years and get your money back towards any new or used piano on my floor; open till 9 p. m.; beacham and roth free.

J. P. COLLINS

199 Summer St., Boston. Liberty 4139

FOR SALE—Upright piano, AI condition, $75.00. Call Com. 0073.

100 PIANOS, $20 up. $5 monthly. Brooks, 139 Summer St., over Marston's.

Money to Loan

CASH IN 24 Hours $10 to $500

SMALL REPAYMENTS!
STRICT PRIVACY!
FAST SERVICE!

You Can Obtain Every One of These Offices Listed

Come In. Phone or Write.

INDUSTRIAL BANKERS, Inc.
CHOOSE THE OFFICE NEAREST YOUR HOME

BEVERLY	License 181	MILFORD	License 297
282 CABOT ST. Beverly 230		180 MAIN ST., Rm. 214, Bing & Welch Bldg. Mil. 976
BOSTON	License 208	NATICK	License 300
31 BROMFIELD ST. Room 707, Pulitelly Bldg. Lib. 0979		77 MAIN ST. Rm. 1, Walcott Bldg. Natick 1305
BROOKLINE	License 186	NEW BEDFORD	License 182
280 HARVARD ST., Cor. Beacon St., Rm. 15, Coolidge Cor. Bldg. Aspinwall 2100		329 UNION ST., Near N. Very Bldg. Wamsutta 1185
CAMBRIDGE	License 167	NEWBURYPORT	License 301
631 MASSACHUSETTS AVE. Rm. 216, Cameron Bldg. Univ. 3060 ALSO		31 PLEASANT ST., Richardson Bldg. Newburyport 3-5
4 BRATTLE ST. Rm. 306, License 186 Brattle Bldg., Harvard Sq. Univ. 6762		NEWTON	License 291
CHELSEA	License 195	951 WASHINGTON ST., Newton Corner, New, North 0127
415 BROADWAY Rm. 3 and 5, C. of C. Bldg. Chel. 2264		NORTH ADAMS	License 151
CHICOPEE	License 116	11 STATE ST., Richardson Hotel Annex. Tel. 1852
45 SPRINGFIELD ST. Elms Building	Chicopee 42	NORTHAMPTON	License 280
DEDHAM	License 295	27 KING ST., Cor. Merrick Lane Rm. 3, Calvin Theo. Bldg. Tel. 1456
368 WASHINGTON ST. Rm. 2, Bennett Bg. Dedham 2361		PITTSFIELD	License 205
EVERETT	License 197	24-26 MAIN ST. Rm. 34 (Over Woolworth's) Tel. 2744
471 BROADWAY Rm. 2, Howard Bldg. Everett 2144		PLYMOUTH	License 302
FALL RIVER	License 174	186-A MAIN ST. Room 3	Plymouth 32
928 SOUTH MAIN ST. Rm. 1, Bosse System Bldg. Tel. 7510		QUINCY	License 138
FITCHBURG	License 155	1400 HANCOCK ST. Rm. 57, Greenleaf Trust Bldg. Qrs. 0987
470 MAIN ST. Rm. 210, Safety Fund National Bank Bldg. Tel. 2530		ROSLINDALE	License 294
FRAMINGHAM	License 193	763 SOUTH ST. Second Floor, Rm. 3	Parkway 6018
25 CONCORD ST., Rm. 53, Mullaney Bldg., Second Floor. Framingham 2364		SALEM	License 237
LEOMINSTER	License 148	84 WASHINGTON ST. Below Essex	Plymouth 32
31 MECHANIC ST. Plymouth Theatre Bldg. Tel. 2663		TAUNTON	License 138
LOWELL	License 149	1 BROADWAY Rm. 1, Reed Bldg.	Taunton 3491
173 CENTRAL ST. Rm. 219, Bradley Bldg. Lowell 913		WALTHAM	License 153
MARLBORO	License 198	311 MOODY ST. Rm. 404	Waltham 2758
116 MAIN ST. Top Floor, Lamson Block. Marl. 84		WEBSTER	License 264
MEDFORD	License 199	324 MAIN ST. Rm. 3, Central Bldg.	Webster 1154
11 RIVERSIDE AVE. Rm. 5, Central Bldg.	Mystic 1016	WOBURN	License 295
		416 MAIN ST. Woburn 1150

NEED MONEY QUICKLY

Offices of Good Credit Service.
Go CASH LOANS up to $300
Results in Fifty Minutes—Call House 18 for full information—Just phone or write Beneficial Loan Society of Boston, Inc.

31 ST. JAMES AVE. Liberty 7100
Room 209, Tremont Bldg., Boston

CASH LOANS, $10 TO $300
Quick, Courteous Service
PERSONAL FINANCE CO.
90 Dover St. Room 2, Park Square Bldg.
SOMERVILLE
Phone Som. 3-5-5-6

LOANS TO EVERYBODY, HUB, FINANCE CO., 600 WASHINGTON ST., RM. 425. LIB. 4015-6385. LICENSE 174.

$50 to $5000 loaned on furniture or notes. Loans under $300 1% to 3%.
BOSTON FINANCE CO.
Room 1, Tremont Bldg. Liberty 1000

PILGRIM PLAN
42% LOANS ON AUTOS & FURNITURE
Lawful rates, confidential service. Call, phone or write. 4th Floor, Tremont Office Hours; Mon., Wed., Thurs. and Fri., 9 to 4 P. M. Tel. Liberty 6000
Come in, write or phone if you need $10 to $350. Quick courteous service.
Beneficial Loan Society of Dorchester, Inc.
761 Dudley St., Dorchester. License 66. Cot. 5379

Business Opportunities

OPEN YOUR OWN
PLAYLAND
America's greatest indoor sensation now in operation at Boston Playland—latest novel "money maker" known; investment devices—write for details to General Sports, Inc., 67 Mass. Ave., Boston. Playland

Profitable Business

For sale or lease; a vending machine Erie Digger on location or otherwise; situated in Boston; paying over $100 weekly on a small investment. $75 may start you in your own business or in your own place of business. We have 4 units in exclusive territories to offer. Automatic Vending Corp., 1942 Tremont st., Boston.

LUNCH room, 233 Main St., Charlestown; paying business. See Mr. Smith.

SELLING on account of death, variety store, including stock, and future building; business established over 70 years. Owner, Prospect 0278-W.

Furniture

BEAUTIFUL $450 carter suite will be sacrificed for $195 at salesroom of Grand Rapids Furniture Exchange, 1 Merrimac St., Boston; open till 9 P. M.

Legal Notices

CITY OF BOSTON—Wire Division—Fire Department (60 Bristol St.). Notice—By authority vested by Chapter 247 of the Acts of 1928, the streets, avenues, or parts thereof in the City of Boston, are hereby laid for the calendar year, namely: 1931, within which any pole or structure used in the streets for the support of wires, cables, conductors, etc., and all wires, cables, conductors, other than those exempted by Chapter 247 of the Acts of 1928, shall be removed or placed underground as follows: Dorchester—Adams St. to Fifth St., Fifth St. to Brent St., Sydney St. from Crescent Ave. to Bay St., Winter St. from Bay St. to Bowdoin St. to Adams St., Church St. from Adams St. to Hill St., Pine St. from Adams St. to Plain St., Stoughton St. from Adams St. to Neponset River, Roxbury—Worthington St. from Longwood Ave. to the Fenway, Huntington Ave. from Ward St. to Calumet St., Fenwood Road from Huntington Ave. to Brookline Ave., West Roxbury—Woodlawn St. from Hyde Park Ave. to Forest Hills Cemetery, South Boston—Summer St. from E. First St. to E. Second St., L St. from E. Second St. to Broadway, W. Third St. from W. Second St. a distance of 205 feet in a point 100 feet east of the east line of D St. Making a total distance of four miles as provided by law. EDWARD F. McLAUGHLIN, Fire Commissioner. Boston, January 2, 1931.

Today, in the real estate columns of the Classified Ads, you will find scores of opportunities for profitable investment.

Dancing

"MY REPUTATION is your PROTECTION"
PROF. RITER
177 Tremont St. Beronshire 7330
BALLROOM Guaranteed in 4 LESSONS
TAP DANCING Class, Lessons, Etc.
BALLROOM STEPS GUARANTEED IN 10 LESSONS
LERNER-LESLIE Dance Studios
Fox-Trot Waltz, Etc. 1175 Boyls. Ave.
TAP DANCING
Boston's largest and most reliable school
EDWYN & WEIS 1 Boylston Pl.
Class, Private Lessons
JAZZ — HAREM TAP
HOT HAND NUMBERS
BALLROOM—FRISCO—HIM—HESITATION WALTZ
PAPARONE STUDIOS
Learn the "Rumba," the "Shoodi" and Hesitation Waltz. Large, select class. All types of Stage Dancing. Tuition reasonable. 1158 Boylston St. (Near Mass. Ave.). Tel. Com. 8071

18 UPTOWN SCHOOL—
MODERN DANCING
330 Mass. Ave. at Huntington Circle 1362
Complete course, private lessons, hotel class

Private Lessons
15 FLORENCE KELLY $5
240 HUNTINGTON AVE. COMMONWEALTH 2307

LOOMIS 25 MASS. AVE. COMMONWEALTH 1500
10—5-HOUR CLASS LESSONS $3
Private Lessons, Modern or Tap Day or Eve

MISS AVA Ballroom Dancing of Vanities
36 Wm. H. O'Brien 285 Hunt. Ave. $5
Hours. Complete Course

Furs

REPOSSESSED FUR COATS FOR MEN AND WOMEN
Stored By, Guaranteed RACCOONS, LEOPARDS, SEALS CARACULS, etc. For small balance due. Also 2 SEALS, very fine furs, by appointment only. Daily and Sunday. 1 to 6 P. M. 1 Kenmore Sq., Boston. BACKBAY 5286. Private rooms.

January Special
UNREDEEMED FURCOATS $9.75
LATE MODELS, MEN and WOMEN
MAX'S LOAN OFFICE, 376 Broadway Boston. Opposite Bellevue Theatre
Open Evenings

CARACUL COATS $27.50
(BROWN AND GREY) BRAND NEW
RAT (NON-TOUCH) $19.50
EDWARDS FUR SHOP
51 WINTER ST., HUB. 9725 5TH FLOOR

BIG VALUE FOR THIS MONTH ONLY
COATS RELINED, $12.50 UP
SATIN LININGS OR SILK
Majestic Fur Shop, 59 Temple Place. Lib. 7046

Instruction

RADIO TRAINING
R. C. A. Institutes, Inc., offers complete practical and thorough radio training—Day and Evening classes, or you may study by your own home by home laboratory method. For full details write or call R. C. A. Institutes, Inc., 326 Boylston St., Boston.

COMPLETE course typing, $10; shorthand, $2 week. Cap. 2774; 587 Dudley St.

Real Estate

Houses for Sale

MALDEN—Quick sale, $500 down; modern attractive 8-room single; 1-car garage. Price $6000. Immediate. Malden 2079.

NEEDHAM—$600 down; 6-room single, very convenient; price $7200. Newt. 1466.

ROXBURY—3-family house, $3500. $200 down; income $30 month. Highland 1683.

Farms and Land for Sale

EQUIPPED FARMS—Business chance; catalog free. Bromi Agency, 813-B, Old South bldg., Boston. Mass. Lib. 7125.

Houses for Rent

WOULD EXCHANGE well located 6-room furnished bungalow with middle-aged couple. Everett 1852-R, mornings.

Furnished Apartments

FURNISHED—East Milton; modern 5 rooms, heated, ideal location, reasonable rent to responsible party. Call U. S. Steel 7691.

3-ROOM apt., $6 week; some free rent. 112 Marcella St., Rox. Com. 9239.

Unfurnished Apartments

ROXBURY

5 and 6 Rooms, $46-$49
Steam heated, janitor service, gas stoves, refrigerators, tiled bath and sink, rear piazzas. All newly papered and painted.

4 and 5 rooms, $30-$33
Rear piazzas, newly papered and painted. Janitor service.

EXCLUSIVE NEW APTS.
Distinctive section Somerville; 15 minutes Boston; frigidaire, janitor. 431 Broadway, Som. 7607.

HEATED 1-RM. APT., $35.
291 Washington St. Hancock 4171.

ATLANTIC—Barry's Corner, $40. 4 rooms, tiled bath, steam heat. Granite 7108-M.

BACK BAY—3 and 6-room sunny apts., excellent heat; $46; month free. Com. 9239.

BROOKLINE—Near Beacon, heated, modern, 5-6 rooms, frigeration, hot water, janitor. Beach 2961.

BROOKLINE—Small apartments, suitable for business people, light housekeeping facilities. 208 Winthrop st. Ked. Sq. 2911.

BROOKLINE—4 rooms, bath, heated, $50; near High School St. Beacon 0155.

CAMBRIDGE, near Inman Sq., 100 Antrim St., 5 rooms, sun parlor, all improvements, good location. Chat., University 2476-R.

CAMBRIDGE—Near Harvard Square, 6 rooms, mahog., near cars, $50. Bel. 1760-R.

CAMBRIDGE—Near Harvard Sq., over 9 rooms, all impts., $32. University 6329.

DORCHESTER—Centre, 5 rooms, 2 rooms, reception hall, modern, 7 Whitten St., Lib. 1192.

DORCHESTER—4 rooms, unfurnished, all modern, reasonable, 21 Woodrow Ave., High. 1483.

DORCHESTER—3 rooms, kitchenette, bath. $25. Apply 19 Dalkeith St. High. 2372.

EVERETT—Modern apartment, 5 rooms, hardwood floors; near any line. Eve. 2320.

HYDE PARK—Brand new 5-6 rooms, heated, 12 min. Roxbury Sq. Rox. 2821.

RAPDOLPH—4 large rooms, modern steam heat, garage; reasonable. Randolph 0293-W.

REVERE—59 Winthrop Ave., 3-4 rooms centrally located. Reasonable rent. Rev. 2859.

ROXBURY—115-113 Warren St., heated 3-room suites $40, $45, $50.

FOR Colored People; 4-5 rooms, all impts. 34 Lambert St. Car. 4955.

Rooms for Housekeeping

BROOKLINE—50 Beals St., 5 furnished rooms, kitchen and bath, gas range, running water, cellar storage. Beacon 2961.

CAMBRIDGE—Of Magazine St., room for lower; also 2 furnished or unfurnished rooms, light housekeeping. Unl. 5595-J.

DORCHESTER—Large furnished room and kitchenette, steam heat, gas, electricity, $30. 1850.

DORCHESTER—3 pleasant, furnished housekeeping rooms; 2 or floor, alone; reasonable. Talbot 6094.

ROXBURY—101 Moreland St., furnished room, housekeeping privileges. $4.50-$5.00. Garrison 8155.

ROXBURY—Heated front room, housekeeping if desired, 286 Dudley st.; High. 1080.

ROXBURY—11 Copeland St., furnished rooms, kitchenette; heated. High. 0614.

SOMERVILLE—2 furnished housekeeping rooms, all impts.; business people preferred. Somerset 3185-W.

SOMERVILLE—56 Mt. Vernon St. 2 rooms, housekeeping. Some cooking. Prospect 1018.

TREMONT ST.—Furnished room and kitchenette, other rooms. Com. 6223.

Rooms without Board

HOTEL JEFFERSON, 227 Tremont St. Rooms $1.50 up. Subway at door. Beach 8050.

MASS. AVE.—Near Huntington, 2 modern rooms, hot bath. Commonwealth 8806.

WORCESTER, ST., 57—Large room, housekeeping optional; also 1 small room; steam heat; continuous hot water, Circle 1613.

COMFORTABLE home with private family for a young men or women. Reg. 7316.

ROOM and board, $7.50 week. 1 Lenox St., Roxbury Crossing.

Children to Board

WANTED—Infant or child to board; good home, mother's care. Unl. 4429.

WANTED—Child to board from 3 mos. up; private home, $5. Weymouth 1590.

WANTED—Child to board over 2, desired home, mother's care. Everett 2535-W.

For Sale or Rent

QUINCY, Wollaston, East Milton property for sale or rent. Insurance, Mortgages. 34 Whitney Ave. Quincy. Quincy 3119; eves., 7231.

Office—Store Equipment

Machine Shop and Office Furniture
Including International time clock; desirable furniture, office equipment, des

EDITORIAL PAGE
JANUARY 12, 1931

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN

LARGEST EVENING
CIRCULATION IN NEW ENGLAND

The Hearst Papers Advocate

1. "Honest friendship with all nations—entangling alliances with none."—George Washington.
2. Proportional representation in the United States Senate—no State to have less than two Senators.
3. Army, Navy, and Aviation—all united under a Secretary of National Defense.
4. Vigorous Federal action, under a Secretary of Education, to abolish illiteracy in the United States.
5. Installation of President and of Congress on first of January following election in November.
6. Federal Sales Tax and Excise Taxes to replace entirely Income Taxes.
7. A calendar year of thirteen months of four weeks each; all holidays to fall on Saturday.
8. Construction of Nicaragua Canal for commerce and defense; advocated by the Hearst papers since 1895.
9. Acquisition of French and English West Indies as part payment on debt to United States.
10. Selective immigration to admit only those suited for American citizenship and American needs.
11. Deportation of undesirable aliens and extension of preliminary citizenship periods to ten years.
12. Modification of Volstead Act to permit light wines and beers under Federal regulation.

The Senate, Nicaragua

Why Are Our Marines Still There?

Twice within the last two months the Hearst newspapers have insisted that it was the duty of the United States Senate to find out why more than one thousand American marines are still in Nicaragua, acting as local policemen for the Moncada government at the risk of their own lives and at the expense of the American people.

Apparently the Senate has come to the same conclusion, after eight more of our marines have been killed by bandits in the mountainous jungles of northern Nicaragua.

For without a dissenting vote the Senate adopted a resolution offered by Senator Johnson of California calling upon the Department of State for all official exchanges relating to the landing and maintenance of American marines in Nicaragua since 1928.

That was the year in which the Coolidge administration agreed to supervise a national election in Nicaragua upon certain definite conditions.

One of these conditions was that the newly elected government should organize as rapidly as possible a Nicaraguan national guard large enough to police the country.

It was agreed that this force should be officered by American marines until Nicaraguan officers could be trained to take it over.

It was also agreed that an additional force of marines should be left in Nicaragua to insure public order until the Moncada government was firmly established.

Two years have elapsed since the Moncada administration entered power. At its request another election has been supervised by an American electoral commission—the congressional election of last year.

But the Moncada government has not lived up to its agreement. It has not organized as rapidly as possible a national guard large enough to police the country. Apparently it has no intention of doing so as long as the Hoover administration will do its police work for it and provide a thousand American marines to do what Nicaraguan policemen ought to do.

The Moncada government refused even to increase its own police guard by two hundred and fifty men during the recent election. So the Hoover administration landed more marines from our special service squadron to maintain order.

In the light of these facts it is clear that the Hoover administration has either reversed the Nicaraguan policy of the Coolidge administration or lacks the courage to follow it through.

In either case the question is one of the highest foreign policy and rightly concerns the Senate.

Curbing Stock Frauds

Legislature Should Act on Warner's Valuable Suggestions

Attorney-General Joseph E. Warner has submitted to the Legislature a series of important proposals designed to protect the people of Massachusetts from the sale of worthless and fraudulent securities.

The need for protection has been abundantly demonstrated.

Worthless stock is as plentiful as snowflakes in a January storm.

Calvin Coolidge, when he was Governor, estimated that $20,000,000 of "securities" hardly worth the price of the paper they were printed on, were disposed to the public annually and Mr. Warner has since estimated that the annual thievery amounts to $50,000,000.

The State has a singular duty to the public in this matter because the sleek agents who mulct the public bear the credentials of a State license and because the State assumes the responsibility of "licensing" the worthless stuff that is vended.

Either the State must admit that its regulation is a farce and completely abandon it or it must endeavor to make its regulation a fact rather than a name or mere pretense.

Mr. Warner suggests that brokers and salesmen be required to file a bond sufficient to indemnify any person who has purchased stock as the result of fraudulent representations of its value. He would require the Department of Public Utilities to supply all information it has obtained on worthless and fraudulent securities to any citizen who applies for that information.

Further, he would provide by law that the stock of purchasers who have made only partial payments shall not be employed by the brokers or other stock manipulators to rig the market.

This last recommendation is the most important made by Mr. Warner, and it is the one least likely of adoption by the Legislature because it would put a crimp in the schemes of too many persons who possess both a smug respectability and an influence with the lawmakers.

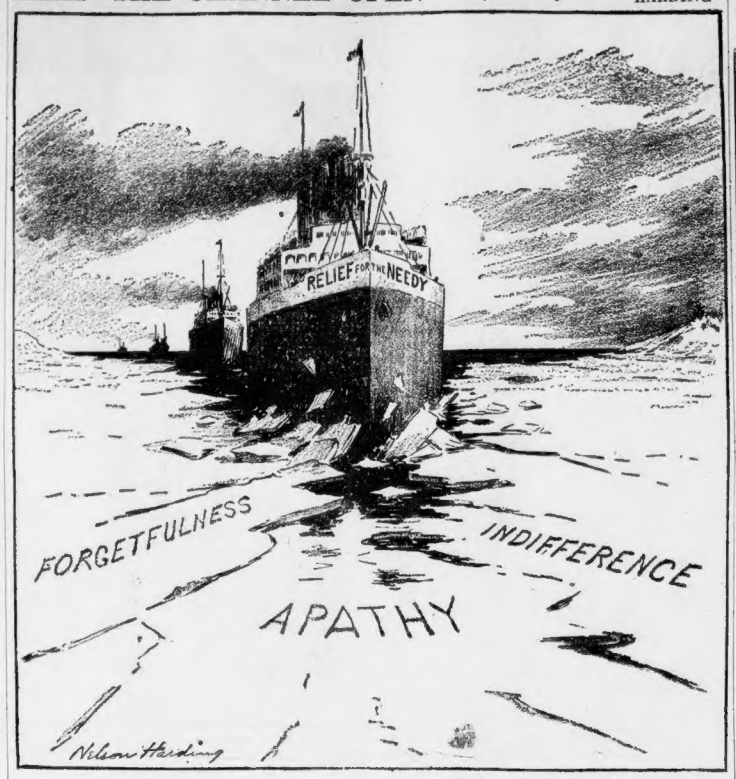
Most everybody dipped into the stock market in the frenzy for sudden wealth, and most everybody, therefore, knows that the stock they bought on partial payments was dumped into the market by the inside manipulators to break down the prices.

Their own investments were employed to depress the value of those investments. And the losses were suffered not only by themselves but by the public as a whole because business was rendered uncertain and unemployment produced.

Governor Ely and Mr. Warner both have devised plans which can put some semblance of sanity into finance and which can to some degree protect gullible but honest people from the avarice of the dishonest promoters and their recommendations ought to be accepted by the Legislature.

KEEP THE CHANNEL OPEN

By NELSON HARDING



We must keep that channel open
To relieving navigation,
To the fleets that bring assistance
For the unemployed and needy.

And to keep the ice from closing
Round our charitable efforts,
We must keep those vessels moving
Through the trying months of winter.

Listen, World! Wide Life

By ELSIE ROBINSON

How Far Are You Reaching?

HOW WIDE is your life? Is it only as wide as your own program—as the things which happen to you personally?

If that's the width of your life, you're in for a narrow existence and a sour one.

You'll always feel that you have walls around you. You'll never have enough room, enough view, enough fresh air. You'll always be stumbling over your own feelings. Every petty trifle will trip you—and you'll take the count if life hands you a real upper-cut.

Elsie Robinson

But if you can live beyond yourself, outside yourself—if you can feel other people's problems—if you can make their adventures yours—then YOU'LL LIVE AS FAR AS YOU CAN REACH. And you'll not only find new interest, but you'll also find healing and forgetfulness of your own pain and loss and weakness.

Mother Jones discovered that. She died the other day, after living one hundred amazing years. She had about every handicap any human could experience. She was born at the time when women had no place in the scheme of things. She was poor, uneducated, the wife of a laborer, a laborer herself. When she was 37 her husband and her four children died in an epidemic of yellow fever. You know how most women feel at 37, even under the happiest circumstances—how they begin to sag and sit around and sniffle a little, sorry for themselves. Little things disturb most women at 37 because life has become a very narrow affair. The loss of a husband or child is a bodyblow from which they rarely recover.

Mother Jones, at 37, lost everything she had. Her personal life was wiped out. But life wasn't wiped out. If she couldn't have a life of her own, she would make other lives hers. Her husband was dead—her babies were gone—her home days were over. But she could work for other wives' husbands. She could have battling days instead of home days. And she had them, gloriously, for 40 more years.

It took great courage and sense to do that. It is hard to bear sorrow but it is even harder to put it aside and be willing to hustle and be happy. For sorrow gives one a certain importance and it is a never failing alibi for cowardice and laziness. ONLY A STRONG AND BRAVE PERSON CAN TURN A BROKEN HEART INTO A BUSY ONE. Mother Jones did that, and her life, which might have been tragically narrow, and dull, became as broad and thrilling as all humanity.

You complain you're bored, discouraged—sick of life. HOW MUCH ARE YOU USING OF LIFE? HOW FAR HAVE YOU REACHED INTO IT?

(Copyright, 1931, King Features Synd., Inc.)

What Do You Know?

BOSTON'S ORIGINAL KNOWLEDGE TEST

Do you know:

1. Who wrote "The Ambitious Guest"?
2. To what song is this the first line:
"Maxwelton braes are bonnie"?
3. What girl's name is always connected with that of John Alden?
4. The name Duncan Phyfe is applied to what?
5. To what American author has the Nobel Prize for literature been awarded?

Fill each blank:

6. "Believe me if all those ——— young charms."
7. "Gin a body meet a body,
Comin' through the ———."
8. "——— to me only with thine eyes."
9. "O young ——— is come out of the west."
10. "She walks in ———, like the night,
Of cloudy climes and starry skies."

Match correctly:

11. constancy	debar
12. near	fidelity
13. revere	delay
14. postpone	close
15. exclude	respect

Answers to today's test:

1. Nathaniel Hawthorne. 2. Annie Laurie. 3. Priscilla Mullins. 4. Furniture. 5. Sinclair Lewis. 6. Endearing. 7. Rye. 8. Drink. 9. Lochinvar. 10. Beauty. 11. Fidelity. 12. Close. 13. Respect. 14. Delay 15. Debar.

(Copyright, 1931, King Features Synd., Inc.)

New York Day by Day

By O. O. McINTYRE

Diary of a Modern Pepys

NEW YORK, Jan. 12—Diary of a modern Pepys: Up and a jar of guava jelly from "Ham" Guild in far-away Papeeta, Tahiti, and I devoured most of it for breakfast, leaving only a spoonful for my wife, poor wretch. Came also a cheery postcard from Barney Oldfield in California.

So to my syndicate office to article myself for another three years of servitude. On to Ray Long's to see trophies brought from Russia and Leon Gordon, the painter, there and others and much rag, tag and bobtail, and thence walking through the park in the dusk.

In the evening to the Crystal Room of the Ritz with my wife to the debut of W. R. Coe's attractive daughter Natalie and the colonial decorations as fetching as ever I saw. Home late and so fatigued I turned out a day's toil with no effort soever.

* * *

The most infamous New York "fence"—the underworld term for thieves' cache—was Mother Mandlebaum's little dry goods store at Rivington and Clinton sts. She was a shrewd virago who stood by crooks in adversity and drove sharp bargains with them in success. Finally trapped, she escaped to Canada through the wily machinations of Abe Hummel, and died there in exile, worth a million.

* * *

Among crook names of Mother Mandlebaum's era were Sheeny Mike Kurtz, Shang Draper, Johnny Dobbs, George Leonidas Leslie, Sophie Lyons, Molly Holbrook, Black Lena, French Louise, Lizzie Lancie, Polly Kind and Little Rosie.

* * *

Famous dives were The Allen's, Silver Dollar John's, The Haymarket, Billy McGlory's and the "respectable vile house" known as Harry Hill's.

* * *

These flourished in the 70's. Edward Van Every has immortalized them in a captivating book called "The Sins of New York." It offers a culling of the files of that pink journalistic jamboree of its time—the Police Gazette.

* * *

Few publishers cut such a figure as the Police Gazette's publisher, Richard K. Fox. Out of a barber shop throwaway he built up a periodical circling the sphere, and made a fortune. Crudely edited and pictorialized, its contents are fascinating today. The cuts were of wood, stressing fast life of the time. Scandal writers "dished the dirt," but with a little more restraint than tabloids today. A scandal slinger of that day bore the pseudonym "Paul Prowler."

* * *

Personal nomination for the cleverest comedienne of the season—Hope Williams.

* * *

Miss Williams is a divorcee out of the social ranks, with a swaggering walk, a boy bob and an effortless sophistication. Hitherto she has been featured only the drawing room comedy. She lets fly such quips as: "It is best to be married in case of children." Supporting her are two favorites of yesteryear—Richard Carle and Marie Cahill, the former, strangely enough, having grown portly and the latter surprisingly thin.

* * *

Another social jester enlivening the season is the irrepressible Vera Maxwell. She is a California girl, without traditional social background, who was "taken up" by Mrs. Ollie Belmont and became her boon companion. For the past five years Miss Maxwell has been the Dorothy Parker of gay parties in the American set in Paris and along the Riviera. She is often described as "fat, forty and frivolous."

It was Miss Maxwell who, upon meeting for the first time a tabloid exploited Romeo in New York, archly inquired:

"Glad to meet you. What's the chance for a scandal?"

* * *

And upon departing for the Yuletide in Norway and Sweden she was asked by ship reporters if she expected to go further north than those countries.

"No further," she said. "I don't look so well on a reindeer."

* * *

Trade blast from a school of journalism pamphlet:

"We cannot think of a more satisfying magazine contributor than McIntyre."

If editors would only suffer the same lapse of memory!

(Copyright, 1931, McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

"Say It With Airplanes"

That's the Motto of Spanish Revolutionists

REVOLUTIONARY PAMPHLETS DROPPED ON THE KING'S PALACE

The great palace in this picture belongs to King Alfonso of Spain, temporarily, until the next Spanish king or queen gets it, or, possibly, until the President of a Spanish Republic moves into it.

The airplane, of which you see a wing tip in the lower left-hand corner, belongs to the Spanish Revolutionary party.

That party thinks it has had enough of King Alfonso. Admitting that he is an estimable gentleman, doing his best, a good king, as kings go, they object to the monarchical system, and are trying to overthrow it. Good kings are often overthrown where bad kings have thriven. Louis Fourteenth and Fifteenth of France were bad. Louis Sixteenth was honest, well meaning. They chopped off his head.

This airplane represents modern revolutionary advertising in Spain, where revolutionary advertising in newspapers wouldn't be permitted.

Perhaps it would be better for the king, and Spain's government, if newspapers were permitted to advertise revolutions freely, as they advertise tooth paste.

Publicity is a safety valve. Where you have it, you don't blow up.

Imagine the surprise of King Alfonso, when recently, on a fine Spanish morning, walking in his palace grounds, he saw an interesting piece of paper, picked it up, and read the fiery wording of a revolutionary pamphlet, demanding a republic, and an end of the monarchy.

The king is a sportsman. Shot at many times by would-be murderers, he has never shown fear.

But he may well have said: "Dropping these things into my private garden is going a LITTLE too far."

Airplane advertising is not the invention of the Spanish revolutionists, however. The Italian poet, D'Annunzio, used airplanes to scatter pamphlets advising peace, among the ranks of discouraged Austrians, toward the end of the war. And, incidentally, that poet, not young, went in the airplanes himself.

It is, thanks to D'Annunzio, to a large extent, that Italy went into the war on the side of the Allies.

And it is, thanks to Italy, quitting the Austrian-German pact, and enabling France to concentrate all of her energy on the northeast frontier, that the Germans were held, and thrown back.

The service that Italy rendered in the war has never been properly recognized by the Allies. They were selfish in their attitude on the eastern coast of the Adriatic, and more selfish at Versailles.

Fortunately, the emergence of Mussolini seems to have taken care of that for the Italian people.

Kellogg as Court Lobbyist

Irritating But Very Illuminating

If the Chief Justice of the United States should appear on the floor of the Senate tomorrow and attempt, as a lobbyist of the court, to influence pending legislation he would quickly hear from the American people.

In no uncertain terms they would condemn Mr. Hughes for abusing the privileges of the Senate floor accorded him as a courtesy. They would condemn him for invading the rights of the Senate and for compromising the honor of the great tribunal of which he is the head.

But a much more offensive example of lobbying than that appears to have taken place on the Senate floor.

Senators were shocked to find Frank B. Kellogg, a member of the League Court, questioning Senators on the floor and in the Senate cloak rooms concerning the possibility of the ratification of the League Court treaties now before the Committee on Foreign Relations.

As a former member of the Senate and a former Secretary of State Mr. Kellogg still enjoys the privileges of the Senate floor.

But he is apparently as indifferent to the obligations of such a courtesy, to the rights of the Senate and to the reputation of the League Court as a judicial tribunal as he is to the sovereignty of the American people.

Irritating as his indiscretion clearly was to Senators whom he approached and exasperating as it will prove to the American people the episode is not without its usefulness.

It affords a striking illustration of the fact that even by one of its own members the League Court is looked upon as a political rather than a judicial body.

It shows also that as member of that political body Mr. Kellogg feels free to serve its interests even when they violate the rights of the Senate and the sovereignty of the nation of which he is still a citizen.

-:- Words of the Wise Men -:-

The wise make jests and fools repeat them. —Ray.

The world is the triumph of enthusiasm. —Emerson.

Every great and commanding movement in the annals of the world is the triumph of enthusiasm. Enthusiasts soon understand one another. —Irving.